Noted Attorney to Talk in Omaha

Former Solicitor General Under President Taft to Discuss Supreme Court.

William Marshall Bullitt of Louis ville, Ky., believes that if one can 10 a. m., the rest of the day will take care of itself. This has been his practice for years.

He arrived in Omaha Saturday morning to deliver an address before the Palimpsest club Saturday night at the Omaha club on "The Supreme Court and the Constitution." John L. Webster will preside.

His first observation after becom ing orientated at the Hotel Fontenelle, was to recall that during his visit here in August, 1918, the temperature was 110 in the shade and Omaha was one of the warmest spots A Curious Thing.

Discussing national politics across the breakfast table, Mr. Bullett stated that it is a curious thing that such astute politicians as Bryan in 1896, Roosevelt in 1912 and LaFollette and Wheeler in 1924, completely misinterpreted and misjudged the opinion of the great mass of the people with respect to congress on one hand and the courts on the other.

Former Solicitor General.

The people have great confidence in the courts as such," he said, "They distrust the legislative branch, both tion of surrendering the power of the courts whom they trust to the legislative branch whom they distrust; and the politicians who have sought to make an issue of the courts and to limit their power or recall their deregarding legislative and judicial branches of the government.

This southerner believes that the tional election last month was "The 25 times. people believe in Coolidge."

Mr. Bullitt served as solicitor general of the United States for a period during the administration of William Howard Taft, he is editor of Bullitt's civil and criminal code of Kentucky. served as special counsel for the United States shipping board and the United States Shipping Board Emergenecy Fleet corporation.
