

Demo Voters Deserting to G. O. P. Party

35 Douglas County Transfers of Allegiance Cited; Deserters Seek to Keep Election From House.

Douglas county democrats are flocking in large numbers to the standards of Coolidge and Dawes. Many of them are expressing their views openly and are joining Coolidge-Dawes clubs.

"A large number of my friends, former democrats, have joined the ranks of the republicans," said James Walsh, 3731 Military avenue. "Among them are men and women who have had an active interest in the activities of the democratic party in this county. They realize that Davis and Bryan have no chance and that if the election is thrown into congress conditions in this country will be a mess."

"I know more than 20 men, nearly every one of them once prominent in democratic circles here, who have forsaken the party for Coolidge and Dawes," said John Rush, 512 North Fortieth street. "This election is a question which is more important than political parties. Our constitution must be upheld."

Bryan Plot Charged.

"One of the men who has turned against the democrats said that he would be a party to a plot to elect Charles Bryan president. He and many other democrats figure that if the election is thrown into congress Charles Bryan probably would be the next president."

Mr. Ruhl and Mr. Walsh compiled a list of names of former democrats who have signed the intention of voting for Coolidge and Dawes, being members of Coolidge-Dawes clubs:

Edward P. Lynch, 2015 South Twenty-first street; Bert Murphy, 1422 Jackson street; Thomas B. Clum, 229 South Thirty-third street; Leroy P. McArdle, 322 South Twenty-third street; F. W. Meador, Elk City, Neb.; F. C. Anthony, 219 North Forty-first street; W. J. Sullivan, 219 Harney street; W. J. Malone, 330 North Forty-first street; Frank W. Kester, 402 B. Green, 2467 Eighth street; Patrick Quinn, 616 North Thirty-fourth street; C. B. Green, 2467 Eighth street; James Garrigan, 1481 Lothrop street; Peter J. Rooney, 1021 Fowler street; Louis D. Kavanaugh, 703 Omaha National Bank building; J. J. Sheehy, 2848 Poplar street; O. McGuire, 2704 North Sixtieth street; Henry J. Quinn, 4388 Dodge street; J. P. Quinn, 411 North Twenty-third street; C. E. Coffey, 2111 Larimore avenue; James B. Doyle, 4129 Capitol avenue; Jack Gustik, 1121 North Eighth street; Theodore Fanning, 3945 T street; Frank Carmody, 1848 Marcy street; C. W. Henson, 1521 Lake street; P. F. Dennison, 1521 Lake street; W. E. Madden, 1519 Lake street; J. E. Thomas, 4123 South Twenty-third street; Thomas J. Sheehan, Forty-second and Lafayette avenue; T. S. Sheehan, 2000 North Twenty-third street; John Cunningham, 3702 South Thirty-third street; Fred Sullivan, 419 Magg-herry street.

Wolf Cubs, Junior Scouts, Are Experts in Tying Knots

How many different kinds of knots can you tie? and after they are tied, how many of their names do you know? Knot tying is a part of the training of the Wolf Cubs, who are Junior Boy Scouts. They have a membership of nearly 300 in Omaha, and their work is financed by the Omaha Community chest. The boys in this picture, left to right, are: Richard Quinn, Robert Race, Morris Olson, Jean Jansen and Robert Levine, the instructor.

Paris Bows in Tribute as Anatole France Is Buried

By FRANK E. MASON, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Oct. 18.—France bowed her head reverently today as the body of her master of letters, who had taken the name of his country for his own—Anatole France—was laid to rest in Neuilly cemetery.

It was a demonstration of sorrow eclipsing that attending the funeral of the beloved Sarah Bernhardt. Hundreds of thousands—nobles, intellectuals and thousands of plain Parisians whose names would mean nothing, but who had learned to love the venerable author whose pen dipped acid or oil-lined the streets in the clear autumn sunshine of a beautiful Saturday afternoon.

Paris has seen no such crowd since Marshal Foch passed through the arch of triumph in the homecoming of July, 1919.

These thousands were stilled in a hush of grief as they stood heads bowed, while the cortege moved from the black draped Institute of Fine Arts to the cemetery. The mourners of the city, typifying a nation with bowed head and a feeling of loss in every part of the world where books are read, thronged the banks of the Seine and the Champs Elysees as the cortege passed.

Squadrons of cavalry rode first, then troopers of the municipal guard, followed by a band. The slow measures of a dirge sounded clearly in the hush.

Members of the Academy Française in picturesque green embroidered uniforms followed and the notables of government—President Doumergue, Premier Herriot and his entire cabinet, presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, with grey bearded senators—friends of the writer.

