Good Bye Romance. Girlish Joy in Life. She Never Wore Them. The Duke and the Jew. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Romance wanes. Power boats instead of gondolas travel the canals of Venice. Robert Thomson, British air minister, reports sheiks of the desert riding in Ford cars, no more galloping on beautiful Arab steeds. Englishmen are even building gasoline filling stations at intervals on desert routes. The next thing will be porcelain baths for the sheiks and then romance will disappear entirely.

RED WING MAN ADDS EVIDENCE

William Henn Tells How Tanlac Restored His Health.

"Tanlac brought me back to health three years ago, and a bottle or two now and then has helped to keep me steady on the job ever since," is the matter-of-fact statement made recently by William Henn, 1440 Norwood St., Red Wing, Minn. "For a year or more I was all run down from stomach trouble, and finally got in such a bad way I was unable to work. What I ate would lie like lead in the pit of my stomach, causing gas pains and bloating that made me miserable for hours. Headaches, dizzy spells, pains in my back and shoulders, a constant tired-out feeling and sleepless nights had just about finished me. "But Tanlac made me feel like a new person, and now I eat, sleep and feel fine and can do as hard a day's work as I ever did. I wouldn't be without Tanlac in the house." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold. Tanlac Vegetable Pills recommended by the manufacturers of TANLAC.—Advertisement.

Dr. Frankel of Berlin, famous specialist in women's diseases, uses X-rays to restore middle-aged women to the energies and joys of youth. Roentgen rays of low intensity causes women to lose fat and with it "that tired feeling," greatly increasing capacity for work, and restoring "girlish joy in life." The Frankel method, it is said, rejuvenates cells that have grown old and increases activity of the glands. This is important scientific news, but many wise old ladies will say, "Leave me in peace. I am doing nicely. Don't drag me back to my early troubles." If it can be shown, as Dr. Frankel hopes, that the use of the low intensity rays prevents the development of cancer, that will be more important even than restoring "girlish joy in life." The Countess DeKernion is in a Paris prison for murdering her husband, because she was jealous of another lady. In court the countess turns haughtily to the other woman and says, "I have never worn silk stockings myself." The other woman presumably had them on.

French newspapers tell the economic courtiers, "If you had worn silk stockings and things that go with them, you might not have lost your husband." Coquery, says the Paris Soir, "is the most important duty of women." Even here, where we shoot each other often and hang each other rarely, the silk stockings are usually on the other woman.

Notice one difference between high bred English lords of proud "Nordic" blood and some Jews. Two magnificent paintings by Raphael are now in the National gallery, property of the people. One was owned by the duke of Marlborough. He sold it to his fellow citizens in 1885 for $350,000. The other belonged to Dr. Ludwig Mond. He gave it to the nation for nothing.

The contrast is heightened by the fact that the British nation had given the Marlboroughs their magnificent palace, their estates and a gigantic fortune. Ludwig Mond, the Jew, had to earn what he got. Friends in the Ku Klux Klan might give a moment's attention to such facts. Judge men by what they do.

United States Steel will build two big mills at Duluth, and that is interesting news for American industry. Really big concerns, such as the steel corporation, large industrial unit in the world, are able to supply unlimited money and establish plants wherever they can work best. Assuming that the public gets its share of the economy produced, the bigger the concern the better. With Europeans going into business on a national scale, it is necessary for the United States to develop business on as big a scale as possible. A one-horse plant can't compete with the British empire.

G. B. Shaw continues to think in spite of age. Says he: "Sport is a form of pleasure for the inartistic. Those that lack mental activity must make up for it with bodily activity." The king must go to races and football games. He shakes hands with football players. The king need not go to picture exhibitions and Shaw says "it would be a nine days' sensation if the king made a practice of shaking hands with artists."

What Shaw says of the king applies to the president of the United States. He goes to the baseball game, which pleases the crowd, and when it is over, arranges a reception at the White House for the players. There is no record of a picture exhibition.

Sport, however, is considerably more than a dull refuge for the "inartistic mind." Our ancestors developed health and strength, climbing up and down trees, dodging in and out of caves, chasing each other, club in hand, through the valleys.

Men have been walking on their hind legs for 200,000 years at the most, and their insides haven't got quite used to the natural position. We need much exercise to prevent deterioration.

Omahans Urged to Journey to Yankton Bridge

Buckingham and Byrne Point Out Benefits of South Dakota Structure.

