Demos Keep Bryan Dark, Says Weeks

Campaign Managers Unwilling to Take Chance on Man Who May Be President, Speaker Asserts.

"It Is Coolidge or Him"

New York, Oct. 21. Declaring in a radio address here tonight that the balloting on November 4 will result either in the election of President Coolidge or the election being thrown into congress, Secretary Weeks predicted that in the latter event Charles W. Bryan, the democratic vice presidential candidate, would be president by a coalition of democrats and "radical elements" in the senate. The voters of the country therefore, the war secretary argued, are confronted with a choice between the two men.

Gallant Knight h Lady Fair, but

Golden text: A good Samaritan is appreciated—even by the thieves and robbers. J. Leibr of Omaha is chivalrous, and a garage man, too. Saturday he was chugging merrily along the Lincoln highway a short distance from Columbus, when by the roadside he espied a fair damsel awkwardly engaged in changing a tire of her gas jinkish.

At the Dawn of a New Prosperity

AN EDITORIAL

For the first time in four years, figuratively, the people of Nebraska are able today to rub one coin against another in their pockets. We have been in better condition than several of our sister states, but it has been a long, hard pull. Now the dawn is with us and we can breathe once more and look forward to the coming again of prosperity.
