Butchers' Association Scores Victory After 5 Year Campaign-Cudahy May Follow.

After numerous requests from repsentatives of the National Butcher Workmen association, urging packers to dispense with their retail markets, Armour closed its retail shop Satur-

C. S. Waterbury, general manager of Armour's, refused to discuss the feeling between Omaha packers and the butcher association. He said that Armour's, in fairness to retail meat shops, should not operate both wholesale and retail departments.

"We received consent from the Chicago office," Waterbury stated. The closing of the packer market is the result of repeated efforts by butcher representatives for the last five years. The question has been one of the leading issues at their national conventions during that time Other Plants May Follow.

Retail markets of other plants ar expected to follow Armour's course according to Ignatz Moskoviz, 3107 Nicholas street, president of the Omaha Butcher association. Independent packers are also expected to eliminate their retail trade, he said. "Omaha retailers suffer a marked loss of trade with the operation of the markets at the plants, and numerous complaints from association members requested this move," Mos koviz stated.

"At the national convention of butchers at Chicago last summer, 90 delegates from all over the country were unanimous in this issue," said V. F. Kuncl, trustee of the local union, and former president for 15
