Wife Promises Mate Balm for Wounded Heart

"Heart Balm! If He Were Here He'd Get It," Declares Irate Spouse When Told of Suit.

"Heart balm! Good heavens, I wish he were here. He'd get it," exclaimed Mrs. Joseph A. Kelly, when informed Wednesday of the suit of her husband against her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Standers, 136 North Fortieth street, in which Kelly asks $50,000 for alleged alienation of his wife's affections.

Mrs. Kelly denies that she lured her husband from Rubuque, Ia., on false pretenses, only to serve him with a mmons in a separate maintenance suit , when he set foot inside the state. "He called me up Monday and told me to get ready; that he was coming to take me home," she declares. "I told him not to come, that I never would return to him."

Husband Mining Head

Kelly is president of the Yavapai Onyx Mining corporation. 112 said he arrived here Tuesday in response to a long-distance telephone call, stating that his wife and children wanted him to come to Omaha and bring them home, he says.

Mrs. Kelly took steps to secure separate maintenance after her husband had paid a surreptitious visit to the home of her parents two weeks ago and demanded that she go home with hlm, she said.

Kelly charges that his wife's parents have endeavored to alienate his wife's affections from him. He claims the Standers are worth $300,000.

Wife Says Abused.

"Mr. Kelly has struck and abused me. I left his home last June, after he had ordered me out," charges Mrs. "He kept the neighbor boy Kelly. with him five nights a week, and he would go out of his way to oblige the boy's parents, although slighting his family.

Mrs. Kelly declared that her husband would not go to church with her, even hiring someone to take her on certain occasions.

She said that three weeks after their marriage at Manley, Neb., in 1913, Kelly persuaded her father to him $700 with which to buy give furniture for their home, and certain bank stock.

"The next we heard from him he was at Montreal, Canada. "He has obtained $3,750 from my parents at various times and has demanded much more of them. At one time they offered to buy us a $3,000 home if he would settle down with me, but he said he would rather have the cash. In her petit on for separate maintenance the wife asks custody of her four children-Arsella, 9; Mary, 3; Francis, 6, and John, 5. She declares Kelly makes $300 a month.

HUDSON COACH PRICE REDUCED Substantial price reductions

Hudson and Essex coaches have gon be made up materially of fond mamas church here was attended by nearly and Dr. Gay C. White, district super into effect at the Omaha Hudson-Essex company following the receipt of a special message from the Hudson Motor Car company.

The reduction results in the sale of the Hudson coach, a closed car, at less than the standard open cars on the same chassis. This is the first time in motor car history this has been true, it is declared. The Hudson coach's new list price is $1,395, as against $1,400 for the 4-passenger open super-six car and $1,500 for the -passenger open car.

The Essex coach at $945 is still slightly higher than the Essex open cur, but the differential is declared by Hudson-Essex officials to be the smallest in the industry aside from Hudson

The reduction was made possible coording to Hudson officials, because 1924 has been the largest sales year in Hudson history, the hitherto un-100,000-mark having been known reached September 1. Volume economies have thus been possible.

R. H. Davisson said: "This advantage in price is made possible to buy ers because Hudson-Essex followed the creation of coaches with volume production. This keeps Hudson-Essey enclosed cars out of the range of price competition.

"Hudson-Essex coaches are the largest selling six-cylinder cars in the world, and with these sensational new prices, are more than ever unmatched values in their field."
