only in the prices, but in the quality of the goods, for every item has been as represented.

During the past five weeks of the sale there has been no thought of oppressing other business houses, for we believe that the value and the reputation of Burgess-Nash is more necessary than the temporary outdoing of competitors. Merchandise has been priced so low that our prices have been the talk of the merchandising world since the day our first advertisement appeared.

During the balance of our stock reducing sale Omaha will experience a sale of such magnitude that it cannot help but attract each and everyone in the entire trading zone.

Do your future buying now—buy every article you need or want—prices have been sacrificed regardless of the loss. We are unable to tell you in cold type of the values offered at Burgess-Nash, but we assure you that never before in the history of Omaha's retail trade has merchandise of such fine quality been priced so low.