Changes Urged in Immigration Law

Secretary of Labor to Propose Admitting Families as Units.

Waterloo, Ia., Oct. 18.—Amendment of the immigration laws to permit the reuniting of families separated by the limited immigration provisions is to be advocated by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis before the next congress, he announced here today.

For economic reasons Mr. Davis said, the alien family should be admitted as a unit. He plans to urge this amendment as a humanitarian measure, he said.

Secretary Davis added that otherwise the law was accomplishing its purpose—to check the influx of foreigners who might jeopardize American labor standards.

"MA" IS QUALIFIED, HIGH COURT RULES

Austin, Tex., Oct. 18.—An injunction to prohibit the name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic candidate for governor in Texas, from going on the ballots was denied by the Texas supreme court today. The court also held that Mrs. Ferguson was qualified in every way to hold office, it elected.

Ford Backs Down on His Shoals Offer

Official Withdrawal Is Announced at White House Today; Came in Letter to President.

Washington, Oct. 18.—A letter from Henry Ford to President Coolidge withdrawing his offer for Muscle Shoals was made public today at the White House.

In reply President Coolidge wrote Mr. Ford that he trusted "that should the congress conclude that it is best to restore this property to private ownership you will at that time renew your interest in the project."

Mr. Ford wrote that "inasmuch as so much time has already elapsed we are unable to wait and delay what plans we have any longer for action by congress, and I am consequently asking that you consider this as a withdrawal of said offer."

Approves Action.

The president's reply follows in full:

"Your letter withdrawing your offer for the purchase of Muscle Shoals has been received. On account of the delay and probable shifting in conditions I can understand how you may feel justified in not keeping your offer open for a longer period."

"I trust, however, that should the congress conclude that it is best to restore this property to private ownership, you will at that time renew your interest in the project."

The letter of Mr. Ford said:

"On July 8, 1921, there was submitted to the War department upon their institution to the writer, an offer for leasing the government property at Muscle Shoals."

"After many conferences, hearings, etc., this proposal was amended on January 25, 1922, in which form it is still pending in congress."

SMOOTH ARTICLE GOES TO PRISON

Charles R. Bowden, colored, convicted of automobile thefts, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary Saturday morning by District Judge J. M. Fitzgerald.

"You are about the smoothest article in your line ever brought before this court," the judge stated when the suggestion was made that Bowden be committed to the state reformatory rather than sent to the penitentiary.

The county attorney stated that Bowden stole 50 automobiles in one year. He was tried on two cases and dismissed each time and the third trial resulted in conviction.

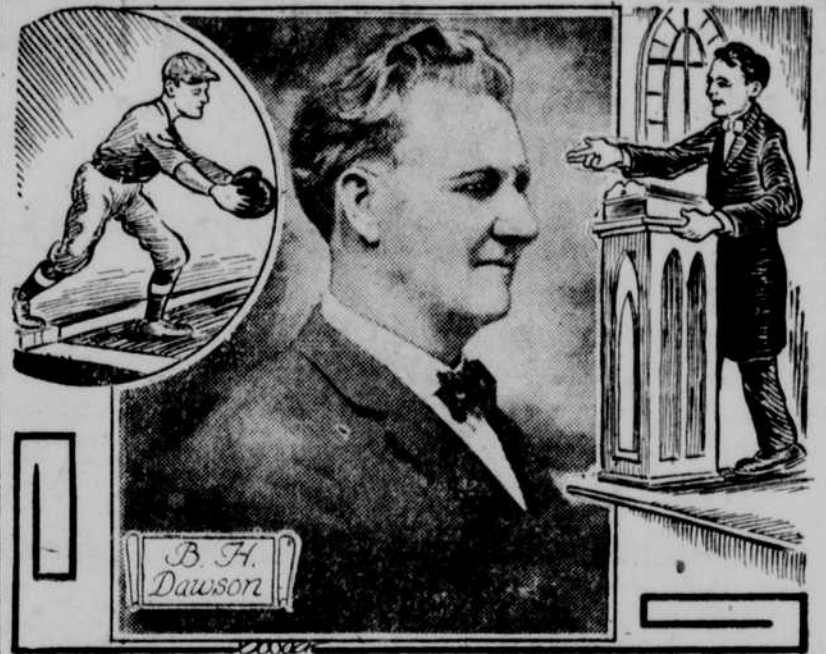

Bowden is 22 years old and has a wife and two children.

Restaurant Proprietor Dies at Clarinda Asylum

Glenwood, Ia., Oct. 18.—John Sourd, 57, died at the state hospital at Clarinda Wednesday and will be buried in Glenwood cemetery. He was well known to the traveling public, running a short order restaurant in Glenwood for many years.

