

4-Week Meeting of Rail Brotherhood May Be in Omaha

General Secretary of Engineers in City Conferring Over Location for 1925 Conclave.

Omaha may be host to one of the largest and most influential railroad labor organizations in the country next June.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, which meets every three years, voted at Houston, Tex. in 1922 to hold the 1925 convention in Detroit.

The board of directors of the brotherhood is authorized to change the location and time if expedient. It was found that the facilities in Detroit were not what they were cracked up to be, and the brotherhood is now considering Omaha, Cleveland and Denver.

A. H. Hawley of Cleveland, general secretary and treasurer of the brotherhood, is in Omaha investigating the facilities here. He has found that the Auditorium may be had for the month of June, 1925. He will make his report to D. B. Robertson, president of the organization, on his return to Cleveland, and he would not indicate Tuesday what that report would be.

Four Weeks' Session. The convention will be in session for four weeks. There will be 900 delegates and an auxiliary convocation of women will have 500 delegates, who will be in session about 10 days.

The brotherhood delegates are paid out of the organization's funds, because their wages stop while they are in attendance, and many of them bring their wives and families. It is estimated that from 1,500 to 3,000 persons will be here for the month.

"If the convention is held in Omaha," said Hawley, "I would say that the delegates and their families will leave $300,000 here."

120,000 Members. The 1916 and 1919 conventions were held in Denver. The brotherhood is a fraternal as well as a labor organization, with 120,000 members.

The engineers were the pioneers in the plan to pay regular compensation to members afflicted with tuberculosis.

They are paid $75 a month and $25 are on the roster for these benefits. Formerly members who contracted tuberculosis were given their insurance money, but now they may retain their insurance and draw $75 monthly besides.

CREIGHTONIAN WINS HONORS

"The Creightonian," weekly student publication of Creighton university, was awarded a second place in the competition with other schools of the North Central conference at the annual convention at Sioux City, Ia.

First place was awarded to the Spectrum, North Dakota Agriculture college paper. The Collegiate Reporter of Morningside university received third place.

Milton Abrahams, editor-in-chief of the Creightonian, was the Creighton representative at the meeting. Twenty-one colleges and universities were represented.

Callaway to Have Fair

Callaway, Nov. 4.—The second annual community fair will be held in Callaway December 11, 12 and 13.

Omaha Woman Wins Prize Among 5,000 Contestants in U. S.

Leonore C. Rigdon, manager of Peters Trust branch, Western Union, has been awarded $25 as prize for suggestion offered for future service of the Western Union in a competition held for employees throughout the United States and Europe.

Out of 5,000 contestants, Mrs. Rigdon was one of 142 prize winners among whom $5,000 were distributed. She was one of two branch managers to win in the contest and one of eight women in the entire world in Western Union service to win.

Fifteen employees in the central division were prize winners.

Today

All Over, Nearly 11 to 1 at the Last. Business Is Cheerful. Owe Church $3,000,000. By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

The day before election found business men cheerful. Government bonds were high, the Liberty 3 1/2 per cent, that pay no income tax, established a high record.

Chicago is having a little private stock boom of its own. The great mail order houses announce the biggest business and greatest prosperity for years. Several of the most important Chicago stocks establish new high records.

When farmers have money it pours into Chicago, and the farmers have it now.

Cornelius Cole, who knew Abraham Lincoln well, died yesterday in Los Angeles, aged 102. He practiced law when past 100.

Newspapers always mention the death of a man that begins his second century. The time is coming when to die younger than 100 will be the exception.

Los Angeles says, "If you want to live till 102, come here."

Two of New York City's Fifth avenue churches will unite and build for $3,000,000 one fine church in Fifth avenue. One clergyman will be rector, the other will be rector "emeritus." It is interesting to see the American combination and "merger" idea spreading even to the churches.

The new church, to be opposite the Carnegie residence on Fifth avenue, will doubtless supply to many, pleasant transportation from a delightful and fashionable spot on earth to an infinitely delightful spot above.

North and South Carolina should build a big monument to James B. Duke one of these days. A map of those states, with little round blue spots, each indicating a power station, shows as many of the little spots as there are flies on a crowded flypaper. Each spot indicates power sufficient to run 10,000 spindles.

Within two years, it is said, 200,000 additional horsepower will be developed by Mr. Duke and put to work grinding out goods and employing labor.

The mistake of a tower man sent a coal car into a crowded trolley car, slicing off one end of it, killing 10.

The towerman admitted that he had been drinking, and a flask of moonshine whisky backed his statement.

The towerman will be punished, and ought to be.

What about the man that sold him the whisky? In that case the bootlegger did not merely violate the prohibition law. He committed murder. Wouldn't it be worth while to do something about that?

A cablegram tells of 3,000 crows near Neviers in France chasing an eagle into a French chateau, where it was killed by the keepers of the place.

That should interest Uncle Sam. The eagle is his bird. And the day is coming when eagles and crows are not the only fighters in the air.

The sight of a noble eagle pursued by 3,000 miserable crows, and finally killed, isn't pleasant.

There might be more unpleasant sights, in this country, if we had war and our enemies east or west began releasing their flying machines to deal with the American eagle here.
