European Tour of Giants and Sox

Revives Claim That Baseball Was Invented in France

Paris, Nov. 11 .- The claim that baseball was invented in France has been revived coincidentally with the Giants and Chicago White Sox.

In England they are satisfied with saying that baseball is nothing but glorified "rounders" and that Henry Chadwick, father of the game, was born in the United Kingdom. Frantz Reichel, former secretary of the French Olympic committee, however, is authority for the statement that "baseball was played in France 50 This was long before the American national pastime was organized, M. Reichel continues: "It was played with nine men to a side and with four bases just like modern baseball, but it was known as 'la grande theque.'"

Dick Kinsella of Springfield, Ill., advance agent for the Giants and White Sox, when confronted with this "news" at the headquarters of the newly organized French base-

"It may have been 'la grande theque' in those days, but if it doesn't get larger crowds here than the Sox and Giants played to in Ireland it will require 'ze grande

Football Player Gives Blood to Help Pay Tuition at Brown

Providence, R. I., Nov. 11.—P. W. Eckstein, Brown university's alleastern center and outstanding football player, has given two pints of blood for transfusion at different times this fall in order to help defray tuition costs, it was learned today. The price paid by the city hospital is $50 a pint. Eckstein was thus able to meet one-third of his tuition. Last year Eckstein twice gave three pints of blood, while two other Brown football players, Freddie Sweet and Tom Johnson, both of Pennsylvania,
