

Boy, 6, Killed at Play by Automobile

Youngster Runs Directly Into Path of Passing Car and Two Wheels Pass Over Body.

Dies on Operating Table

Edward, 6-year-old son of Mrs. Myrtle Schomerus, 420 North Eighth street, was fatally injured when he was struck by an automobile at Sixteenth and Cass streets at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Runs Into Car's Path

Hall told police that the boy was playing with some others on the sidewalk, and one of the other boys chased Edward into the street, directly into the path of the car.

Hall denied that he was speeding, and his statement was confirmed by H. Wertz, 2510 Cass street, a witness, who said that Hall was driving at about 10 miles per hour.

Hall stopped his car immediately and helped to pick up the child. He then took the boy and his half brother, Robert Williams, 9, to the police station for emergency treatment.

Mother Is Widow

Edward lived with friends in East Omaha, but spent each Saturday and Sunday with his mother, a widow, who is employed and had spent the afternoon with her at her home.

Coroner Steinwender had not decided Saturday night whether he would hold an inquest into the accident. Police, however, will question four children with whom Edward was playing.

Census Blanks Are Distributed

Questionnaires Mailed Farmers for National Check to Begin December 1.

Preliminary questionnaires for a farm census of the country have been sent by the federal census bureau to all Nebraska farmers and farm owners, according to information received by the agriculture committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Wierman was identified by Officer Wiemer and Frederickson as the man who shot them.

STUDENT LOST; CLIMBS UP WALL

Pierce Tobin, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce E. Tobin, 1429 South Eleventh street, crawled up the wall of the Technical high school building from the subcellar to the third floor Friday afternoon when he was lost after his pilot light went out while he was laying a radio lead wire in the sub-basement.

No Vote for Nebraska

Keep this in mind—the election turns out to be a fluke and the selection of the next president is made in the house of representatives—Nebraska will have no vote. Therefore, if the voters of Nebraska want to be heard in this election they must vote for Coolidge.

Keep this in mind too—Davis is certain to have the votes of the "Solid South." He has them now in his vest pocket.

This would leave La Follette with only 262 votes, four less than the majority of 266, necessary to win, should he carry all the rest of the states in the union.

Then keep this in mind—in the house there are 23 republican states. La Follette controls one of these. There are 20 democratic states.

These five states are Maryland, Montana, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Nebraska. Imagine the cry of corruption that would be made if either a republican or a democrat on these "no vote" delegations should switch.

Here is how the voting in congress would work out if Wisconsin voted for Davis; in the house, 22 for Coolidge, 21 for Davis, five not voting.

Unless Nebraska gives its eight votes for Coolidge on election day, Brother Charlie may be president.

In view of this state of affairs and keeping constantly in mind that we in Nebraska are at the dawn of a new prosperity, let us make sure by voting for Coolidge, and thus make our vote count.

Bluffs Bandits, Who Shot 2 Men, Held in Colorado

Two Suspects, Arrested for Shooting Denver Policeman, Identified as Frederickson Holdups.

Two suspects arrested in Colorado Springs have been identified as the men who shot Robert Wiemer, Council Bluffs traffic officer, and Axel Frederickson, Omaha, in the holdup of Frederickson's soft drink parlor in Council Bluffs on September 12.

The men are George Marquette, 35, and Melvin L. Major, 25, who were arrested in Colorado Springs as suspects in the shooting of a Denver policeman. The Denver shooting occurred when the policeman attempted to stop a street holdup.

Photographs of the two men have been identified by Officer Wiemer and Frederickson as the men who shot them.

Chances that the men may be brought to Council Bluffs to stand trial are very slight. Chief Gillaspie stated Saturday, as Colorado police are reluctant to give up their prisoners in view of the fact that neither man shot in Council Bluffs by Marquette was mortally wounded.

Officer Wiemer was shot through the breast as he was entering the front door of Frederickson's lunch room, in an attempt to frustrate the robbery. Although his injuries were at first declared mortal Wiemer pulled through and recovered rapidly.

Frederickson was shot down as he was obeying the bandit's command to raise his arms. He also recovered from his injury.

The bandits, of whom there were four, obtained $200 in the holdup. They escaped by way of an alley at the side of the store.

MEXICO QUILTS BRITISH TRADE

Mexico City, Oct. 25.—Mexico has suppressed commercial relations with Great Britain, the department of foreign affairs ordering consulates in London, Liverpool and Glasgow closed, as well as all honorary consular offices throughout the island.

Foreign Minister Somoza said this was decided on, not to show hostility to Great Britain, but because the Mexicans believe it "unworthy" of themselves "to maintain consular representatives under a government which does not concede Mexico the honor of maintaining official relations, thus implying it does not consider Mexico has the moral and legal capacity inherent to sovereign countries."

New Swift Plant Open

Beatrice, Neb., Oct. 25.—The new $200,000 plant of Swift & Co., was thrown open to the public today, hundreds of persons visiting the place. The building is of concrete and steel and was erected on the site of the old plant on South Fourth street.