Omahans business men should be interested as greatly in the new Missouri river bridge as are the citizens of Yankton, S. D., where it is located, E. Buckingham, president of the Union Stockyards company, and T. C. Byrne, president of Byrne & Ham-

The special train chartered by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce for the trade tour to Platte, S. D., and bridge celebration at Yankton will be one of the finest trains ever assembled for this organization. The train will be run all the way over the Milwaukee railroad and will consist entirely of Milwaukee equipment, including drawing room and straight compartment sleepers, two dining cars and an observation club car with bathroom and barber; in fact the train will be a replica of the Milwaukee's coast train, the Olympian.

The special train will leave Omaha Union station at 7 p. m. Wednesday, arrive Platte, S. D., 6:30 following morning, stopping at a number of towns on the Platte branch and arriving Yankton about noon on the 16th for the celebration of the new bridge opening at Yankton. The party will leave Yankton at midnight Thursday and arrive Omaha early Friday morning via the Milwaukee road. W. E. Bock, general agent passenger department, Omaha, will accompany the special.

mer Dry Goods company, declared Monday in discussing the value of the structure to Omaha. That is why their firms are sending representatives to Yankton Wednesday night for the celebration.

"South Dakota produced 145,000,000 bushels of corn last year and will harvest 100,000,000 this year," Buckingham explained. "This wonderful crop increases the livestock production of the state and it is important that the Omaha livestock market get its share of this as the Omaha grain market its share of the surplus grains. The bridge will give the stock raisers and farmers of South Dakota and the northwest more direct access to Omaha when the railroad line is completed over it."

Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers of Omaha also will benefit by the new route and the development of good roads to Omaha, Buckingham said.

Yankton Train Reservations. "The completion of the great modern railroad and wagon bridge at Yankton opens a new era for the city of Yankton and, in fact, for all of South Dakota. It also means a very large additional trade territory for Omaha," said Byrne. "It is expected that one of the important railroads entering Omaha will see that it is to its interest to immediately get tracks and trains running into Yankton and South Dakota over the new bridge. In the meantime, the O. Y. state highway has been marked and laid out in a comparatively short time will be graded or paved all the way from Omaha to Yankton. This will open up a way for all of the travel from South Dakota to Omaha, their most important nearby market. And when it is realized that Yankton is about the same distance from Omaha as Grand Island, it can be seen what this addition to Omaha's trade territory means."

The Omaha special train will make a tour Thursday morning of several towns near Yankton, before reaching the city at noon. The following train reservations had been made up to 10 a. m. Monday.

A. J. Samuelson, Don T. Lee, A. F. Bloom, James P. Jensen, T. C. Byrne, H. M. Hundley, G. E. Carpenter, Louis Myers, Guy G. McKenzie, L. H. Tate, W. T. Cox, W. T. Coffer, F. J. Farrington, Charles H. Docherty, A. J. Egger, Charles E. Mitchell, F. N. Crosson, E. H.

STOREKEEPER HELD ON ARSON CHARGE Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Edgar, Neb., Oct. 13.—When the general store of J. M. Pape at De-weese, a small town just west of here, burned a few days ago, suspicions were aroused, and today insurance officers, working with Sheriff Haas of Clay county, are said to have obtained a written confession from Robert Roth, a clerk in the store, and from James Pape, the owner, that the fire was incendiary. The two men will be taken to the county jail to await trial.

Mr. Patch writes that Kellogg's Bran "solved his problem." It has solved the problem of constipation—mild and chronic—for thousands of others. It has brought relief when all else has failed because Kellogg's Bran is ALL Bran. Nothing but ALL Bran can be 100 per cent effective. Read Mr. Patch's letter:

Dear Sirs: I have been a constant sufferer from constipation and have wondered what was the cause of it. I have tried about all the cereals I could think of, and finally tried Kellogg's Bran. This solved my problem. I feel 100 per cent better and I owe it to your Bran. Thanking you very kindly for this great cereal, I am Very respectfully, Chester C. Patch, 761 Main St., Greenwood, Mass. For the permanent relief of constipation, eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestines. It rids them of the dangerous poisons that lead to other diseases. It is guaranteed to bring results, or your grocer will return your money. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious with milk or cream. You will like its nut-like flavor—so different from ordinary, tasteless bran. Sprinkle it over the cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Eat it in Kellogg's Bran muffins, griddle cakes and many other wonderful recipes given on the package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. It is sold by all grocers.

Mr. Warren Dies. Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Clarence Warren, wife of a local druggist, died suddenly at her home here last night of heart disease. She returned from a trip to California only a few days ago. Her husband and three sons survive her.
