

Bluejays to Present Patched Lineup in Tussle With Grinnell Tomorrow

Bertoglio Is Latest Addition to Injured List

Star Fullback Taken to Hospital With Infected Leg; Yechout Suffers Broken Finger.

It never rains but what it pours, and several weeks ago, when Joe Spieker, Creighton university's crack halfback, was lost to the team through a serious knee injury, the sprinkle began and it has been increasing ever since, until now it is a veritable downpour.

The latest addition to Coach Chet Wynne's hospital roster is his hard-hitting fullback, Johnny Bertoglio, who drew honorable mention on the all-American in 1923.

Johnny has been troubled with a sore leg for some time, and Wednesday night they bundled Creighton's first string fullback to the St. Joseph hospital. There it was discovered that infection had set in, but after treating the injury it was announced last night that Johnny was in pretty fair condition. He will be able to be on his feet today.

Wynne's second string fullback, "Heinie" Lower, is in good shape, but his third alternate, Rudy Yechout, is out of the game with a broken finger, sustained in practice Tuesday. This leave but one fullback for the Grinnell game.

At the halcyon hard luck had dealt Wynne another stacked hand. Of his three regular right halfbacks, "Sas" Keane is the only man in condition to work Saturday. Spieker is out with his knee, while O'Connor is favoring a twisted ankle.

Hearing for Coast Boxers Next Wednesday

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20.—Hearings for Fred Fulton, Minnesota pugilist, Tony Puette, Los Angeles boxer, and their managers, Jack Reddy and Fred Winsor, accused of being involved in a "fake" bout, were set today for next Wednesday.

District Attorney Asa Keyes has threatened to charge the four men with felony but today they stand only accused of violating the state prize fight law. However, Keyes said investigation of charges that Fulton did a "flip" so Puette could be declared the winner of the bout, were to continue.

The accused quartet is at liberty on bail of $1,000 each. James J. Jeffries, former heavyweight champion; Tommy Ryan, former middleweight champion, sporting writers and others prominent in the boxing game, have been summoned to appear as witnesses when the four men appear in court.

Winsor issued a statement today in which he claimed he was being made "the goat." He pointed out he was accused of violating a law because a professional had taken part in a boxing bout but claimed that at the same time professional boxers were appearing almost every night in the week in Los Angeles clubs.

With the KNIGHTS of the GLOVES

New York.—Miguel Ferrera, Buenos Aires, knocked out Joe Silvani, New York heavyweight, in a fourth round. Eddie Harvey, South Bend, Ind., knocked out Hugo Duket, New York, in the second round. Gordon Sweeney, Toronto, won a decision from Eleazer Hous, Canadian lumberjack, six rounds.

Rockwell Has Chance to Top Big Ten Scores

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 19.—An opportunity to close his football career as the leading point scorer of the Western conference is expected to spur Tod Rockwell, Michigan's great quarterback, to his best efforts in the game with Iowa here Saturday. One of the leading quarterbacks of the conference, Rockwell with a total of 77 points to his credit, is only one point behind Harold Grange of Illinois, and with the noted Illinois halfback out of the game Rockwell's chance of overcoming the lead is regarded as more than a good one.

Rockwell closes his football career with the Wolverines by reason of the fact that he played one year in college football at Ypsilanti before joining the Michigan squad last year. Saturday's contest also will be watched with considerable interest as it will bring Rockwell in competition with Iowa's great quarterback, Parkins. Parkins enjoys the distinction of having scored a touchdown against Yale two years ago.

LEOPOLD, LOEB NERVES VICTIMS

"Leopold and Loeb were victims of nerves. Many suicides are due to nerves which lead to melancholy," said Dr. Joseph Jastrow, professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin, who arrived in Omaha at noon to lecture before the Society of Fine Arts at 4 on "Nerves and Behavior."

"Leopold and Loeb are not to blame," he continued. "They were born that way. Others afflicted with peculiar nervous phenomena exhibit the results in vagabondage. I knew a doctor who suddenly abandoned a large practice and became a roustabout on a lake boat. He couldn't explain why. Many of our tramps are men of education whose odd nervous condition has driven them to the open road."

Dr. Jastrow was in Omaha in 1912 with Victor Rosewater on his return from the republican convention.

