

Dainties Shown for Quick Lunch

Fish Selling High; Eggs Becoming More Scarce as Fall Arrives.

By MARKET BASKET.
It is sometimes difficult for the housewife to get up a lunch on short notice. One of the local markets is this week featuring "quick lunch dainties."
One counter is devoted to this display. The housewife may go to this counter and find on it about anything that can be used to make up a real lunch. Dried beef sells at 14 cents a jar. Lamb tongue, in large jars, is 65 cents. Corned beef is 25 cents a can. Devilled tongue comes in 34 cent jars. Sandwich delight is 25 cents a jar. Vienna sausage is 25 cents.
Mint sauce, pepper sauce and many other articles to be found here and they are all reasonably priced and just the thing for the busy housewife.
Delicious Sandwiches.
Delicious sandwiches can be made in a short time for either picnic lunches or lunches at home. Oysters are selling at 40 cents a pint. Fish is high at this time, in fact, much higher than meat. Lard is about the same price. However, grass-fed meat is coming down. Corned beef is rather high and scarce. Chicken is cheaper and selling at around 30 cents a pound. Butter is cheaper and is selling at the rate of from 30 cents to 44 cents per pound.

Eggs Higher.
The price of eggs is increasing. Eggs are now being sold at from 35 cents to 49 cents a dozen in one market. In another they are selling at from 25 cents to 42 cents a dozen.
Prices on vegetables and fruits are about the same. Tomatoes, however, are real scarce and are higher.
Spinach is cheaper now than the second crop has come in. Concord and Tokay grapes are still very abundant and the prices are about the same as they were a week ago. This is the very last of the season for peaches and they are, of course, high.
This is the melon season and delicious melons are to be had at reasonable prices.

Tourist Traffic Declines.
Columbus, Oct. 3.—Camping tourists along the Lincoln and Meridian highways have shown a marked decline in numbers. Neither of the two Columbus camps is averaging more than a half dozen parties nightly. They ran as high as 50 apiece during the summer. Traffic now is made up largely of house cars and the large closed cars of affluent tourists.

Wheat Above $1.50.
Good Start, Bad End.
Little Pigs Acquired.
Washington's Teeth.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Wheat in Chicago went above $1.50 yesterday. You were advised in this column, if you needed wheat to buy it, some time ago, when it was selling at $1.18. This price of wheat will make a difference to Coolidge.
Eugene Meyer, jr., head of the War Finance corporation, who understands money, tells Secretary Mellon that farmers will get $1,000,000,000 cash for their wheat this year. They are rushing wheat to market at the high prices, and still the price goes higher.
Corn is going up also, and cotton gained "100 points" yesterday. Don't sell this country short.
The son of Prime Minister MacDonald will try newspaper work for experience to make a living. It is a good business to start in, bad business to stay in. Ninety per cent of newspaper workers find that the older they grow the less there is in it. Long service and experience with journalists, as with Ziegfeld Follies girls, are a handicap. The reasons would take too much space.

In Canada, where they don't mince matters, they will hang six men on October 24 for killing one bank messenger.
In Ohio Governor Donahey says "age is no extenuation, and Alexander Kuzeik, 19 years old, will hang October 19.
But even in old times, as you may learn in Westermarek's fine history of the evolution of moral ideas, age made some difference.
In the middle ages, not only men, but animals, were tried for murder when they killed a human being and, if "guilty," were executed. On a certain occasion a sow, with her litter of suckling pigs, had killed and eaten a young child. The sow mother and her offspring were tried in court. The little pigs were spared, on the ground that "because of their extreme youth they could not be held responsible."
Some murderers have been hanged in the United States, with intelligence not far above that of the suckling pigs spared by medicinal justice.

