

Omaha and Blair Schools to Debate

Central High Team to Argue That U. S. Should Enter League of Nations.

Blair, Dec. 4.—Blair High school debating season will open with a debate against Central High of Omaha January 22, at Blair.

January 31, Blair High will meet Fort Dodge, Ia., at Blair. Fort Dodge has won the Iowa state championship in debate three times, hence this debate may involve the settlement of an interstate championship. It is hoped to arrange a debate with the Sioux City team in February.

The question for debate is "Resolved, That the United States Should Enter the League of Nations." Blair will uphold the affirmative in the Ft. Dodge debate, and the negative in the Omaha Central debate.

At a meeting here of all Washington county superintendents it was decided to organize a Washington county declamatory association. A competition was adopted and the following officers were elected: President, Supt. D. V. Maser, Blair; treasurer, Supt. Frank Brokaw, Arlington; secretary, Supt. Noel Seney, Herman. It was decided to hold the first county contest at Blair on the first Friday in February.

Washington county superintendents have organized a county schoolmasters' club for mutual improvement in the profession and social gatherings.

Meetings will be held once each month on Saturdays, in the different towns of the county. The home superintendent is to be the host and chairman of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at Arlington, December 13, Supt. Frank Brokaw will preside as host.

The following school men are charter members: Supt. C. W. Kelso, Ft. Calhoun; Supt. Harold Herman, Kennerly; Supt. Hoel Seney, Herman;

Supt. T. H. Broka, Arlington; Supt. D. V. Maser, Blair; Principal P. L. Moore, Blair.

15 Stanton County Aliens Admitted to Citizenship

Stanton, Dec. 4.—Naturalization papers were granted to 15 men living in Stanton county by Judge A. A. Welch of Wayne. There were 30 applicants, but half of them were unable to answer satisfactorily the questions asked. The following were the successful applicants: Arthur A. Schulz and Anton Krejci of Stanton, Frank Truhlar, Frank Urbanek, Rudolph F. Podny, James L. Dytrych and Vaclav Dytrych of Clarkson; Frank Machacek, Hugo Busch and Joseph Kahls of Leigh, Ernest Long and Carl Long of Madison, Herman Klichevan of Pilger, Chris Jensen of Wisner, and John Smejkal of Howells.

Farmers Plan to Hold Stock for Higher Prices

Callaway, Dec. 4.—Fewer farm sales are being held in this section of the state this fall than for a number of years. Most of the farmers plan to hold their stock for higher prices.

The U. S. Ellison farm sale near Shea, Neb., west of here, was largely attended, good prices being the rule for farm machinery and stock. Mr. Ellison has sold his 80-acre farm for $177.50 an acre.

R. D. Deist, farmer and stock raiser living near Cortland, will hold a public sale at his place soon. He intends to locate in Keith county, Neb., where he will engage in stock raising on a larger scale.

Trammen Favor Regulation of Motor Bus Traffic by Law

Alliance, Dec. 4.—Resolutions endorsing regulation of motor buses and trucks in Nebraska by law were passed by the local branch of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The union also endorsed L. B. Frye for reappointment as labor commissioner. J. F. Nordick was re-elected chairman and C. H. Bressler, secretary.

Woman Horticulturist Raises Winter Vegetables in Her Garden at Wymore

Wymore, Dec. 4.—Mrs. L. E. Doseck, old resident of Wymore, has fresh green lettuce, radishes, celery and onions in her garden on the back of the lot at her home, and it appears that she will still have them on Christmas day.

The lettuce and radish beds are exposed to the sunlight each day, but are carefully protected when there is no sunlight. This is done by a covering of burlap sacks, sewed together to form a sheet, which is spread over the vegetables on a frame of upright stakes stuck in the ground at intervals throughout the bed. This affords protection and does not crush down the growing vegetables.

The celery is protected, and bleached at the same time, by a wrapping of each plant with newspapers.

Hog Thought Dead Bites Off Finger of Butcher

Bridgeport, Dec. 4.—George Richardson, a farmer near Guernsey, is minus the forefinger on his right hand, which was bitten off by a hog he thought dead, but which crushed his hand between its teeth. It is doubtful if all the remaining fingers can be saved. He had struck the hog in the head with an ax, and when it fell to the floor, apparently dead, he reached out to take hold of its leg and stick it with a knife when the animal suddenly grabbed his hand in its mouth and began chewing.

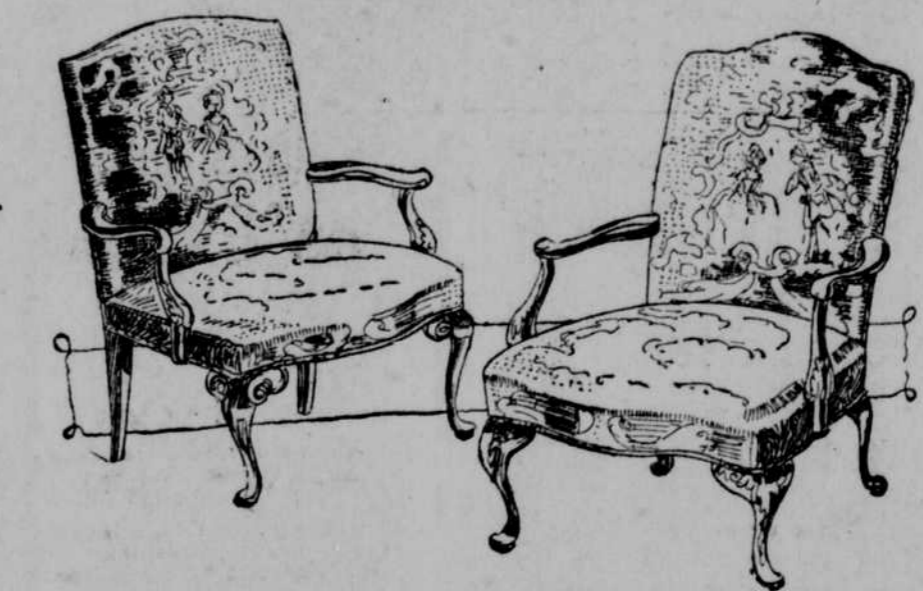

Warning to Pupils.

J. H. Beveridge, superintendent of schools, issued a warning to school children Thursday against walking beneath trees coated with ice. Several children were painfully cut last year by falling ice.
