Dempsey and No Defense Day. About the Fight. Cat and Buzzards. Praying Against Firpo. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Those that consider preparedness and Defense day a menace to peace, please notice this:

Jack Dempsey is prepared. If you doubt it, pull his nose. As he went through thick crowds last night everybody knew him, everybody was polite. Nobody slapped him or insulted him, and he didn't hit or insult anybody. He's prepared and people let him alone. He lets them alone unless they get in the ring with him.

As it is with individuals, so with nations. When they are prepared they have peace.

Through 72 box offices, 90,000 ladies and gentlemen poured in last night to see the prize fight. No other entertainment could possibly have persuaded 90,000 to pay $1 to $100 a seat to watch a white man fight a black man with padded fists.

That gathering is encouraging, because a race as able as our human race, in spite of so surviving brutality, must surely accomplish wonderful things, when the interest of the average man switches from the power in a negro's gloved fist to the problems of science and civilization.

Young men that went to the big fight, read about the fight, argued about the fight, thought and dreamed about the fight, please concentrate a minute's thought on one spectator at the fight.

You won't find it hard, for that spectator was Jack Dempsey. Observe that he travels across the continent, from California, to see that one fight. Notice also that he was attending to his principal business, as it may be necessary for him to fight the winner of last night's fight.

He was there, not to amuse himself, but to watch the fighters' methods.

If all other people in the United States paid as much attention to their business as does Jack Dempsey, there wouldn't have been such a big crowd at the fight. He is champion in his line, because he attends to his line.

Above the base at Quantico, Va., flying machines are practicing, and on the ground our honest United States marines, in deep amazement, "observed that a flock of buzzards, after watching the aviators, imitated all their flying tricks in the air."

You remember the gentleman with his house on fire, who gathered in his arms all the furniture he could carry, finally picking up the baby with his teeth fastened in the little dress.

As he lifted up the baby he saw a cat walking across the floor holding a kitten in her mouth, and said:

"Look at the wonderful imitation of that cat!"

The Rev. Mr. Chase tried to have Firpo deported. Failing that, many clergymen agreed to pray all Thursday afternoon for rain on Thursday night to spoil the prize fight, held in the open air. As this is written just before sundown, the sky is bright, no sign of rain.

If the storm should come up suddenly, before the gong rings for round one, it would be interesting and convincing.

If not, many will conclude that the rainfall is governed in our day by the law of nature.

It would have been more dramatic remembering how the lightning came down from heaven to start the fire, had the clergyman prayed for lightning, at the beginning of round one, to smite the guilty Firpo, who brought a young lady to the United States with him and spare the virtuous colored American, Willis.

Bishop Fan S. Noli, premier of Albania, spilling the sweet spirit that floats over the leagues of nations at Geneva, speaks of the Dawes reparations scheme as a "tormentous, complicated, diabolical, infernal combination of bubbles," and "the most colossal super-bubble modern history has yet produced."

Nevertheless, the scheme is to be tried. History will tell whether General Dawes, or the premier of Albania, was the wiser.

Loeb and Leopold go to the penitentiary in an iron cage, protected by armed deputies. The young men are well cared for. After sentence had been passed upon them, they ordered "steak two inches thick, and with all the side dishes that go with it."

Imprisonment for life for murder, plus 99 years for kidnaping, had not destroyed their appetite.

David Lawrence says President Coolidge will keep foreign affairs out of this campaign, being convinced that "you cannot get voters excited over European politics."

You can't unless, as in 1920, you get them excited about a suggestion that this country join the league of nations and make itself paymaster and errand boy for other countries.

The voters get excited about that, as Mr. Cox discovered, when President Harding went in with 7,000,000 votes to spare.

Depositors of Defunct Bank to Get 50 Cents on Dollar Atlantic, Ia., Sept. 12.—Depositors of the defunct Iowa State bank, which closed its doors last January, will receive about 50 cents on the dollar, according to a report filed by a committee composed of T. P. Bruehner, T. H. Whitney and Ben U. Wood, named by the court to appraise the personal assets.

