

Coolidge Caravan Proves 'Knockout,' Jefferis Writes

Enthusiastically Received All Along Route; Expected to Arrive Here October 2.

The automobile caravan of the Coolidge-Dawes Lincoln tour, which started from Plymouth, Vt., on September 9 and is due in Omaha on October 2, is being greeted enthusiastically all along the route, according to newspaper accounts.

Albert W. Jefferis of Omaha, who delivered the Dawes notification address, is in charge of the caravan, which is on a transcontinental itinerary. From Plymouth to Pittsburgh the party stopped at six or more towns every day in Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

"This caravan of pilgrims from Plymouth has been a knockout, crowds everywhere whether scheduled or not. Farmers have filled fair grounds with their automobiles by 10 a. m., though no fairs were going on. All anxious to hear us expound the doctrine of republicanism," Jefferis wrote to Omahans.

"Expect to lead the little band into Omaha October 2, and then spread the gospel about five days in the towns along the Lincoln Highway. The people like to drive in their autos and parade along with us."

Party Crossed Mountains. Through the eastern states the caravan frequently started early in the morning and continued until late at night. The party crossed the Green mountains in Vermont, Mount Lebanon between Massachusetts and New York, the Catskills in New York and the several ridges of the Alleghenies in Pennsylvania.

Jefferis Opens Talks. When the caravan started its long tour at Plymouth, Jefferis greeted the gathering: "Mr. John Coolidge, friends and neighbors of Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States: As father, friends and neighbors, you have given to the nation a great American in Calvin Coolidge. Today, as representatives of the party of which he is the nominee, we wish to partake of your enthusiasm, of your knowledge and just understanding of the man, that we may be the better enabled to carry his spirit in fairness, justice and equality from one end of this continent to the other. An automobile tour from this Vermont home, throughout New England, along the Atlantic, across the eastern and western central states, and beyond the Rockies to the Golden Gate is most unique, and yet it is most timely in the interest of the nation of the states." County Chairman O. E. Engler and a special committee will arrange details of the reception of the caravan in Omaha. It is proposed that a reception and flag presentation ceremony be held at Hotel Rome, where local republican headquarters are maintained. A special invitation will be extended to all Omahans who wish to register which will be presented to President Coolidge.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 24.—The amount of loot obtained in the robbery of the Nebraska City postoffice this morning will total $12,000 in cash and stamps, according to word received here this afternoon by State Sheriff Tom Carroll of the state law enforcement department. The robbery was discovered when the postoffice was opened by Postmaster Frank Bartling, who estimated the loss. The robbers forced a rear window of the postoffice with a crowbar. After making a hole large enough for a man to squeeze through into the vault they knocked the hinges from the door of the inner vault with a chisel. The robbery was discovered at 3:50 a. m. Navy Board Gets Defense Problem

Relation of Aircraft to Coast Defense Subject of Study.

Washington, Sept. 24.—How naval development and maintenance plans for the next few years should be shaped in the three branches of submarines, surface ships and aircraft has been referred as a concrete problem for study and recommendation to the general board of the navy. This action on the proposal of President Coolidge to Secretary Wilbur that the question of naval policy under the present trend of development in aircraft be subjected to formal study by experts was taken late yesterday by the secretary. Placing the subject in the hands of the general board with instructions to report at its earliest convenience was in keeping with President Coolidge's view of the matter.

The closely related problems of continental coast defense, however, as to which it is thought certain the study eventually will be extended, as well as those of development of special types of aircraft, were recognized in the instructions given the board that it avail itself of information from experienced officers in both the navy and army. The general board was instructed to frame its recommendation with reference to naval appropriations to be made at the coming session of congress.
