Further Tax Cut Pledge of Coolidge

President Scores Government Ownership, Limitation of Power of U. S. Supreme Court.

Praises G. O. P. Tariff

Washington, Oct. 23.—President Coolidge set forth tonight policies of administration under which he proposes that the government will "maintain peace, promote economy, provide a protective tariff, assist the farmers, leave the people in possession of their property and maintain the integrity of the courts."

Public Ownership Perilous

Public ownership, he described as a most perilous undertaking, both to the welfare of business and to the independence of the people.

Getting all we can out of the rich by making the rates moderate and stimulating business to provide work and increase the earnings of the poor.

In foreign affairs, the president promised co-operation in the interest of peace; declared for constitutional covenants outlawing aggressive warfare; and reaffirmed his proposal for adherence to the permanent court of international justice.

Praises Tariff.

No other "sound and practical" policy in foreign affairs has been presented, Mr. Coolidge declared, adding that "we have been willing to assume the responsibility for leading the nation and the world in this direction without first seeking through a costly, futile and unconstitutional referendum whether it would be popular."

In agriculture, the president said he was ready to open the investigation into farming conditions he had proposed as a means of determining

Lost Signature of Doheny-Fall Note Discovered

Produced as Dramatic Exhibit in Naval Oil Lease Suit at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Oct. 23.—The missing portion of the famous $100,000 Doheny-Fall note which featured the senatorial trial inquiry in the leasing of navy oil reserve lands was produced today in the court of Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick, who is trying a government suit in an attempt to cancel loans granted to E. L. Doheny on the Elk Hills reserve.

Questioned on Note.

The first question asked her by Pomerene was: "Mrs. Doheny, do you know what became of the missing portion of the note given your husband by Mr. Fall in 1921 in consideration of purported loan of $100,000?"

Signature Torn Off.

Mrs. Doheny declared that Fall's signature was deliberately torn off the note in the New York apartment of the Doheny's shortly after the document had been executed.

Place in Bank.

Mrs. Doheny related how she came to Los Angeles and placed the note in a safety deposit box. As the months went on she said she forgot all about the incident.

"Debs and Berger See the President"

It is probable that some day we may see this headline in the newspapers. There is of course, no reason why either Debs or Berger may not call to see the president. Nor is there any reason why the president should not receive them graciously.

In such an event, however, it is a matter of very serious moment, who the president might be. There would be a world of difference if the president were Mr. La Follette.

We cannot lose sight of the fact that Mr. La Follette owes his nomination, owes the enthusiasm of his campaign, will owe whatever success he may attain in the election, very largely to the closely knit, rigidly disciplined, class conscious socialist party.

Eugene Debs said of La Follette at the convention, where the socialists nominated the Wisconsin senator for president: "Though he is not a socialist we need not blush or apologize to give our support to Robert M. La Follette."

Berger was even more enthusiastic upon the same occasion. He said: "La Follette is a socialist in everything but name. He has not voted the republican ticket since 1904."

La Follette has not denied any of these "love taps." He has gladly used the socialist support. Should Debs and Berger call on La Follette as president they would naturally expect the right to discuss with him prospective cabinet appointments or other administration plans in which the socialists would share.

We may be sure of one thing, should Debs and Berger call on President Coolidge, they will not expect any plan for the entry into government activities. Imagine if we can, the blow to industry, to all our business activities if Debs or Berger were given a foothold at Washington.

Boy, 12, Tightens Net Drawn About Robbery Suspect

Tells Police He Saw Prisoner Near Scene of Little Sioux Holdup; Hearing Next Week.

Another link in the chain of evidence connecting Harry H. Raymond, alias Pat Carroll, notorious Kansas bank robber, with the robbery Tuesday of the Little Sioux (Ia.) bank, was forged Tuesday afternoon when Wayne Boyer, 12, living on a farm two miles east of Bartlett, Ia., identified Raymond as one of two men he had seen walking past his home Tuesday evening.

The boy told Council Bluffs authorities that Raymond's companion had been carrying a small hand grip when he saw them. Bartlett is a short distance from Tabor, Ia., where the bandits' wrecked car was discovered.

