

SOCIETY AND WOMAN'S PAGE

Santa Claus Will Visit Children's Institutions

JUNIOR LEAGUE members are planning in their usual efficient manner for Christmas parties on the afternoon of December 24 at the institutions in which they are especially interested, the University of Nebraska hospital, where they work in the children's ward, and the Day Nursery.

Mrs. John Redick is chairman for the hospital festivities. She is assisted by Mesdames George Redick, Charles Metz, Charles Benton, John Caldwell, Misses Frances Patton and Eleanor Burley and others who are on the hospital committee. They are decorating a tree in most gorgeous array. Presents, oranges and candy will be given the little ones. Entertainment will be provided, including probably, carols.

Mrs. Louis S. Clarke heads the nursery group. She is assisted by Mesdames Walter Roberts, C. Louis Meyer, Ross Towle, Perry Hendricks, Lester Klapp, Wynne Megeath (president) and Misses Katherine Denny and Margaret Baum.

With the aid of Malcolm Baldrige, Santa Claus will be imported for the occasion. A useful present and a toy will be given each child, as well as candles, apples and oranges.

Crippled Children's Home. Altruism club will sponsor the Christmas party at the Hattie B. Monroe Home for Crippled Children. A group of women from the Athletic club has assisted them with sewing. Each child has written a letter to Santa Claus and the requests made of the good saint will be answered. Miss Belle Ryan is in charge. She says everything is provided except the turkeys for Christmas dinner.

Nebraska Children's Home. Lions club members will put on an old-fashioned Christmas party Tuesday night, December 23, at the Protestant Mite club, when children from the Nebraska Children's home will be guests. Dolls, skates and drums and all the other traditional articles from Santa's pack will be distributed with generous hand. On Christmas day at the home little red stockings from over the state will be opened. Walnut Hill school is furnishing a tree.

Visiting Nurse Association. Individual families in some cases more greatly in need of necessities than the well-served institutional children, are perhaps less well provided for. The Associated Charities goes far on the way of caring for them. The Visiting Nurse association is making heroic efforts to take Christmas cheer into cheerless homes. Any persons or organization wishing to help some worthy family may obtain name and information from the association.

The Mothers' Guild, of which Mrs. William Foran is president, will provide candy and nuts for Father Flanagan's boys. St. James Orphanage is providing its own tree and Christmas service.

Additional Affairs for Charles W. Brown. Friday evening Miss Irene Carter will entertain at a bridge party at her home for Charles W. Brown of Boston, former of Winifred Smith; Sunday evening Miss Willow O'Brien will entertain at supper at her home, Monday Miss Smith will be hostess at a buffet supper at her home; Tuesday Miss De Weenta Conrad will entertain at a buffet supper at home and Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mallory will entertain at dinner and Christmas celebration at her home.

For Burke Adams. Mrs. Frank L. Adams will entertain at supper Sunday evening, December 28, at their home, honoring their son, Burke, who is in Chicago now enroute home from the east to spend the holidays.

The Baxters Hosts. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Baxter will entertain at a buffet supper on December 29 at their home for their daughters, the Misses Katherine and Eleanore.

Miss Shields Hostess. Miss Mildred Shields has issued 12 invitations for a luncheon to be given at the Brandeis restaurants Tuesday, December 30.

Birth Announcements. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Cronland announce the birth of a son December 17, at Omaha Maternity hospital. Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Zumwinkle of Lincoln announce the birth of a son December 16, at Omaha Maternity hospital.

The Housewife's Idea Box

Do Not Throw Away Celery Leaves. Do not throw away celery leaves. Cut them up and make a delicious cream celery soup out of them. Or allow them to dry, put them away in a jar and use them for flavoring sauces and soups.

ASK for Horlick's THE ORIGINAL Malted Milk

Safe Milk and Diet For Infants, Invalids, the Aged, Nursing Mothers, Children, etc.

Best Diet for Invalids

A well-balanced, palatable, easily assimilated diet that nourishes and up-builds. Use at meals, between meals, or on retiring. Endorsed by physicians for over 40 years.

Prepared at home in a minute by briskly stirring the powder in hot or cold water. No cooking.

THE HOUSEWIFE. (Copyright, 1924.)

So Nifty! So Gifty! Handkerchiefs In Pretty Christmas Boxes 19c 39c 59c F. W. Thorne Co. 1812 Farnam St.