Detectives Ferret Out "Beer Ring"

Large Clusters of Autos Near House Catch Eyes of Sleuths; Several Places in Dundee.

A "beer ring" is operating in Omaha, manufacturing and sealing upward of 1,000 quarts daily at 25 cents a quart, according to George Summit, police detective, who, with a squad, is working on the case at the direction of Police Commissioner Dunn.

There are about two dozen homes in Omaha, it is said, where the beer is retailed. Several of these homes are in the Dundee district.

Deliveries are made from the manufacturers daily by subcontractors, attracted by good pay. If they are arrested their fines are paid and they are soon back at work again.

The patrons of the beer dispensaries know that dispensing begins at 9 in the evening. Detectives find the places principally by the large clusters of automobiles usually found in front of them.

And the upper end of the ring is said to be in close contact with a police department officer.

Last week the detective and his men raided five beer joints. Inmates of all were fined. But he has information that they are already back in business.

Closing up the places also seems to fail of its purpose. The men go elsewhere and start again.

Prisoner Who Escaped Cell Bobs Up Again

Burglar at Work in Gilead Believed to Be Fugitive From Nelson Jail.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Wynome, Neb., Oct. 25.—A series of recent robberies at Gilead, near here, may result in the arrest of Herbert Holmes, charged with the robbery, September 20, of the Postwick State bank at Postwick, who broke jail at Nelson last Sunday.

Holmes is believed to have been the burglar who robbed the Fells auto garage at Gilead $50 Friday night. A Ford car was also stolen Friday night, and it is thought Holmes may have taken it.

The description of the burglar who robbed the Fells garage tallies with that of Holmes. Leo Fells, proprietor of the garage, was sleeping in the rear of the store when the burglar entered. Fells was unarmed and did not molest the man, but told police that the man had dark red hair, gold-filled teeth, an otherwise answered Holmes' description.

Other stores and meat shops in Gilead have been robbed within the last few days, and it is believed that Holmes may be in hiding in the vicinity until the search for him has been abandoned.

Holmes was seen in the railroad yards at Wynome last Tuesday. He escaped jail at Nelson by picking the lock of his cell with a knife, aided by a small mirror, after he had seriously cut his cell mate, Roy Starr. The Postwick bank robber obtained $1,500, but foot of this was recovered.

Secretary of Agriculture Dies at Capital Following Operation

Henry C. Wallace

Washington, Oct. 25.—Henry C. Wallace, secretary of agriculture in the cabinets of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, died at the naval hospital here late today, the result of complications arising from an operation 10 days ago.

Death was directly due to toxemia. A frequent sufferer from rheumatism, the secretary entered the hospital on October 15 for an operation which his physicians believed would relieve his condition. His appendix and gall bladder were removed, and he was taken to a hospital.

Members of the train crew said the engine and baggage cars had passed over the grade crossing and the driver of the car, apparently having trouble with his brakes, was unable to stop.

The automobile struck one of the passenger cars and was hurled under the wheels of the train. Three of the motorists, who have not been identified, were thrown clear of the cars but the others perished under the wheels.

Wife at Bedside. An official bulletin issued by Dr. Joel T. Boone, one of the White House physicians who attended him, shortly after the secretary died, stated that the end came quietly. Mrs. Wallace and their only unmarried daughter, Ruth, a debutante of last season, were at the bedside.

"The immediate cause of death," said Dr. Boone's bulletin, "was bacteremia, and a contributory cause was cholecystitis, inflammation of the gall bladder."

News of Secretary Wallace's death was immediately flashed to the White House, but the president and Mrs. Coolidge were at St. James church, attending the wedding of Miss Beatrice M. Beck, daughter of the solicitor general, to S. Pinkney Tuck, and they were not apprised of it until after the ceremony.

President Offers Condolence. Mrs. Coolidge motored directly to the Wardman Park hotel, where the Wallaces made their home, and expressed their condolences in person to Mrs. Wallace. They extended the courtesy of the White House for the funeral services and the offer was tentatively accepted. Plans tonight were for the body to remain at the hospital until Monday morning, when it will be borne to the executive mansion, and services held there at 11 a. m., attended by relatives and government officials. Burial will be at Des Moines, the permanent home of the Wallace family.

Auto Rams Train; 4 Persons Killed

Two Others Hurt in Spectacular Grade Crossing Smashup.

Riverside, Cal., Oct. 25.—Three women and a man were killed, two others seriously injured, and a seventh person escaped in a spectacular crash between an automobile and a speeding passenger train at Riverside, 10 miles from here late today.

The train was stopped immediately and the dead and injured placed aboard. The train then sped for this city where the two injured men were taken to a hospital.

Members of the train crew said the engine and baggage cars had passed over the grade crossing and the driver of the car, apparently having trouble with his brakes, was unable to stop.

The automobile struck one of the passenger cars and was hurled under the wheels of the train. Three of the motorists, who have not been identified, were thrown clear of the cars but the others perished under the wheels.