A detailed check of the loss in the holdup, announced Thursday afternoon by bank officials, revealed that the bandits had made away with $2,834.95 in cash, $900 in unregistered Liberty bonds, and an unknown quantity of registered bonds.

Of this amount, $1,142.12 was found in the sack which lay beside the wrecked car. Carroll had $274 on his person when he was arrested at Pacific Junction.

Raymond's preliminary hearing will probably be held at Logan, Ia., next Wednesday.

Raymond was positively identified Thursday morning as Pat Carroll, swindler of a half dozen aliases, notorious Kansas bank robber with a criminal record beginning in 1904.

Hi Yackey, state agent, declared that Raymond is wanted for participation in robberies of the Lone Rock (Ia.) bank on July 8, and the Galt (Ia.) bank on August 1.

The bandits who robbed the Lone Rock bank obtained $1,100 in cash and $15,000 in bonds. In the robbery of the Galt bank they obtained $870 in cash.

Still Other Jobs.

Yackey believes Raymond may have been connected with still other Iowa bank robberies. The record of Raymond's or Carroll's activities fills several typewritten pages, according to information from the Kansas City authorities.

The record begins in 1904, when he was arrested in Salt Lake City and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for burglary. Since then he has been in jails or penitentiaries almost half of the time.

High lights in the record are: Arrested in Lincoln, Neb., 1909, for counterfeiting, and sentenced to three years and six months in Leavenworth federal prison; arrested in St. Louis in July, 1916, as a safe blowing suspect; arrested later in 1916 at St. Joseph, Mo., and sentenced to six months in jail for counterfeiting; arrested in Kansas City, April, 1917, and forfeited $3,000 bond on a safe blowing charge; arrested in Des Moines in January, 1918, for auto theft, and returned to Kansas City for trial on the safe blowing charge; sentenced in Kansas City in July, 1918, to two years in the penitentiary for grand larceny.

Among the aliases which Raymond has used, according to Kansas City records, are Henry P. Carroll, Pat Carroll, Henry Comstock, Thomas O'Brien and Frank Calvert.

Pictures of the known associates of Raymond are on their way to Council Bluffs authorities from Kansas City, and are expected to aid in establishing the identity of the men supposed to have assisted him in the Little Sioux robbery.

A large number of cattle on the eastbound train were killed.

Disorder Rules and Lead Flies

Business Suspended as Merchants and "Red" Laborers Battle in Streets; Pekin Taken Quietly.

Entire Situation New

Defection of General Feng Yu-Hsiang, trusted lieutenant of Wu Pei-Fu, changed the entire Chinese situation Thursday.

Authentic reports showed that General Feng with part of the army under his command had taken charge of Pekin, cut all telephone and telegraph wires, and destroyed train service.

Chinese reports asserted he had demanded abdication of President Tsoo-Kun, who recently made Wu Pei-Fu commander-in-chief of all of China's national armies, and that he had insisted that the present warfare against Ching Tso-Lin, military dictator of Manchuria, should cease.

Reports failed to show whether Feng was acting in league with Manchuria or independently.

Wu Pei-Fu last was reported directing the fighting from a point near Shanhaiwan, where a battle expected to prove decisive was being fought.

Feng Yu-Hsiang is known as "the Christian general." His recent defection from Pekin when his army went forth to meet the Manchurians was signalized with wholesale baptism of all of his men and asking of a blessing on the new weapons which had just been distributed to them.

Pekin, Oct. 23.—A brigade of Feng Yu Sang's eleventh division quietly and unexpectedly entered and occupied Pekin last night and this morning completely controls the capital.

All communications are cut, the city gates are shut and proclamations are posted saying:

"Feng Yu Sang doesn't want to make war which is ruining the country and causing the loss of many lives. Feng has called a conference between the government and the other side with a view of stopping the war. He is bringing his troops back to Pekin for garrison duty and asks the people that order be preserved. Foreigners will be protected."

Feng Yu Sang, "October 23." The city is quiet and peaceful.