Bulldog Yanks Tiger's Tail to Tune of 10 to 0

Yale smacked Princeton's dream of Big Three supremacy by tying Tiger's tail in a 10 to 0 knot in its own lair. Photo shows Joss, on far side of goal posts, making only touchdown of game after forward pass.

Six Contenders for Featherweight Crown Meet in New York Ring Tonight

New York, Nov. 20.—Contenders for the world's featherweight pugilistic championship meet in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in three 10-round matches in the first round of elimination tournament fostered by the state athletic commission. The principals were matched by lot and all will be held to the weight limit of 125 pounds. Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., faces Bobby Garcia of Camp Holabird, Md.; Danny Kramer of Philadelphia opposes Mike Dundee of Rock Island, Ill., and Jose Lombardo of Panama, battles Lou Paluso of Salt Lake City.

Iowa State Fans Fear That Drake Ends Will Halt Speedy Behm Brothers

Ames, Ia., Nov. 20.—The Iowa State college football team fears two men on the Drake university team offensively and it fears two other men defensively. The two men it fears offensively are Orebaugh, brilliant tackle smasher and open field runner and McLuen, the hard-hitting fullback. Defensively it fears Sloan and Londenfelter, the ends on the Bulldog team.

Crawford Leaves for Big Grid Game

Crawford, Neb., Nov. 20.—Tonight amid the wild cheering of a crowd of 500 loyal supporters the Crawford football squad left for North Platte. Sixteen men made the trip to uphold Crawford's chances in the final steps toward the state championship.

Captain Roy Worthington addressing the crowd from the steps of the train said, "While the results of the game cannot be foretold certainly, we hope to be able to bring home the bacon." You may be certain that every man on the team will do his best for Crawford. We know we are up against a stiff proposition and will fight accordingly."

Change Zoning Rule in Basket Ball

New York, Nov. 20.—The eastern intercollegiate basketball league which will open its season January 3, has changed the zoning rule which prohibits different penalties on fouls committed within certain areas. One shot from the foul line will be permitted on all fouls committed except on a player in the act of shooting at the basket. In cases where a player shooting is fouled two shots will be allowed.

APARTMENT FIRE KILLS 5 PERSONS

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 20.—At least five persons lost their lives early today in a fire which burned to the ground seven business places and apartment houses in Plymouth at an estimated loss of $75,000. Fifty families were driven into the street with the thermometer below freezing while seven were carried from the buildings unconscious.

Mrs. Martin Sherako, Miss Emily Petruski and Victor Sherako and two unidentified boarders in the Sherako hotel are dead. Searchers are digging for the bodies of two men who are missing.

Suggests Special Detectives for Major Leagues

New York, Nov. 20.—A special detective department is the latest in the major league "winter stove" baseball.

The rumor has it that a New York club owner, whose name is not given, intends suggesting such a department to fellow magnates at the National and American leagues' annual meeting here next month.

This club owner is said to think the department the best means of combating gamblers and gambling in organized baseball and guarding against repetitions of scandals which have smirched the game.

Believe it or not!

COLBERG has transferred his affections from Carter lake shooting to river shooting and can now be found almost any day on the river waiting for a chance at ducks. His friends state that Colberg has more patience than any other Nebraskan when it comes to sitting in a blind and waiting for ducks to decoy.

The other day he was out in a blind and to make sure that he would be in plenty of time, was in his blind long before day light. He sat there in the cold and waited. He waited and waited and waited. Not a feather did he see. Finally, along in the late afternoon, after he had sat in the blind just exactly 12 hours without seeing a duck, a flock of Mallards swung over him and came into his decoys. Colberg rose up, picked out the fattest one in the bunch and fired. The duck fell and Colberg watched the rest flare up and speed away.

BLUEJAYS HOLD CAGE PRACTICE

Coach Schabinger had his Creighton university basketball aspirants performing Tuesday night in the Bluejays gymnasium. More than 20 candidates were out. Led by Captain Johnny Troutman the Bluejays went through preliminary workouts and general loosening up exercise to get them in condition for the first official call which will be issued following the Thanksgiving holidays.

