Omaha Where the West is at its Best

COOLIDGE FOR AMERICAN FIRST.

In a speech that was not intended to be political, President Coolidge voiced his sentiments with regard to the foreign relations of the United States.

It was fitting, though, that on such an occasion the president should express some of the thoughts that animate him and others of the land.

Touching directly on Europe, Mr. Coolidge gave answer to those who have insisted on entering the arena of foreign politics on terms that have been offered.

"Europe does not want our benevolence. It does want our help, and we are ready to give it.

If, for example, we had been sitting in at Lausanne, we would now be a party to the treaty there drawn up, and which has been so generously denounced by the democrats in their platform.

Had we been bound by the Treaty of Versailles, the Dawes commission could not have functioned, and the London protocol would never have been written.

Mr. Coolidge makes plain his abhorrence of aggressive war. He says he is willing to help Europe to recover from the effects of the late war, but expects also that Europe help itself.

Charles J. Vopicka of Chicago, once minister to Rumania by virtue of appointment from Woodrow Wilson, is campaigning for John W. Davis.

Mr. Vopicka is also credited with saying that the Czachs "do not like President Coolidge's refusal to make a definite statement on religious liberty."

made the clearest possible announcement of his intention to enforce the provisions of the Constitution of the United States, which provides for the fullest exercise of religious liberty.

We do not question the right of a Bohemian or any other citizen of alien birth to affiliate with the party of his choice.

Peeping at the Rich Man's Pile. One of the provisions of the 1924 revenue act provides for public inspection of income tax returns. No longer are these matters of confidence between the government and the taxpayer.

Under the Censor's Eye. Omaha.—To the Editor of The Omaha Bee: You are inclined to pride yourself on being a newspaper that publishes only the facts.

Confidence in Your Stomach. is one of life's chief pleasures. Imagine yourself going out to a friend's to dine tonight and actually to find the food you have heretofore thought would lay you out for a week.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their action is wonderful in stopping gasiness, sour risings, sweetening the stomach, aiding digestion, making you feel comfortable, clearing the bowels and sleep and awake in the A. M. refreshed and a pleasant taste in your mouth.

They See the Light in Minnesota

General Dawes has done excellent missionary work in the northwest tier of states, if an editorial in a recent issue of the Houston City Chief of Hokah, Minn., may be taken as an evidence of the impression he has made.

Senator Norris' majority in November will be so great that one hesitates to name the figure. The talk wherever you go is that Coolidge will carry the state and that La Follette will be second.

My Bank

I am a woman and I think a lot of MY Bank.

The special teller for women depositors takes care of my account.

I don't have to bother with anyone else.

By the way, she is a woman—which makes it all the nicer.

Since I have had my own Checking Account I don't have any trouble keeping my bills straight or getting my accounts mixed up with my husband's.

MY Bank makes banking for a woman, simple, convenient and pleasurable.

I certainly think a lot of—

SUNNY SIDE UP

Take Comfort, nor forget, That Sunrise never failed us yet.

The intimation that municipal gas will shortly be reduced is hailed with pleasure, but even greater pleasure would be shown if the management of the gas plant would evidence a little less suspicion that every user of municipal gas is a crook.

While numbering numerous bankers among our friends, we still have occasion to wonder at some of their peculiarities. On a recent trip we cashed a $3 check for a friend, and later received a $75 expense check from the office.

It's a mean trick, the one the Kluxers of Kansas are playing on 'ol Bill White, and we stop the press to enter our emphatic protest.

A big fire Sunday evening impressed us with the changes that have taken place of late years in the matter of fighting conflagrations.

The Colonel's tribute to Sorenson, Minor and Woodbridge in The Sunday Bee was well merited. It reminded me of the day of Omar B. Rothacker's funeral, when Sorenson, standing with uncovered head at Tenth and Farnam while the funeral cortege went by, solemnly assured us young reporters that it was the first time Rothacker had ever been known to keep an appointment.

Admitting our inability to officiate as a judge of literary efforts, we seize this occasion to admit our great disappointment with Conan Doyle's latest Sherlock Holmes story.

400, or 4,600, or in fact any amount of time. What he does expect in the near future is one grand hair-pulling match, and that is why he is egging the dears on to do something.

Chairman Elbert Underly of the Light Wines and Beer league said at a dinner in New York:

"There's one side of the investigation in Washington—the side showing our universal human frailty—that reminds me of a story."

"A man visited a lawyer and said: 'No Regrets. I once got a man to take out a $20,000 life policy and he met a fatal accident within a week.'

"You must have wished your perquisitions had been less successful."

"Oh, I don't know. You see, I married the widow."—Boston Transcript.