JOHN HENRICKSON The Jeweler Established 1882 DIAMONDS, SILVERWARE CHIME CLOCKS, WATCHES Open Evenings Until Christmas Walk Two Blocks and Buy for Less N. E. Cor. 16th and Capitol

Past Events Mrs. Jean Noyes entertained the R. C. bridge luncheon club at her home Wednesday.

Pythian Sisters Dinner. Lillian Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will serve a chicken pie dinner at their clubrooms, 1517 Capitol avenue, Saturday, December 20, from 5 to 7 p. m. This will be open to the public.

Mrs. Harold Elarth and 6-year-old daughter, Sonrisa, have arrived to remain for a year with Dr. and Mrs. William J. McCann, parents of Mrs. Elarth. Captain Elarth, who is military inspector at the Jesuit college, Manila, has had his appointment extended for three years. Mrs. Elarth first went to Manila 11 years ago as a bride.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. Lulah T. Andrews, executive secretary of the national P. E. O. society, with offices in Omaha, has been appointed by Miss Adella Prichard, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, to a membership on the committee for the "Independent Women," the organ of the national federation. Miss Mary Stewart of Washington, D. C., is chairman of this committee. Mrs. Andrews was formerly president of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Miss Ruth Barton, who attends the University of Nebraska, will arrive Friday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barton.

Mrs. Rose to Entertain for Son on New Year's Eve. Mrs. Halleck Rose has issued 75 invitations for a dancing party at the University club New Year's eve, honoring her son, Halleck, Jr., who will be home from Hill school, Pottstown, Pa., for the holidays. The hour has been set at 9:30.

Dinner parties are being planned by various hostesses to precede the dancing, which will begin at 9:30.

Mrs. Lord Honored. Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Your Problems

by Martha Allen

Bright Eyes: The thing for you to do is to get out of the picture. A girl should never interfere in the love affairs of a friend. It is an unnatural thing to do. In a show down, a girl usually stands by her lover anyway, so a girl is only making trouble for herself when she tries to interfere, even when her motives are good.

Hazel H: I do not conduct any agency through which it is possible for young men and young women to meet and therefore do not expect to give out your address to young men correspondents. Also it would be contrary to the policy of this column to furnish you with the addresses of the young men who write to me.

Broken Hearted: If you are so much in love with the girl and believe she cares for you, why not resume your friendship? I fear, however, a girl who is so changeable and erratic in her friendships will not give you much real companionship.

Perplexed: Yes, send your wedding gift to the bride's home. Wear your prettiest party dress to the wedding. A young man making a call ought to leave by 10:30 or 11 o'clock.

Dolly: Don't give him a costly gift—not unless you're engaged. If he is your fiance, send him what your pocketbook, good taste, head and heart approve.

But if he's just a good friend send him a simple, impersonal expression of friendliness—his favorite novel, his favorite cigars—or just a card.

To send an expensive, elaborate present would put under obligations to you a man who has not signified he cares to be under obligations to you—who hasn't proved that he cares to win your love.

When it comes to spending money, let's spend it on those who need it most this Christmas. Let's send food and clothing and good cheer to the little children of the poor.

But you'll find that if you're imbued with the real Christmas spirit, your simple greeting or friendly card will carry its happy message to the young man you like so well.

Mrs. Lulah T. Andrews, executive secretary of the national P. E. O. society, with offices in Omaha, has been appointed by Miss Adella Prichard, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, to a membership on the committee for the "Independent Women," the organ of the national federation. Miss Mary Stewart of Washington, D. C., is chairman of this committee. Mrs. Andrews was formerly president of the Nebraska Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Miss Ruth Barton, who attends the University of Nebraska, will arrive Friday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Barton.

Mrs. Rose to Entertain for Son on New Year's Eve. Mrs. Halleck Rose has issued 75 invitations for a dancing party at the University club New Year's eve, honoring her son, Halleck, Jr., who will be home from Hill school, Pottstown, Pa., for the holidays. The hour has been set at 9:30.

Dinner parties are being planned by various hostesses to precede the dancing, which will begin at 9:30.

Mrs. Lord Honored. Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

Mrs. L. M. Lord has been invited to be a member of the receiving line at the fourth annual luncheon of the Women's National Republican club, which will be given in New York City at the Waldorf Astoria January 10. The honor is a recognition of Mrs. Lord's services locally as chairman of republican women here.

A Wife's Confessional

Adele Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE (Copyright, 1924.)

What Alfred Forgot to Tell Madge and Junior. Shaking with laughter, little Mrs. Durkee stooped and laid her baby granddaughter in Junior's arms.

