6 Murder Counts Against Alleged Woman Poisoner

Charge Woman Poisoned First and Second Husbands and Four Step-Children.

By International News Service.

Fort Worth, Tex., Strangely calm after several days and nights of frenzied hysteria, Mrs. Annie Hauptrief, 31, accused of murdering her four stepchildren by the application of poison to their food and the attempted murder of her present and first husbands, occupied a cell in the county jail at San Marcos today, softly crooning lullabies and deftly plying her needle to the tiny garments that will clothe her ex-oblivious of all but her task of preparing for that event, operatives of the state attorney's office are daily hoarding the mass of evidence that may send her to the electric chair.

Four small coffins containing the odies of her stepchildren have been taken from their year-old graves. Traces of poison were found in the stomachs of each of the children. Through her confession the can that contained the deadly poison have been located. The betrayed death act that existed between Mrs. Hauptrief and her first husband, Court Schroeder, has been revealed.

Damaging Evidence.
The cup of coffee that she handed her second husband, William Hauptrief, wealthy farmer, has been pre served and heavy doses of poison were discovered to be present. He drank but a small amount of the liquid and has been in a sanitarium for six weeks.

Mrs. Hauptrief is unable or unwilling to assign any reason for her demoniacal acts.

In a confession to state authori ties she told first of how four years death with her first husband, Court
