Orpheum Offers Bill Full of High Grade Vaudeville Features

Another great bill, featuring four headline acts, will be presented at the Orpheum theater this week. Ethel Grey Terry, beautiful stage and screen star, will be seen in a one-act playlet, "Sharp Tools," by Willard Mack. While Miss Terry is new to vaudewhile, she is by no means new to the spoken stage. At the age of 5 she made her first appearance with Wallace Eddinger, later appearing in stock companies in Boston and New York. For two seasons Miss Terry was with the David Belasco produc tion of "The Lily." She also appeared ouldering Flame," Me" and "Peg O' My Heart," support ing Laurette Taylor in the latter. A few of her pictures have been "The Unknown Purple," "Under Two "The Sign of the Cross" and 'Greater Than Love." In "Sharp loois" she has a strong role which he plays with vim and cleverness It is a crook play with dramatic inensity in every minute of it, and a thrilling surprise climax. Ben, Meroff, the dancer-musician and his sensational jazz band come lians, combine a program of super music with a repertoire of comedy stunts, eccentric dancing and trick playing. Each man has won distinction individually in vaudeville. rnest R. Ball is known the length and breadth of the land as a writer of ballads. Among his best known successes were "Mother Machree," "Love Me and the World Is Mine," In the Garden of My Heart," "Til the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold" "Turn Back the Universe." Mr Ball has arranged a singing plano egue, in which he uses his own comsitions. He is as well known in nusical comedy as he is in vaude ville. Dainty Marie, the perfect-fig aerialist, besides engaging in some thrilling feats on the thrilling feats on the rings and tunts with a short and snappy les on to music, from which the women f figure may be acquired. On Fri lay afternoon, following the matinee, Dainty Marie will give a special monstration to all women patrons the art of beautifying the figure ind reducing superfluous weight. The Kelley Sisters, Flo and Nellie, are inging comedians, young, pretty and dashing, and are clever dancers as ell. As a top spinner and block uggler, Gintaro, Japanese marvel has no equal.

He Writes Songs America Sings and Never Gets Tired of

Ernest R. Ball, who is to appear or the Orpheum bill this week, is probably the best known song writer-en-tertainer in America. He has just returned from a most successful tour of England and Ireland. He was so popular in the latter country that he claimed as "Erin's own," and will go back for a more prolonged stay soon as his Orpheum circuit contracts have been played.. Mr. Ball is a native of Cleveland, where he was born in 1878. When he was 15 he composed his first piece. It was march and met with instant suc-

It was not until Mr. Ball went to New York, however, that his first real sensational success was written. That was 20 years ago, and the name o the song is as familiar today as was in the hey-day of its extraordi nary popularity-"Love Me and the World Is Mine."

After that, it seems as though nothing he wrote could fail to appeal to the great music-loving public Scores of similar successes have followed, among which are "Mother Machree." "A Little Bit of Heaven, Where Irish Eyes Are Smiling," the Garden of My Heart," "Who Knows?" "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Dear Little Boy of Mine," "Till I'm Called by the Master Above," "Good-bye, Good Luck, God Bless You," "Turn Back the Universe," "Mother of Pearl," "As Long as the World Rolls On," Time After Time," "Will You Love Me in December as You Do in May?" "That's How the Shannon Flows, "You Can't Beat Us," and others.

World Swings More Novelties Into Line With Bill This Week

A unique revue of song and dance "Bohemian Nights" shares headline conors with Joe Fanton and com on the current six-act vaude fille bill at the World. Featured in the cast of six with "Bohemian ghts" is the noted Bohemian tenor na Jupraner. In addition to his appearance in the big act will also rive his professional advice to aspiring local singers, who want a stage career. Every morning from 11 to 12 clock from Tuesday to Friday inusive on the World stage praner will give advice and suggestions free of charge. Joe Fanton and company are said to have one of the most daring acts and diversified entertainment will be in vaudeville.
