State Teachers'

Fame to Address Four-Day Assembly in Omaha.

Omaha will wind up its busiest convention year December 29 to January 1 by entertaining the teachers of Nebraska at the midwinter meeting at the Nebraska State Teachers' association, December 29 to Jan-

Four general sessions and 26 departmental and sectional conferences have been arranged on the program with speeches by experts from schools in all parts of the country. Entertainment will feature the evening sessions and several of the sectional and general sessions.

In the first general session Monday night, Dr. Rolla. G. Reynolds of Columbia university, and Dr. William O. McLaughlin McAndrews, superintendent of schools of Chicago, will be the speakers. The Concord club saxophone orchestra will play and students of the Misner chool will present a playlet, "Aladdin's Lamp."

In the general session Tuesday morning the speakers will be Dr John W. Stout of Northwestern university, I. C. Oberlies of the state board of control and Uel W. Lambkin, president of the Missouri State Teachers' college. Pupils of Mary Cooper will give a demonstration of

More than 600 reservations have been made for the Brandels restaurants where the festivities will continue through the night, winding up with a New Year's breakfast. Hotel Fontenelle will be the scene of an immense dining, dancing and supping. At the Athletic club the celebration will start at 10 and continue to the wee, sma' hours.

The Strand, Rialto, World, Empress, Sun and numerous other picture and vaudeville houses will put on special shows from 11 to 1. Public dancing establishments will keep the music going far past the nidnight hours. There will be no liquor anywhere, at least so says Elmer Thomas, pro ibition agent for Nebraska.

Numerous churches have arranged for watch services. Some of these will start with church suppers at 6, followed by devotional and entertain ment hours until the new year has grown an hour or two old.
