Troops representing virtually every of the military service passed in eview before Omaha Thursday morn-

Regulars, national guardsmen and cadets marched at attention and did a snappy "eyes right" when they issed Maj. Gen. George B. Duncan, dinmanding general of the Seventh

The general and his staff, splendidly ounted, took a position immediately east of the reviewing stand in from of the city hall, where Mayor Dahl man, the Ak-Sar-Ben governors, and other dignitaries were stationed.

Thousands of persons were along the line of march and cheered the various units as they stepped along. The stands in front of the courthouse and city hall were comfortably filled, while others crowded four and five deep along both sides of Farnam street. The crowd was enthusiastic and the soldiers were constantly ap plauded.
