WILLIS DAWES DENOUNCES SOCIALISTS

Attacking Constitution He Declares

La Follette Candidacy Animated by Vicious Purpose of Undermining Country, Tells Wisconsin People.

By Associated Press.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 11.—The La Follette independent candidacy was attacked here in its recognized stronghold tonight by Charles G. Dawes, republican vice presidential nominee, as "the quintessence of demagogism, animated by the vicious purpose of undermining the constitutional foundation of this republic."

Speaking in the Milwaukee auditorium, Mr. Dawes declared that "in the mass of clap-trap accompanying the La Follette effort we can see one steady purpose always in mind—the attack on the constitution of the United States"—and it was to this attack that Mr. Dawes devoted most of his attention.

The republican nominee described Senator La Follette as "the master demagogue," warned against any party attempting to take a position in the halfway ground between "those who favor the constitution of the United States and those who would destroy it by every means they can get their hands on."

Mr. Dawes said he recognized that there were in the country "many men who are justly discontented, but who are patriotic at heart." "They may be opposed to certain things in the existing order, but they are not opposed to the existing order of things," he added. "I warn them that they should not be deceived by the catch-all phrases of this master demagogue, endeavoring to amalgamate on the constitution of their country."

The republican candidate combined with his attack on the attitude of the La Follette movement toward the constitution an assault on the state in his Labor day address. "In his strong appeal to the prejudices and passions of the people, the speech was unusual, but in no other way," he asserted. "Never in the history of the United States has the common sense of the average individual received a greater affront."

Mr. Dawes in beginning his discussion of the La Follette movement, which he characterized as "the culmination of the most dangerous era of demagogism in the history of this country," declared in the La Follette platform for a constitutional amendment providing that Congress may be overridden by a statute which is effective over a judicial veto.

"This proposition," he asserted, "is to abrogate the principle of the threefold division of power—executive, legislative and judicial—which is the basis of our constitution, and make the executive and judicial power subordinate to the legislative power. It means that for our present form of government, we are to adopt another in which congress will predominate.

Attack of Fresh Air

Editorial Note: The speeches of Charles G. Dawes come to a nation sick of the cover of vote seeking politicians like a breath of fresh air. In all he has said there has been courage and strong convictions.

At the beginning of the campaign Mr. Dawes said to a friend at his home in Evanston: "Whatever may come, I am going to be myself in this fight. I will tell the truth as I see it. If telling the truth loses me the vice presidency, then it is better that I lose it. But, if I know the temper of the American people they prefer the truth."

In his speech at Milwaukee Mr. Dawes told the truth as he sees it. The Omaha Bee believes that it is the sort of truth and sort of telling that the American people will stand solidly behind.

Here Is Dawes' Milwaukee Speech:

"The attack made by Robert M. La Follette upon the constitution of the United States, behind which attack is massed a heterogeneous combination, the largest portion of which are the socialists, opposing the existing order of things and flying the red flag, is the culmination of the most dangerous era of demagogism through which this country has ever passed."

"For a long time, political leaders and political platforms have been dodging fundamental issues which in conscience, the American citizen knows are now at stake.

"Faced with an abnormal condition in this country which exists because of lax government, resulting in part from widespread demagogism in legislative bodies and among those who are charged with the enforcement of law, patriotic Americans have framed in their hearts and consciences the great issues upon which they propose to fight, and fight, if need be, in defiance of the politicians. Political parties are not primarily responsible for the great issue of this campaign. The average American citizen has been aroused, and he himself has determined the issues and the politicians are following.

REACTION FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT.

"A people, like an individual, may for a time tolerate wrongful practices, but of nothing am I more certain than that the American people have a conscience and a will to do right. This very attack upon the constitution of the United States, led by La Follette and the socialists, has caused a great reaction in public sentiment in support of a more rigid enforcement of law and order, and behind the constitutional foundations of our great representative government.

"A revolt is on against weakness and evasion in political leaders, for it is recognized that in this weakness and evasion in regard to fundamental issues, lies the chief reason for the supineness of public officials in the enforcement of law when that enforcement operates against aggressive minorities.

"In Mr. La Follette's platform, he advocates 'abolition of tyranny and usurpation of the courts, including the practice of nullifying legislation in conflict with the political, social or economic theories of the judges.'

"In his platform, promulgated to the voters of Wisconsin, he says: 'We favor submitting to the people, for their considerate judgment, a constitutional amendment providing that congress may be overridden by a statute which is effective over a judicial veto.'

WOULD MAKE CONGRESS SUPREME BOSS.