"The size of him!" she murmured in my ear as she straightened herself again while Alfred unobtrusively coiled himself in front of my small son that there might be no possible danger of a tumble for the precious bundle the boy was holding.

The apprehensive father might have saved himself the trouble, however. With a little rush of maternal pride, I saw that Junior, but little past his own babyhood, yet so funny and precocious that one is apt to forget how few years are his, held the tiny new baby in a firm protecting clasp that nothing save force could loosen.

I think we all realized that at the same moment and transferred our attention to the ludicrous appraising look the small boy was bestowing upon the bundle in his arms, which he just had heralded as the "girl," about whom Katie was forever teasing him.

"Do you hear me?" he shouted, putting his face down close to that of the baby, evidently under the impression that the wonderful new comer was deaf. "You're my girl, Katie!" imperatively. "Please come here. Is this the one you said?"

Katie, scarlet-faced and half hysterical from choking back her giggles, came over to him promptly, and Alfred, springing to his feet, motioned her to take the place he had occupied. She lost no time in obeying him, and crumpling in front of Junior, extended her arms hungrily so that they enfolded both my little lad and his burden.

"You bet your boots, Junior," she said with fervor. "You no find better vun dan dees vun' eef you so thousand miles."

He pondered the assurance for a few seconds, then nodded his head gravely.

"All right," he said satisfactorily. "I'll take her home. Mama, please start the car."

"Oh, young Lochinvar is come out of the west!" Alfred murmured and then added in even a lower tone: "Mrs. Madge, this is decidedly your cross word puzzle. I'm out of it."

"Coward—coward!" I chanted. "If this is going to be your attitude toward your daughter's suitors—"

"I'll Take Her Home. "Suitors" he retorted. "Who said anything about suitors. If you're mentioning wild west movie abductors, now—"

A lusty wall interrupted him, and

FURS Christmas Furs at Reduced Prices NATIONAL FUR & TANNING CO. 1921-29 S. 15th St. AT 9822

Miss Information

GIMME A JOB FOR THE HOLIDAYS? H'M! DO YOU EVER DO ANY SANTA CLAUSING?

every pair of eyes in the room was turned upon the screwed-up baby face and upon the ludicrously started countenance of the little lad who held her. With a swift practiced movement, little Mrs. Durkee dove past the barrier of Katie's outstretched arms and snatched up her first grandchild.

"Bess her baby heart!" she crooned, cuddling the tiny creature close against her shoulder. "Was her all frightened all by her loney wifout her old grandmother?"

Junior struggled to his feet, his face bewildered and angry.

"What's the matter with her?" he demanded.

"Temperament, dear boy," the young lady's father informed him smiling. "You'll learn more about it later on. She probably objected to your cave man tactics. They're a trifle out of date this year."

"Stop teasing him, Alfred," Mrs. Durkee and I uttered the words together, but the command fell flat, for my small son paid no attention whatever to Mrs. Durkee's teasing.

Instead Junior contemplated the screaming infant with hard bright-eyed attention. He was all unconscious of the fact that we were watching him, and after a tense second or two, turned away with a lofty air and laconic comment which confused us almost to tears.

"She needs a spanking," he said. "Take her away. I don't want her that way. When she can be good, I'll take her home."

"Men have been done to death for slighter cause than that, my lad," Alfred began when he could control his risibles, but I put up a warning hand.

I had seen, what the others had not, the quiver of my little lad's lips as he marched toward the door, and I realized that though he did not know the meaning of the words, his sensitive little soul resented the galling, friendly though it was.

So I was not surprised to see the sturdy little figure first falter and then turn and run to me, burying his head in my lap with a loud wail.

For an astonished second no one spoke. Then as the doorbell pealed, Alfred Durkee crossed hurriedly to my side and picked up the sobbing boy, holding him tight in spite of his struggles.

"Do you hear that bell?" he demanded. "That's to tell your uncle Alfred what a bad man he was to forget that your daddy telephoned he was coming out here this morning. Let's go to meet him and forget there ever were any foolish things like women in the world."

A contest for the best dressmakers' apprentice in Paris was recently conducted by the Concours d'Arpettes, organized by the trade union at the Institute Professionnelle Feminin for a prize of 15,000 francs. All the contestants are under 15 years of age.

