Truck Driver's Parole Held Up by Baby's Father

War Mothers Appear to Greet Convicted Driver But Judge Delays Decision.

Jimmy Decker, 19, must wait a few more days before he is freed from the county jail where he has already spent 105 days.

Jimmy was to have been paroled Saturday by District Judge Fitzger ald before whom he was convicted November 9 of causing the death of Tommy Healy, 4. in an automobile crash at Seventeenth and Chicago streets, July 22.

In anticipation of the happy occa sion, a dozen mothers, members of the W. C. T. U. and War Mothers, were gathered in the court room. wanted to congratulate the They youthful prisoner when he gained his freed

However, he sent for Jimmy, who was brought from the county jail, accompanied by Public Defender John Baldwin, who has made a vigorous fight for the boy's freedom.

The judge gave the youth a kindly fecture and presented him with a list of "Dont's" relating to driving of automobiles.

"I want you to study those, Jimmy, and commit them to memory," he maid. "And then when you are restored to freedom and drive a car you will be the most careful man in the world.'

Delegations were so numerous and of such size at the city hall Saturday morning that Joseph Reeves, boy ayor for a day, opened the city council chamber for the occasion. The boys of the Young Men's Christian association called on Mayor Reeves en masse and demanded a speech

The city hall reverberated with the shout, "We want to see the mayor!" They saw and heard the mayor. The young mayor adjured his boy friends to be true unto themselves and ay the game of life on the square and to honor their mothers and fathers. The boys raised their right hands as a pledge that they would keep in mind the advice given to them.

To the Sons of Omaha: Father and Son week! What momentous force in the lives of posterity if used with all its powers. Such a week has been designated for the purpose of biulding up a closer relationship between fathers and sons. For a number of years past Omaha, as well as other cities, has set aside a week for this purpose and we are glad and proud that our city took the lead in this great work. This question confronts us as sons: What can we do to make father more interested in us and we in him? Let it be resolved that we, the sons of Omaha, start today to do everything in our power to show "dad" that we appreciate beyond words what he has done for us by trying to live closer to him, by being interested in his trials of life and by making home not just a place where he rests
