

Coolidge Is Only Hope for People, Sen. Capper Says

President's Election Alone Can Prevent Deadlock, He Warns; Situation Deplorable.

By Associated Press.
Columbus, Neb., Sept. 25.—Speaking in advocacy of the election of Coolidge and Dawes, Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas declared here this afternoon that the "situation the voter faces is Coolidge, or no election by the people."
Senator Capper declared that this year's election brings the most remarkable situation in half a century and that the "danger is that the La Follette movement, by dividing the vote of the western states might bring about a deadlock."
"The house probably would not be able to elect a president. Then the senate possibly would manage to elect a vice president, and then he would become president."
The Kansas senator declared this situation "deplorable for many reasons, but chiefly because of the disturbing effect upon the country."
Coolidge or Deadlock.
"It would not be an act by the people. The plain fact is that Coolidge is the only man the people can vote for directly for president, with a chance that the man voted for will be elected," Senator Capper said.
The Kansas senator declared that the republican administration had solved many problems and had successfully faced many circumstances.
"Before a government can do anything else or branch out in progressive ways, it is its duty to get it down to a solvent basis. The administration has thrown its whole energies to getting down to a cash basis, reducing expenses, balancing its budget, giving the country lower taxes and paying debts. Twice in the last three years congress has been able to cut taxes, and both Presidents Harding and Coolidge, after budget systems had been enacted by congress, have refused budget estimates and instructed that they be cut by hundreds of millions of dollars.
Expenses Cut a Billion.
"As a result of this pressure for lower costs, the government expenses have been cut down in three years by more than $2,000,000,000; the bonded debt reduced $2,750,000,000 and taxes cut by more than 25 percent.
"And in place of a chronic deficit in the treasury, a surplus was piled up in three years. Credit for these governmental economies must go to President Coolidge. The Coolidge administration has enacted and put in effect more constructive legislation for rebuilding the farming industry than enacted during the entire half century preceding 1921."

"I Want to Live With Mother," Air Mail Pilot's Son, 11, Tells Court

Youngster Brought From School to Testify for Stepmother in Divorce Suit; "I'm Proud of Him," Says Father, Despite Testimony.

Robert Hopson, 11, testified in divorce court Thursday against his father, William Hopson, air mail pilot, and in favor of his stepmother, Jeanette Hopson, who is seeking a decree of separate maintenance and custody of the boy.
"I mumbled of admiration went about the crowded courtroom at the boy's appearance and clear, decisive answers. Close to the end of his examination the attorney asked:
"With whom do you want to live, Robert?"
The boy's lips trembled and tears sprang to his eyes as he said:
"I want to live with my mother. I love my mother."
Mrs. Hopson wept and the boy quickly came from the witness stand, past his father without a glance, and put his arm about Mrs. Hopson, patting her cheek and kissing her.
Mrs. Lillian A. Garrison, who recently won a decree of separate maintenance from Robert Garrison, another mail pilot, testified for Mrs. Hopson.
She said she saw Mrs. Howard Granden with Hopson frequently and on one occasion saw them in an automobile, Mrs. Granden with her arm around Hopson's neck.
Mrs. Granden's name has been mentioned throughout the case, but she has not appeared in court. Her husband is Hopson's constant companion. Hopson rooms at the Granden home.
Robert Hopson is a pupil at the Central school and was brought from school to take the witness stand and was taken right back afterward.
"I'm proud he is my son," said Hopson afterward.
Robert testified that his father kicked his mother out of their automobile on Fontenelle boulevard on one occasion, that he struck her at Seventeenth and Douglas streets when she found Mrs. Granden in the Hopson automobile, and that "he kept hitting her all the way home."
"Mother always has taken care of me. Mother never uses improper language. She is the best mother in the world," said Robert in his grownup way on the witness stand.
He was dressed in a neat English suit of gray, sport shirt with open collar, and woolen hose reaching to below the knees.
Hopson offered to bring his books into court to show his income, which, he says, has been as high as $700 a month when he was doing test flying for the night air mail.
Decision in the case will probably not come until next week at the earliest.

Summons Ignored by 18 Motorists; Warrants Issued

Indifference of Driver Arouses Ire of City Prosecutor; to Be Haled Before Court.

Warrants were issued Thursday morning for the arrest of 18 motorists who think "golden rule" summons are something to giggle at and ignore.

When only four motorists appeared in police court out of 22 summoned to answer charges of traffic law violations, City Prosecutor Brungardt demanded warrants for the arrests of all who did not answer the summonses.
The warrants were issued by the court and were served Thursday afternoon by John Kwanslewski, court officer.
The warrants call for the arrest of the following persons: H. M. Hansen, 3212 Dewey avenue; Lewis Zlev, 608 South Sixteenth street; Letta G. Catherine, 2505 North Thirty-second avenue; E. E. Spence, 2147 Larimore avenue; W. W. Clubough, 3552 North Fifty-ninth street; Edward Anderson, 1918 Douglas street; Elizabeth S. Warren, 411 South Fortieth street; P. Nashann, 3216 Marcy street; W. P. Beebe, 3559 Jones street; Mrs. Florence McKinney, 1128 South Thirty-first street; L. T. McNaught, 1011 Dorcas street; J. A. Wetzel, 612 South Eighteenth street; Mrs. Fanny Shapiro, 2615 Cumings street; Lewis Loring, 3510 Lafayette street; I. Stoler, 1508 North Nineteenth street; R. D. Clark, 902 City National Bank building, and A. B. Ross, 1312 City National Bank building.