"His proposition is in effect that no inferior federal court be allowed to set aside an act of congress on the ground that it is unconstitutional, and that congress may set aside the verdicts of the supreme court, itself, if it declares unconstitutional a law which congress may have passed. This proposition is to abrogate the principle of threefold division of power—executive, legislative and judicial—which is the basis of our constitution, and make the executive and judicial power subordinate to the legislative power.

"It means that for our present form of government, we are to adopt another in which congress will predominate.

"The success of such a doctrine, which would mean that the constitution would be stripped of authority, would be disastrous, and government would become the plaything of changing political parties, with demagogues in the saddle.

"Its effects likewise would be disastrous to the rights of the states, to which are reserved such rights of government

State Loses First Round in Oil Fight

Has Failed to Produce Evidence Warranting Temporary Injunction, Judge Hastings Finds.

Formal Order Tomorrow

The state legal department, headed by Attorney General Spillman, has failed to produce any evidence to warrant issuance of a temporary restraining order of court against the 14 oil companies doing business in Nebraska's District Judge William G. Hastings said Thursday afternoon.

"Unless the state can produce more evidence, no temporary restraining order will be granted," said the court. "No emergency has been shown."

The formal order denying the order is to be entered Saturday morning.

Months of Investigation.

The state attorneys spent months of investigating. The hearing of the case has taken weeks in the district court. More than 50 affidavits were filed, and Judge Hastings gave up his vacation in order to go over these carefully. Argument by the state attorneys took nearly three days, and defense attorneys argued for more than a day.

Though gasoline is selling at one of the lowest prices on record, Attorney General Spillman, Assistant Attorney General T. J. McGuire, John P. Breen and Assistant Attorney General B. McNeeny declared an "irreparable injury" would be done the public unless the restraining order were granted.

The state charged the companies with conspiracy and confederation to fix prices and to stifle competition by local discrimination.

Can Ask Permanent Order.

The defendants all denied this. The state attorneys suggested that no harm could come of issuing a restraining order prohibiting oil companies from doing these things if they were not doing them. To which defense attorneys inquired: "Would you be satisfied to have an order issued restraining you from beating your wives if you weren't beating them?"

Attorney General Spillman closed the argument for the state.

The present decision denying the temporary restraining order does not prevent the state from going ahead and trying the case for a permanent restraining order or injunction.

City Ready to Observe Defense Day

Patriotic Programs at Noon in Theaters and at 8 in Municipal Auditorium.

Monster Parade at 4:30

With the blowing of hundreds of bugles and trumpets, national Defense day, the first in the history of the United States will be ushered in at 6:30 this morning. Assisted sound by Boy Scouts, American Legion buglers and Omaha musicians marks the opening of the day's program.

Officers in charge of the preparations declare that the military demonstrations and call to colors will be one of the greatest ever held in the city. The big parade at 4:30 this afternoon will be held rain or shine, they announce.

Line of march of the Defense day parade is as follows:

Start of the line of march is from Sixteenth and Cumine streets, south on Sixteenth to Douglas, east on Douglas to Thirteenth, south on Thirteenth to Farnam, west on Farnam to Fifteenth, south on Fifteenth to Howard, west on Howard to Sixteenth, north on Sixteenth to Farnam, west on Farnam to Twentieth and disband.

All parochial schools are to take part in a patriotic program starting at 10:30 this morning. At noon Defense day programs are to be held in the following downtown theaters: Carleton, Sun, Thomas F. Bryant, speaker, Rev. R. H. Bryan, chairman; community songs led by Everett Dodds; World, Lloyd Macney, speaker, Amos Thomas, chairman; community songs led by Hugh E. Wallace; Empress, Robert Switzer, speaker, Ted Wallace, chairman, community songs led by Edward H. Brown.

Schools Have Programs.

Patriotic programs will be held at all the public schools here at 9:30 den at Joliet. No one in the party spoke as the pair was taken down into the jail yard where the automobiles were waiting. As they appeared hundreds of persons gathered in windows and on roofs in the vicinity, craned their necks to get a last glimpse of the murderers.

The 49-mile journey was expected to take a little more than an hour. The route which was to be taken was not revealed to any one in the party and the chauffeur of the first car moved on at the direction of Sheriff Hoffman. As they drew out of the yard Loeb and Leopold drew farewell calls from scores of school teachers of John Lee Webster. Rev. E. H. Jenks will preside over the benediction. Leo Rozell, commander of the local post of the American Legion, is chairman of the meeting.

Indications are that the patriotic and military parade will be one of the largest ever held in Omaha. Civic, patriotic, military and industrial organizations as well as organizations of many nationalities are to contribute. Teachers of Omaha have enrolled as a body and will take part in the parade by having 254 automobiles in line. South Omaha High school pupils will be in 10 automobiles in the parade, the girls dressed as Red Cross nurses and the boys wearing army, navy and marine corps uniforms.

