

Supposed Wedding Attendants Make It Double Affair

Bus Owner's Son Marries Locksmith's Daughter on Short Notice After Dash for Ring.

"Love laughs at locksmiths." Vera Jarl, 20, bob-haired and pretty, is a daughter of Carl Jarl, for many years a locksmith at 1703 Leavenworth street.

Wednesday she and Beauford Wall, son of Robert Wall, owner of the Wall Coach line and of the Wall theater in Fremont, ran away to Glenwood, Ia., and were married.

"Mother never given us her blessing yet," said Vera Friday.

"No, but she will," said Beauford, with youthful confidence.

The pair is living for a few days at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jarl, 2518 South Twentieth avenue, till they get an apartment.

So suddenly was their ship launched on the matrimonial sea that they made no provision for a "harbor." It was like this:

Clifton W. Westin, salesman for the Belvidere Printing company, and his fiancée, Edith E. Ekborg, had planned for some time to drive to Glenwood and be married Wednesday. Clifford is Vera's cousin.

Beauford Whispers to Vera.

Beauford and Vera were with them as they were about ready to leave for Glenwood when Beauford suddenly had an idea. He whispered to Vera. She nodded and then Beauford dashed downtown in his roadster, bought a ring and dashed back.

"We'll just make it a double wedding," he announced to the other pair.

"Hot stuff! Let's go," explained Westin.

And they went at a speed that mocked the constables along the country roads.

The Congregational minister at Glenwood, Rev. F. C. Gonzales, tied a good double hitch. The four were hungry by that time and he directed them to the Cozy cafe where they had dinner.

Now for Telling Parents!

Then back to Omaha where a wedding supper was arranged at the home of Westin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Westin, 2109 Miami street. On the way back the job of "telling mother and father" was discussed with some trepidation. It was decided to make a full confession at once.

The elder Jarls were at the supper, being aunt and uncle of young Westin.

"Well, we made it a double wedding," was the announcement of Westin as the two pairs of newlyweds entered.

Mother Cried.

"Mother cried," said the bride, "but it was too late then."

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Wall journeyed to Fremont, where they received the blessing of Wall's parents.

"I certainly have traveled that road a lot in the last year," smiled Mrs. Wall. "After I met Beauford I used to ride back and forth a good deal with him on his bus. He drives one of the five on his father's Omaha-Fremont line with Omaha terminus at the Paxton hotel."

"And I'm going to have a run with terminus in Omaha from now on as long as I drive," said the young bridegroom with a smile at Mrs. Wall.

Court Gives Son of Pilot Hopson to Divorced Wife

Stepmother Wins Battle From Father; Flyer Must Also Pay $150 for Their Support.

Jeannette Hopson was given custody of her stepson, Bobby, 11, by Judge L. B. Day Friday morning. The judge also ordered William C. Hopson, air mail pilot, to pay $150 a month for the support of Mrs. Hopson and his son.

In his decision, the court respected the affection of Bobby Hopson for his stepmother.

"I want to live with my mother. I love my mother," Bobby tearfully told the judge when he testified for his stepmother during the hearing of the suit.

Her Love Wins.

the boy's love for the woman who is not his mother," said Judge Day in handing down his decision. "I have watched this marked affection, which is plain even in the lad's attitude when he accompanies his mother on the street.

"I am giving the child to Mrs. Hopson because here is the fitting and proper custody, not because the father is unfit to care for him."

The judge decreed that Bobby would remain under the jurisdiction of the court and that the father might visit him and contribute toward the lad's entertainment.

Bobby at School.

Mrs. Hopson was in court when the decree was read, but Bobby was in his class at Benson Central school. Hopson did not arrive until after the judge had finished the verdict. His attorneys informed him that his suit for divorce had been denied.

"I'll appeal to the supreme court," he declared.

Mrs. Hopson struggled to appear calm while Judge Day was explaining his decision, but the throbbing of the pulse in her throat was visible across the court room.

As she left the court her exultation conquered reserve.

"Gee, I'm glad," she said.

The news was broken to the boy when he came home from school at noon.

"Hot dog!" he cried, and flung himself into his stepmother's arms.

Two Men Burned Severely in Explosion of Gasoline

Wymore, Nov. 21.—James Johnson and Bert Moroney, workmen employed by Gage county on the construction work on the Cornhusker highway northwest of Wymore, were seriously injured at the road camp about three miles west of Blue Springs when gasoline was accidentally mistaken for kerosene, and an attempt was made to fill a lamp bowl with the gas while the lamp was lighted. An explosion occurred in which Johnson, who was pouring the gas, was severely burned about the hands, arms and face. He was taken to a Beatrice hospital. Moroney, who was farther away from the lamp, was less seriously burned. His injuries being received mostly when he attempted to put out the fire and save his companion, and he was brought to Dr. Peters of Wymore for treatment.

"The Christian Religion and the New Psychology"

This subject will be discussed by Rev. Ralph E. Bailey in the following series of sermons, at the First Unitarian Church, 3114 Harney street, Sundays, at 11 A. M.

Nov. 23—"What Shall We Do With Our Instincts?"

Nov. 30—"Are You the Victim of a Complex?"

Dec. 7—"Is Temperament Destiny?"

Dec. 14—"Must We Curse the Unconscious?"

Dec. 28—"Libido and the Ideal."

These vital questions will be considered from the standpoint of interest in rational living and of devotion to the Christian ideal. You are invited to attend the services. We live in a new world, and we must learn to think its thoughts and use its knowledge.

Cudahy's Puritan Hams and Bacon

THANKSGIVING—the day that justly calls for something different and better. This year make the day a real success by making it a complete Puritan Thanksgiving.

For breakfast—Puritan Bacon or Pork Sausage; for the main meal—a whole Puritan Ham; and then, for the evening bite—slices of cold Puritan Ham.

Finer flavor and greater tenderness are assured in Puritan Hams and Bacon because they are ripened naturally.

The rich juices of the selected young meats used for Puritan have not only been retained by the special Cudahy cure, but they have been properly diffused. Puritan meats are therefore good through and through—flavor, sweet, juicy and tender. Depend upon Puritan to make your Thanksgiving repeat a real success.
