

British Unloose Cannon on Native Troops in Sudan

Fourteen Killed as Big Guns Wreck House Sheltering
Body of Mutinous
Soldiers.

By International News Service.
Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 29.—Wherever Egypt turned tonight it stared into the throat of a cannon.

For the first time since agitation seized the country over Britain's reprisals for the murder of Sir Lee Stack, Sudan's governor general, artillery was used upon the natives this afternoon.

Big guns tore down a house in Khartoum, wherein the mutinous Sudanese troops who killed three doctors in attacking a hospital had harried themselves. Fourteen natives were killed and those of the mutineers not killed were captured by the English troops.

That was only one of the messenger reports of violence that seeped through slashed telegraph wires from Khartoum. There came also reports of mob fighting in the streets, but the serious consequences mentioned were not described fully.

Warning was broadcast throughout the country this evening that any more attempts at rebellion would be met with executions before firing squads. Sudanese troops were cautioned that members of any organization in which mutiny originated would be executed—a practice in use in military organizations of many countries to induce non-mutinyers to report the activities of rebellion for-matters.

British reinforcements from the English troops in the Sudan are on their way south. Heavy guard is being kept over all munitions to prevent Egyptians, whose stocks are low, from replenishing them.

The British are preparing for further outbreaks in the Sudan, although violence in that country has been confined thus far to Khartoum.

Pola Negri has just bought a new 16-room house in Hollywood. The star, who recently completed "For-bidden Paradise," plans to go to Europe in the spring and sell her estate in Poland. She will make her permanent home in California.

Omaha Youth Heads State Hi-Y Clubs

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Columbus, Neb., Nov. 29.—Joseph Reeves, student at South Omaha High school, was today elected president of the Nebraska "Hi-Y" boys at the state-wide older boys' conference sessions. Elton Fee of Lincoln was elected vice president, Neil Goman of Albion secretary and Ray McCanaha of Tekamah treasurer.

The meeting place for the next convention will be chosen at the Sunday session, Hastings, Fremont and Beatrice delegations are bidding for the 1925 conference.

Helping boys in high school choose the life work they like best and are most fitted for forms the principal theme of the convention, and delegations from 63 Nebraska towns, totalling 400 boys, are telling of the work accomplished in this direction.

Local Hi-Y organizations should call in men of every trade and profession to tell of both the hardships and advantages of their life work. Y. M. C.
A. workers and educators of Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado told the conference Saturday.

The Saturday afternoon sessions included viewing of a film of Lincoln's life, and an outdoor recreation trip to Camp Sheldon, state Y. M. C. A. camp. Sessions are to continue all Sunday.

STATE HOUSE READY SOON

Lincoln, Nov. 29.—Nebraska's new state house will be ready for occupancy within a month, Governor Bryan announced today. Roy Cochran, state engineer, Tom Carroll, state architect, and H. J. Paul, adjutant general, have been directed to vacate on January 1 of the downtown offices they have been occupying for several years.

The state capitol commission has asked for bids for tearing down the old state house. These bids will be presented to the legislature for approval. Two plans of the new state house have been left open in order to permit tearing down of the old capitol as soon as sufficient work had been done on the new one to house state officers.

BENSON SOCIETY

Benson Woman's Club.
Mrs. C. N. Wolfe, 2927 North Fifty-eighth street, will be hostess Thursday, December 4, to the members of the Benson Woman's club. This last program for the year 1924 will be put on by the members of the music and drama departments, Mesdames M. Feirman and C. C. Beavers, leaders. Choral numbers, solos and duets will be rendered by the members of music department, namely: Mesdames M. Feirman, E. N. Carson, C. B.
Crisman, C. H. Runsteen, A. A. Williams, A. H. Adams, W. O. Yale, E. A.
Mason, E. W. Moseley and G. W.
Ulmer. Mrs. M. J. Hedlund, accompanist.

Mesdames George Norquist, Mervin Ross, D. C. Stafford and B. H. Marshall will stage the playlet, "Lonesome Melk." Community singing of Christmas carols will be an added feature to the regular scheduled program.

Thanksgiving Celebration.
We all celebrate Thanksgiving day with a dinner and "good things to eat," but few of us have the pleasure of sitting at a table covered with a linen cloth, the pattern of which was designed by a princess. This treat was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs.
G. W. Hamilton and sons, Barton and Frederick, and daughters, Eleonora and Margaret Louise; Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph E. Barton and son, Joseph G. and daughter, Barbara; Miss Margaret Hamilton of Omaha and Mr.
Thomas Hamilton of Richfield, Neb., who were entertained at Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Barton. The linen table cloth, whose pattern of shamrock, rose and thistle tied together with the "true lover's knot" was designed by Queen Victoria's daughter, the Princess Louise, whose marriage to marquis of Lorne was celebrated in 1871. Princess Louise designed the patterns for all her lace and linens before her wedding; and Edward Roddis, father of Mrs. Joseph Barton, traveling aboard at that time, secured the linen cloth upon which this 1924 Thanksgiving dinner was spread.

Association Directors Meet.
The directors of the Mutual Savings and Loan association, which was recently organized, held their regular business meeting Tuesday evening, J. J. Dods of the Dods Lumber company is president. Other members include: H. S. Daniels, E.
W. Hole, secretary of the Carpenter Paper company; Paul J. Volmer, Carl Johnson, H. L. Rivett of the Rivett Lumber company; N. H. Tyson, president of the Bank of Benson, and J. T. Pickard, vice president of the Bank of Benson.

O. E. S. Business Session.
The next regular business session of Narcissus chapter of the O. E. S. will be held Thursday evening, December 4, in the I. O. O. F. hall. The O. E. S. annual bazaar will be held December 17 and 18 in the courthouse rotunda.

Thanksgiving Dinner Parties. of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gleason, who is in her senior year at St. Mary academy, Notre Dame, Ind., spent her Thanksgiving vacation season with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gleason of Chicago.

Sunday Dinner Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Austin and daughter, Irene, of Omaha, and Mrs.
Robert Smith of Fort Smith, Ark., were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mrs. James Maney.

Thanksgiving Festival a Success.
The Thanksgiving festival entertainment Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian church was a decided success.
From a social, financial and amusement standpoint. The money brought into the church treasury by the organized efforts of the united societies of the church was more than enough to pay for the recent improvements made upon the church property.

Thanksgiving Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitch entertained at dinner Thursday, when covers were spread for the Misses Iola and Gladys Robinson of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Rasmussen of Cedar Bluffs and Mr. and Mrs.
Fitch.

Entertains at Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. George Remington entertained at a family Thanksgiving dinner of 13 covers. Guests included:
Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smith and sons, Robert and James; Mr. and Mrs. R.
J. Hoyt, R. C. Hoyt and daughter, Betty.
Mrs. E. L. Hoyt and daughter, Betty.

Entertains at Reading.
Mrs. H. W. Gross entertained with a group of selected readings Monday afternoon at the B. B. chapter of the P. E. O. program put on at Old People's home on Fontenelle boulevard.

Entertains at High Five.

Robert, returned Saturday from Tarkio, Mo., where they spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Oliver's cousin, Mr. Tully Smith and Mrs.
Tully Smith.

Mr. H. Gross arrived home Wednesday from Minneapolis to spend Thanksgiving.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Loechner spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Loechner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Senger of Ashland, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Parker went to Blair to celebrate Thanksgiving day.
