3 to 3. Hold Your Breath.
He Didn't Kill Her.
Japan Ready in 3 Years.
Milk Pail Stuff.

As you well know, the "Senators" beat the "Giants" yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. Each side won three games. So today's game settles the baseball championship—or it might be the bribery relationship of the United States that decide game pending, is hopeless to try interesting than youth in anything else.

For 16 years of happy marriage, I allowed my wife to join a man without trouble, because I loved her."
 Says Dr. Alfred Lawrence, a noted, an educated, civilized man that he does now was done by Ruskin.

Many "he-men" in our land will denounce such a course as pusillanimous, beneath the dignity of a red-blooded American.

Such forgiveness would seem strange also to the old-time Indian rajah. He, according to Montezquieu, turned his faithless wife over to an elephant to be tortured.

The balance of American masculine opinion, probably, would be in favor of the gentleman that chokes his wife, as Othello did on mere suspicion, or the energetic gentleman that hits her over the head with an axe when his sacred vanity is offended.

It is not easy to decide what civilization and right conduct really are.

The Japanese look ahead. Give them credit for it.

Mr. C. G. Grey, managing editor of the Aeroplane, a noted British publication, said yesterday:

"The Japanese mean to control the Pacific. And they know that it can be done only through the air. Several years ago they had a number of Englishmen, expert fliers and builders, teaching them how to build flying machines and run them.

"They have bought and are copying samples of the best flying machines made everywhere in Europe.

"At this moment there are in Japan 17 factories working night and day turning out flying machines for war."

President Coolidge, his secretaries of war, and of the navy, might think over that statement.

If Coolidge will ask his two fighting secretaries to read the admirable editorial headed, "Of Sinister Import to America," published by Cyrus H. K. Curtis on September 29, it will help them to understand why the Japanese have 17 factories turning out fighting flying machines.

Grey says they are building some of the very big machines like the one recently bought from German builders. But they are specializing in the "one-man, one-bomb, light machines."

They are small, high-powered, terrifically swift airplanes, that could be sent out in clouds like mosquitoes. If one of them were brought down it would mean the loss of one man and one cheap machine.

Japan, according to Grey, will be ready for war, on a big aggressive scale in three years. She has now the world's second biggest fighting air fleet.

Shall we be ready in three years to meet that fleet?

Miss Elizabeth Marbury, active lady politician in New York, and a 22 karat female genius, is inclined to scoff. She refers to the fact that Mrs. Coolidge has made her own shirt waists, costing $1.60 apiece, baking her own cakes, etc., as "milk pail stuff." If Miss Marbury is not careful she will make votes for Coolidge.

"Milk pail stuff" interests many women in this country, and men. Miss Marbury, with the fire of genius in each eye, made a big fortune quickly, bought the best plays, brought over the best actors, got rich quick. It is hard for her to understand the life of Mrs. Coolidge. As an underpaid school teacher, she had to save, she had to make her own clothes and was only too glad to cook her own food. She went to sewing and cooking after she married Calvin Coolidge, for he was a poor man.

"Milk pail stuff" has a big following.

Seibold says, "Coolidge is now sure to carry New York state by 700,000 plurality," and Seibold is one of the best political guessers in the United States.

Coolidge may carry New York by 700,000, even more, but it is by no means "sure."

Al Smith will pile up a gigantic vote in New York state and many of his votes will go to LaFollette, that is "sure."

The strange thing in New York state politics is the absolute flattening out of the Davis campaign. There isn't any.

Arthur Gottesman, a Georgia boy at Oglethorpe university, is taking the full courses in English, history, economics, French, German and the Bible. University authorities are still studying him in amazement, because he is only 10 years old. Educators say he has the brain of a boy 19.

It's interesting, but that may not be a good thing for a 10-year-old college boy. The important thing is not to have a 19-year-old brain at the age of 10, but to have a first-class, 40-year-old brain at the age of 40. That requires gradual brain development, not forcing in childhood.

We have cut the word "Season" Out of the Clothing Business

Season? We have no such thing—it doesn't exist at Bond's. Every week is really a new season with us—because new garments pour into our stores from four great tailor plants almost daily. Here you get the real thing in style months before the same style reaches the average clothier's retail racks. Bond's clothes come direct to you—no "stopovers."

In the old-fashioned way—a garment makes a regular trip from factory to wearer by a long drawn-out, indirect route. It makes a station stop at the middleman, the jobber—the traveling salesman peddles it for weeks and weeks—and when you finally get the garment—Bond's have had that style for months.