Old Settlers Hold Picnic. Cambridge, Neb., Sept. 12.—The old settlers of this neighborhood held their annual picnic at McKinley park. A. C. Shallenberger of Alma gave an address.

Meat Advances as Fall Comes

Cooler Weather Means Keener Appetites to Appear; Fruits Going.

By MARKET BASKET.

Appetites, which have heretofore been on the wane, are now beginning to demand a little more food and all markets report increased sales, especially in meat, bakery, and butter departments. Meat is partaken of most in spite of the increased price. Pork is still advancing, a 2-cent increase being in evidence during the last week. Ham, bacon, spare ribs, and other pork cuts have all been affected by the higher price. Corned beef is another meat that is both scarce and high at this time.

Boiling meat, however, which is much in demand on account of cooler weather, is cheap at a price ranging in price from 7 1/2 cents to 10 cents a pound.

Spring chickens are cheaper, ranging in price from 33 1/2 cents to 35 cents a pound and hens are being quoted from 25 cents to 28 cents a pound.

Chocolate Raisin Bread. In the bakery squares of one market, a chocolate raisin bread has been added to the already large varieties of bread. Sugar-coated doughnuts at 25 cents a dozen are also on display.

Two new varieties of fish for the season are now to be had, one being salt water mullets quoted at 25 cents a pound and the other smoked finnan haddie at 30 cents a pound. Salt water mullets are scarce in this part of the country but the people from the south are well acquainted with this fish. Smoked finnan haddie is excellent either baked or boiled.

Fruits of all kinds can be had. Of particular interest to market basket are the several varieties of melons and cantaloupes now on the market. Persian melons, the first of the season, are on sale. Heart o' gold, a delicious pink meat cantaloupe, is another appetite tempter. Honey dew, casabas, Rockyford, and watermelon complete the list.

New grapes from Isle of Pines can be purchased for 10 cents each. Fine eating Concord grapes are cheap.

Peaches, Pears Going. Peaches and pears will be cleaned up within 10 or 15 days and the markets strongly urge the housewives to get busy and can these fruits. Italian prunes are still plentiful and cheap but they are due to stay for two weeks more at the most. Kelsey green gage plums are tempting and many housewives are seen carrying away baskets of them.

Home-grown vegetables are still filling the bins. Canadian rutabagas, the first of the season, are here. Red cabbage, green table squash, baby hot green or red peppers, and yellow tomatoes are some of the other recent arrivals. Celery is abundant, coming in from Colorado, Utah, and California.

Fillmore Bureau Retains Services of County Agent

Geneva, Neb., Sept. 12.—Fillmore county farm bureau has voted to continue the services of a county agricultural agent for a two-year term beginning January 1, 1925. The farmers of this county have had such services for seven years. Lee W. Thompson is the present officer. Miss Edith M. Cone is home economics agent and leads the work in six active rural clubs of the county.

Two Couples Celebrate 68th Anniversary of Wedding With Picnic

Shenandoah, Ia., Sept. 12.—Married 68 years ago on the same day in a wooden courthouse at Wabash, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stephens, formerly of Sidney and Shenandoah, and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Long celebrated the anniversary with an old-fashioned picnic under the maples in the Stephens' yard at St. Paul, Minn. The two "brides" prepared the picnic dinner. Self-denial, thrift and harmony are given by both couples as safe matrimonial rules not to "stifle aspirations, ruin careers and smother souls" in the modern matrimony.

Kasdorfs Hold Reunion.

York, Sept. 12.—William Kasdorf of Waco attended a family reunion of the Kasdorf family at Sand Lake, Mich., August 31. One hundred and ten members were present. A program committee and officers were elected. Mr. Kasdorf is vice president.

Fair on at Stapleton.

Callaway, Sept. 12.—The annual Logan county fair is drawing large at Stapleton this week.