Among letters by George Washington, to be sold in London, one to his Philadelphia dentist, tells how much trouble Washington had with his false teeth. They were strung on wires and got loose. They looked about as natural, when he wore them, as a set of small golf balls, being cut out of solid ivory.
Civilization does not realize what it owes to dentists and oculists, good false teeth and good spectacles.
Think of the ancient Greeks, to whom false teeth and eye glasses were unknown. The marvel is that so many of them lived to be old.
European statesmen say the league of nations "protocol" is the "most formidable obstacle to war ever devised by the human mind." That arrangement by the league will make war impossible. That being the case, of course, the league will now stop the war in China and war between Spaniards and Moors in Morocco.
If Russia should attack Poland or Roumania, just how would that "protocol" prevent war? It would be necessary to conscript Englishmen and Frenchmen and send them to fight Russia. Any who think Englishmen or Frenchmen would go on that errand are misinformed.

General Chang, energetic Chinese military gangster, hasn't been told about the "league ending all wars." He puts a price of $200,000 Mexican money upon the head of his enemy, Tsao Kun, and the same amount on the head of another enemy, Wu Fei-Fu. He offers $200,000, Mexican, for the capture of either of them alive. What he would do to them, if he got them alive, he doesn't say, but it would probably be something unpleasant.
Various religions that fight constantly in India seek an agreement with Gandhi at the head of a peace committee. Moslems hate Hindus because they play music near Mohammedan mosques. That's an insult to the Koran. Hindus hate Mohammedans because they slaughter sacred cows and eat them. Other religionists are full of hate because certain citizens refuse to recognize the sanctity of holy moneys.
While that goes on the English smile, and a handful of white men rule 300,000,000 of Asiatics.

FREMONT TO HAVE MUSIC FESTIVAL

Fremont, Neb., Oct. 3.—Fremont is to have an annual musical festival with a chorus of 200 voices participating and nationally known soloists taking the leading parts, according to plans sponsored by Midland college.
The first appearance of this giant chorus is planned for next spring when Handel's oratorio of the "Messiah" will be given. Rehearsals will start the latter part of next week with Prof. F. Amos Jones of Midland college, gifted tenor, who recently came to this country from England, as general musical director.
The chorus, however, is to be a community affair, Midland assuming the financial obligations involved. Local musicians and artists are displaying much interest in the movement toward making Fremont one of the musical centers of the midwest, hoping some day to attain the success of the little town of Lindsborg, Kan. Lindsborg has won a national reputation for its annual festivals and its mammoth chorus. This town, with a population of 2,500, was able to bring the famous Mme. Schumann-Heink to Kansas, where the gifted soprano featured the work of the huge chorus.
Every one is invited to sing in the community chorus. Members of the various church choirs, the civic clubs and women's organizations are co-operating with the college in the attempt to put Fremont on the musical map of the middle west.

Tourist Predicts Bumper Corn Crop in Three States
Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 3.—T. W. Saunders has returned from an extended auto trip to parts of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma. He reports that corn gives promise of being a bumper crop and that the cotton crop in Oklahoma was the best in years.

The WEST loves and knows good coffee!

HER homes of wealth and instinctive discrimination set a standard of coffee quality which has grown into a tradition in which the entire West holds partnership. "The West is the home of wonderful coffee," they say back East—and abroad.

Indeed it is! Let him who doubts break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Red Can Coffee and inhale an aroma the like of which is found nowhere else. Failing to accept this rare fragrance as a herald of marvelous flavor, let him brew a cup and lift it to his lips! That's the answer!

Really, there is no finer coffee to be had. It is the cream of the crop—not of one plantation, but of the plantations of the entire coffee-producing countries of the world. Blended with rare skill, roasted to a turn, ground with special machinery and packed in vacuum!

That unique flavor of Red Can Coffee (and the coffee reputation of the West) is preserved intact in Hills Bros. original vacuum-pack. This keeps the coffee fresh until you pierce the seal—days, weeks or years later!

With all its high quality, Hills Bros. Coffee is not high-priced. It is economical to buy—and economical to use. Hills Bros., San Francisco.