Two daughters survive him.

Pastor Candidate for State Senate Lauds Opponent, Puzzles Voters

Falls City, Neb., Oct. 18.—B. H. Dawson, pastor of the Christian church of Humboldt, who is democratic candidate for state senator from the First district, is proving the most interesting figure of the campaign, as far as Richardson county is concerned. There are three reasons for the interest:

He is a minister, but this does not weaken the punch of his campaign.

He was forced into the race when his name was written in on the ballot in the primaries.

He is trying to lure votes from his opponent, Senator John Wiltsie of Falls City, republican, by praising his record instead of attacking it.

It is the last named peculiarity, a new wrinkle in politics in these parts, which is causing consternation in the ranks of both parties and is instrumental in bringing crowds to hear his "fresh" declarations. He makes another radical departure from orthodox campaigning by his frank statements that he is after the senatorial seat because it would be a personal honor to himself and not because he expects to be the people's savior.

His talks can never be mistaken for sermons, because he delivers them straight from the shoulder. Physically he looks like one of Coach Dawson's linemen. Moreover, he was an athlete in his college days and won his baseball letter at the University of Kentucky by holding down the first sack on the varsity nine.

Roosevelt Raps All Who Bar Tots

Son of Former President Grabs "Big Stick" in Defense of Children.

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Theodore Roosevelt, republican candidate for governor, said today that if he became governor he would continue his fight for a law making it a misdemeanor punishable by a $500 fine for a landlord to bar children from his premises.

He is scheduled to make 18 speeches today.

In an address here last night he reiterated his stand for 48 state prohibition enforcement act and accused the democrats of encouraging lawlessness by advocating light wines and beer.

Addressing a crowd of American Legion members at Horseheads, he paid a tribute to his younger brother, Quentin, who was killed in the aviation service in France.

"My little baby was born just after this war," he said, "and I named him after my brother, Quentin, because I had a feeling that you cannot do better for a boy or girl than give them something to live up to. My brother, who was killed in the war, gives that little boy as fine an example of self-sacrifice and service as you can find anywhere."

"How's the old, Teddy?" asked a hickler last night.

"Clean as a whistle," the nominee retorted.

HIGHT TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 18.—Motions to squash the two joint murder indictments against Lawrence M. Hight, former Ina (Ill.) clergyman, and Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, confessed poison plotter, were overruled today by Circuit Judge G. C. Kern. Mrs. Sweetin pleaded not guilty. The formal arraignment of Hight, was postponed until next Wednesday.

Mrs. Sweetin began her defense by filing an affidavit in which she charged that Hight, with whom she was jointly indicted for the murder by poison of her husband, Wilford Sweetin, and his wife, Anna Hight, was a "willing tool" of the prosecution. She demanded a separate trial.

LEGION PAINTS CORBETT HOUSE

Ten members of the American Legion painted the Joseph Corbett cottage at Twenty-third and K streets, East Omaha, Saturday afternoon.

The cottage was built by the legionnaires a week ago. Next Saturday the top finish of flooring will be laid.

The painting job was under the supervision of Eugene Stalheim.

Corbett, an ex-service man, has a wife and a 2-year-old child and an infant 2 weeks old. The father is not physically fit, so the legion men pitched in and gave a demonstration of practical helpfulness to a man now in need and who in his day of strength was fighting beneath the colors of his country.

HORSE SHATTERS CAR WINDSHIELD

Audubon, Ia., Oct. 17.—A peculiar accident occurred recently on the west of Exira. Peter Gude was driving west in his car and Will Johnson was coming east, driving ahead of him a horse that had run away.

The lights of Johnson's car blinded Gude, so he stopped his car and the horse jumped over the front of the machine, breaking the windshield and bending the frame. The horse's front legs and his head rested on the front seat. Gude sustained a bruised shoulder. The horse managed to extricate himself, suffering only a few scratches.

POLICE BATTLE TO CATCH "RUNNERS"

By International News Service.

New York, Oct. 18.—After a hand-to-hand battle, in which a police machine gun awoke the early morning echoes of the lower bay, three rum running vessels, including the notorious Eachus, were captured today. Their crews placed under arrest and their cargoes confiscated. In one instance, a policeman leaped across eight feet of open water to effect the capture while the crew of five stood coiled in the hold. One of the crew leaped overboard. The ship's cargoes are valued at $100,000.

RAIL BATTERY TO DEFEND COAST

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—War department plans are afoot for the stationing at Los Angeles of a train of railway artillery of sufficient range and effectiveness to guarantee the entire coast of southern California against any possible invasion by sea, according to Maj. Gen. George Rulien, Jr., commanding the coast defenses at Fort McArthur.