Six hundred postal employees will be in line of march headed by Postmaster Charles Black. The Veterans of Foreign Wars group will be accompanied by Brennan's Independent Pipe and Bugle Drum corps.

Four army trucks will bring boys from Father Flanagan's home to take part in the parade. Four trucks will be filled with girl employees of the Woodmen of the World and one truck will be occupied by the Women's Overseas League. An organized reserve motorcycle corps has been organized by Capt. George Knight, director of automobiles in the parade. Red Cross canteen workers have signified their intention of being in the parade 100 per cent strong as have the Daughters of Veterans.

No parking will be allowed from 7 a. m. until the end of the parade on those streets governing the line of march or on the streets selected for the formation of the parade.

Crowd Fills Great Arena to See Fight

Jack Dempsey Donates $200 to Charity and Climbs Into Ring to Be Introduced.

Million Dollar House

The fight went 12 rounds to no decision, with Wills having the better of the argument.

Ringside, Jersey City, Sept. 11.—Luis Angel Firpo and Harry Wills clashed before a crowd estimated at $0.90 tonight in Boyle's Thirty Acres for the largest money stake of their careers and the right to challenge Jack Dempsey for a title match.

Firpo was the first to climb into the ring. He wore his famous checkered bathrobe and limbered up in his corner, during the few minutes interval before Wills climbed into the ring. Both were the target of a battery of cameramen while their gloves were fastened on. Firpo was accompanied by Dan Washington, his veteran negro trainer and Bill Tate, while Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, headed a group of Wills handlers.

Firpo scowled at his dusky rival as they took sparring positions in a corner for the benefit of a photographer, together with Referee Denny Sullivan, Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, young Stribling and Paul Bertenbach among other notables, presented to the crowd.

The weights were: Firpo, 224 lb., and Wills, 217.

Firpo was given a draught out of a thermos bottle by one of his handlers.

Ringside, Jersey City, N. J., Sept. 11.—More than 60,000 fans were massed in Boyle's Thirty Acres tonight when the first preliminary to the Firpo-Wills battle began. With thousands streaming toward the big ring from all sides, the crowd promised to exceed expectations and come close to its capacity.

Promoter Tex Rickard's forecast of a crowd of 70,000 and a gate of $900,000 seemed not far off the way.

The fringes of the enclosure where $2 and $3 customers were perched for bird's-eye views of the battle were the first to fill. The expensive ringside areas were but sparsely settled. Three rows back from the ringside a block of 25 seats was roped off by the price of Wales and his party but there were no early evidence of the royal guests' expected arrival otherwise.

Weather Perfect.

The weather was perfectly clear and cool, with a rain of September that brought out topcoats and fur.

There was a rumor of another process server waiting to serve Firpo with a warrant the moment he entered the arena. When it reached Rickard's ears, the promoter, accompanied by his lawyer, hastened underneath the stands, his case in one hand and a ball band in the other.

The alarm proved unfounded, however, but there were indications that special precautions were being taken to prevent any eleventh hour legal blockade.

Shortly after 8, Firpo reached the arena. He was accompanied by a heavy bodyguard and taken quickly to the dressing room by a route which avoided notice of his arrival on the part of the crowd. The big South American declared that he never had felt in better shape. He bore himself with every air of confidence.

Jack Dempsey wearing a light tan topcoat and cap, slipped unobserved into a ringside seat while the first bout was on. Jack Kearns was with him.

Wills Cheered.

Wills reached the arena at 8:52. He was accompanied by his manager, Paddy Mullins, his wife and several handlers. He was given a rousing cheer as he wended his way through a crowd before the dressing rooms.

After donating $200 to a charitable cause for which an appeal to the crowd was made, Jack Dempsey was persuaded to climb into the ring. The heavyweight champion acknowledged a rousing ovation by taking off his cap and exhibiting his best movements.

Ringside Jersey City, Sept. 11.—Charley McKenna of Greenwick Village, outboxed Miguel Ferrara, Argentine sparring partner of Firpo in the first preliminary to the Wills-Firpo program. The crowd of 60,000 saw considerable action but little science in the four rounds which newspapermen credited to the New Yorker by a decisive margin.

Carl Johnson and Joe Silvan, two light heavyweights, battled to a draw in the opinion of most critics, in the second four-round preliminary. Both took considerable punishment but were going strong at the finish. They are both from New York.

Clubs to March.

Atlantic, Ia., Sept. 11.—The Atlantic Rotary and Lion clubs will participate in the Defense day program here September 12 by marching in the procession.
