Artist at Private Musical Quintessence of Modernism

Seldes in art, who comes in January for the Drama League. She will speak on "What Next in Music?" Miss Rous is said to be an authority on modern music, having made a special study of it for years. She is witty and convincing as a speaker, according to those who have heard her, and a brilliant pianist whose technical equipment is equal to any demands of modern music. She gave her New York recital in Aeolian hall in January, and has since appeared in Chicago, Indianapolis, St. Paul and St. Joseph.

Igor Stravinsky, one of the most discussed of modern composers, will be represented by his "Ragtime," an example of his famous dynamic rhythm, said to be a merciless momentum of rhythm driven home by dissonance, which has disturbed the serenity of many a conservative critic.

The French "Six" also figure on the program—that band of brilliant though impertinent youngsters who

First Bird Show Nov. 21, 22

Omaha's first bird show will be held under auspices of the Bird Lovers' club, chartered by the International Canary Breeders' association of Berkeley. The exhibit of birds will be held at the Gabel flower shop, 2511 1/2 North Twenty-fourth street, November 21 and 22. Prizes and ribbons will be awarded.

Max Geisler, Omaha's veteran bird dealer, and his daughter, Miss M. J. Geisler, will act as judges of song.

Lee Larson, florist of the city, and Mrs. Bradley of Council Bluffs will act as judges of color and form.

The canaries will be divided into two general divisions. Roller canaries competing for song will be divided into 11 classes of three ribbons each. All canaries will be judged for color and form and divided into 11 classes of three ribbons each.

The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. J. Dettman, chairman; Mrs. J. Pressley, Mrs. F. L. Lyons and Mrs. E. Gabel.

Any one owning birds and wishing to enter them may do so by arranging with Mrs. Gabel by telephone, Webster 2657. She will give full information.

Seventy-five birds have been entered.

Nebraska's New First Lady

Mrs. Adam McMullen of Beatrice, who will preside over the executive mansion at Lincoln for the next two years, is a woman of unusual culture and refinement. She has lived in Gage county most of her life, though she was born in Cheboygan, Mich.

She was Miss Cora Greenwood before her marriage. Her mother, Mrs. Mary A. Greenwood, resides at Wyomere, where the McMullens lived before moving to Beatrice. She has a sister, Mrs. Iva Bridenthal, and a niece, Mrs. Earl Howey, both of Beatrice.

Mrs. McMullen is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and is at present state librarian for that organization, which she has served previously as regent. She is president of chapter Z. P. E. O. in Beatrice and is a past matron of the Eastern Star. She is a member of the Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. McMullen have no children.

New Book of Interest to Local Literati

"Sudden Wealth" a new book by H. J. Forman is out. This has special interest in Omaha, where Mrs. Forman, sister of Mrs. R. Bescher Howell is well known. Jonathan Cape is publishing the volume. It has been commented on enthusiastically by Ford Madox Hueffer, May Sinclair, H. G. Wells, and Filsion Young in current reviews.

Van Wyck Brooks declares the book, "intensely actual, covering a big segment of life and bringing to single aspect on the way. You have Main Street without labeling it, and Greenwich village without sentimentalizing it and Paris beautifully," said Mr. Brooks.

Filsion in the New York Times said "The book has a purity of style, rare in contemporary American literature and Ida Tarbell calls it 'a great theme which ought to start something'."

The Formans are extensive travelers and are as well known in London literary circles as in New York. They enjoyed the hospitality of Wells, Frank Swinnerton, May Sinclair, the Hamilton Fyfes and Arnold Bennett in London on their recent visit and of the Hueffers in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Abbott will spend Thanksgiving in Lincoln.

Invite YOU Monday

The occasion is a proud one for us, for it realizes the ambition of years that artistic articles for Home Decoration should be offered in appropriate environment.

We Wish to Show You This Achievement in the Opening of Our Fourth Floor

Here We Present a Great Collection of CHINA CRYSTAL GIFTS MIRRORS PICTURES Etc. Gathered from All Over the World

Which you will profit by inspecting Monday. Here will be found artistic productions in great variety, the Inexpensive ones possessing the same element of unique merit as the many elaborate, unusual and valuable ones.

Why?

In approaching this ideal we realized that our accustomed business maxim must be the foundation, we must have quality! In order to secure it we must have experience, knowledge and talent. To obtain this we secured the entire organization of the Eldridge Importing Co., acquiring thereby not only the facilities of established connections to which we have added the prestige of our own, but the personal direction of Mr. Oliver Eldridge than whom we know of no better adapted talent or temperament anywhere. He has the knowledge, the taste and the ability which will make this floor one of the tremendous successes of the country and your art headquarters.

When Coffee Prices Advance

Don't Blame your Grocer

Advancing coffee prices are not your grocer's fault. The fault is no one's, particularly in this country, because in this country we do not raise coffee. It is all imported from the South and Central American countries.

This year's crop was only about one-half of the normal size and now the predictions are the 1925 crop will be only one-half normal. It is all a question of supply and demand, but right now, with a half crop in Brazil, and Central America having only a fair crop but supplying very little, it is inevitable that prices should have advanced.

As we see conditions the world cannot look for lower prices for some time and we must all expect to pay more for our favorite coffee.

Bear in mind that coffee is still the cheapest drink obtainable and the cost too small to risk using a poor grade, for your meals deserve the best.