Miss Information

GIMME A JOB FOR THE HOLIDAYS? H'M! DO YOU EVER DO ANY SANTA CLAUSING?

every pair of eyes in the room was turned upon the screwed-up baby face and upon the ludicrously started countenance of the little lad who held her. With a swift practiced movement, little Mrs. Durkee dove past the barrier of Katie's outstretched arms and snatched up her first grandchild.

"Bess her baby heart!" she crooned, cuddling the tiny creature close against her shoulder. "Was her all frightened all by her loney wifout her old grandmother?"

Junior struggled to his feet, his face bewildered and angry.

"What's the matter with her?" he demanded.

"Temperament, dear boy," the young lady's father informed him smiling. "You'll learn more about it later on. She probably objected to your cave man tactics. They're a trifle out of date this year."

"Stop teasing him, Alfred," Mrs. Durkee and I uttered the words together, but the command fell flat, for my small son paid no attention whatever to Mrs. Durkee's teasing.

Instead Junior contemplated the screaming infant with hard bright-eyed attention. He was all unconscious of the fact that we were watching him, and after a tense second or two, turned away with a lofty air and laconic comment which confused us almost to tears.

"She needs a spanking," he said. "Take her away. I don't want her that way. When she can be good, I'll take her home."

"Men have been done to death for slighter cause than that, my lad," Alfred began when he could control his risibles, but I put up a warning hand.

I had seen, what the others had not, the quiver of my little lad's lips as he marched toward the door, and I realized that though he did not know the meaning of the words, his sensitive little soul resented the galling, friendly though it was.

So I was not surprised to see the sturdy little figure first falter and then turn and run to me, burying his head in my lap with a loud wail.

For an astonished second no one spoke. Then as the doorbell pealed, Alfred Durkee crossed hurriedly to my side and picked up the sobbing boy, holding him tight in spite of his struggles.

"Do you hear that bell?" he demanded. "That's to tell your uncle Alfred what a bad man he was to forget that your daddy telephoned he was coming out here this morning. Let's go to meet him and forget there ever were any foolish things like women in the world."

A contest for the best dressmakers' apprentice in Paris was recently conducted by the Concours d'Arpettes, organized by the trade union at the Institute Professionnelle Feminin for a prize of 15,000 francs. All the contestants are under 15 years of age.

Hominy and Sausage Dressing, Cost 50 Cents.

This is a very appetizing dressing and is delicious made into small cakes, fried crisp and brown and served with the cold turkey on the following day. Cook sufficient hominy in salted water to give three cups when cooked. Season to taste ## with paprika and celery salt and add a quarter of a cup of sausage meat (uncooked). Work the meat well into the hominy and add half a cup of chopped celery tops and a tablespoonful of grated onion. This quantity will fill a 10-pound bird.

Bee Want Ads Produce Results.

Christmas Shopping Would Not Be Complete Without a

$500 Hospe Window

Values to $15.00 and sell regularly up to that figure!

Bohemian Glass Bowl and Candelstick, three pieces, in yellow, red and orange. Attractive Smoking Stands. Hand Mirrors, beveled plate. Torchieres.

Lamps with Shades, many attractive designs. Billboards of real steer hide and English Morocco. Bohemian Vases, with silver etched decorations. Book-ends of iron, such subjects as the "Thinker," "Indian Head" and "Walter Scott."

Nut Bowls, of wood, with Polychrome finish.

PICTURES

Rheims Cathedral. The Rose Window. Age of Innocence. Where the Dinkey Bird Sings. Air Castles. The popular "Poppy" subject. The Queen's Terrace. Arthur Garret.

Stately Sentinels. R. Atkinson Fox. Canadian Landscape. R. Atkinson Fox. Where the Shamrock Grows. R. Atkinson Fox. Dawn. R. Atkinson Fox. Parquarson. Harp of the Winds. Martin. Spring Song. Glucksk. The King's Garden. Arthur Garret.

REAL WOOD PLAQUES

Such beautiful subjects as: Boy and Rabbit, Sistine Madonna, Cleopatra, by Maxfield Parrish; Floral Subjects. Plaques are in pastel shades to suit.

A. Hospe Co.

1513 Douglas St.

Pennsylvania Anthracite

After All The Best Coal Any Size You Prefer

UPDIKE LUMBER & COAL CO.

WA Int 0300

LAMP CLEANUP SALE

Friday and Saturday Only

AT ELECTRIC SHOP

15th and Farnam Streets

These Lamps Make Beautiful Christmas Gifts

"Give Her Leisure for Christmas This Year"

Special Reduced Prices on These Lamps

$42<sup>50</sup>