PRINT THIS ABOUT Joint-Ease Says Druggist

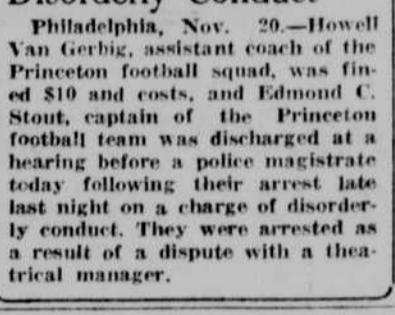

"Joint-Ease is selling like hot cakes in my store because it is a wonderful and special remedy for all joint troubles. But why not impress on tens of thousands of suffering people some of the things that dozens of my customers tell me almost daily."

"Some say that it knocks out lumbago over night—Others assert that for chest colds and sore throat it has no equal, while many insist that there is nothing they ever tried that is so efficient for neuralgia, neuritis and even head colds and nasal catarrh."

Answering the above letter, we, the makers of Joint-Ease, know that what this thriving New Jersey druggist says is true, but we still maintain that Joint-Ease is prepared for stiff, inflamed, painful, swollen joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, fingers or spine.

You'll like to use penetrating Joint-Ease, for with just one minute's rubbing, it soaks in through the flesh direct to the ailing bones and ligaments—that's why it succeeds—for when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—And without any waste of time all swelling and congestion disappears. Sold by all druggists.

Senators Awarded Diamond Studded Gold Watch Fobs

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Diamond studded gold watch fobs will be presented to members of the Washington Americans by Commissioner Landis, as an additional reward for their victory over the New York Giants for the world championship, it was decided tonight.

WAYNE MUNN EASY WINNER

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 20.—Wayne "Big" Munn, defeated Wallace Duglid in straight falls in the feature match of a wrestling show here last night. Munn used the grapevine hold to obtain both falls, the first coming after 11 minutes and 30 seconds and the second in two minutes, one second.

Joe (Toots) Mondt won in straight falls from Karl Sampson. Howard Cantonwin defeated "Sailor Jack" Lewis in a one-fall match.

WHITE PLAINS SYNDICATE PLANS TO STAGE BOUT IN NEW YORK OR CONNECTICUT ON JULY 2, 1925

Kearns, Champion's Manager, Fails to Reply to Big Offer—Would Build Arena Seating 100,000.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 20.—An offer of $475,000 for a championship bout between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, negro heavyweight, has been made to Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, by a syndicate of Westchester county business men. It was announced today by George E. Doolan, local real estate operator. Doolan refused to reveal the names of his backers.

The syndicate plans to stage the bout in Westchester county or Connecticut on July 2, 1925, and build a $125,000 arena seating 100,000. Doolan said today he had received no reply from Kearns.

The same pipe—the same tobacco —yet it tastes entirely different

The surprising change in character of Burley leaf tobacco after having been "aged in wood"

DID you ever see Burley tobacco as it comes from the farmer's curing barn—a big leaf, dark green-brown in color, "new", unripe? Chew a bit of this leaf, and you'll find it rank, bitter, and unpalatable; smoke it, and you'll get only a hot stinging harshness.

Then open a tin of Velvet, test this same Burley after it has been "aged in wood", and notice the pronounced difference. The green has turned to rich brown, the bitterness has become mellow "body", the bite and harshness have utterly disappeared. What is left is Burley tobacco at its appetizing best—ripe, mild, seasoned, and just right for smoking.

Here, then, are two extremes, green leaf and "aged in wood" tobacco. To make one from the other requires acreage of plant, equipment, and huge sums tied up in tobacco for long unproductive periods—for "ageing in wood" is a tedious and costly process.

Countless experiments have therefore been made in the search for a faster, cheaper method of ripening—experiments ranging from greenhouse "forcing" to bacteriological colonizing; and some of these have been part way successful. But even at their best, the "hurry-up" methods fall somewhere in that intermediate ground between green leaf and ripeness, and far short of the mellow perfection gained by ageing in wood. In all our half century as tobacco manufacturers, we have found nothing that equals ageing in wood to ripen and sweeten tobacco for smoking.

Velvet, therefore, is made entirely of tobacco that has been truly aged—aged in wood. It is made of the highest grade of Kentucky Burley that money can buy, and every ounce of it goes through this mellowing process—nor can you get such mildness, such cool satisfying goodness, in any other way.

Put Velvet in your favorite pipe, and see for yourself what ageing in wood does for tobacco.
