

Monday Musical Club Plays Haydn's Toy Symphony at Masquerade

Perhaps the performance of Haydn's Toy Symphony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nelson, Monday evening lacked perfection of technique, but it was replete with spirit and feeling.

at fashion at the throat. She also wore a white peasant hat. Charles McArdle and Elsa Reese came in Scotch costumes, and Miss Reese sang the 'Highland Fling,' as her partner sang 'Highland Lauder numbers.' Miss Nina Garrett wore the only musical costume. A piece of jazz for it was a pink organdie frock covered with dancing black notes.

Miss Cole Complimented.

First Methodist Aid society members who will present Miss Irene Cole in concert at the church the evening of Tuesday, January 13, received word yesterday from Mrs. William Archibald Smith of Los Angeles, formerly of Omaha, that "Miss Cole sings like a nightingale." On her recent visit to California, Miss Cole sang for the Omaha Luncheon club at Los Angeles, all members being further residents of this city.

New Bridge Club Formed.

Last week at the home of Mrs. Robert Ingwersen a bridge club was formed which will hold its first meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. D. Clark. The members include Mesdames Ingwersen, Clark, Byrne, Holmquist, Misses Mary Findley, Margaret Harter, Wilcox, and Ebyen, Miriam White and Ruth Wallace.

The Harms Entertain.

Mrs. E. H. Harms will be hostess at a bridge-luncheon at her home on Thursday. On Tuesday, January 13, Mr. and Mrs. Harms will entertain at a dinner.

Your Problems

Should I Divorce My Husband? Dear Miss Allen: I am 29 and have had a lot of trouble in my married life. My husband ran with other women and he never gave me any money. We have been married two years and he is planning to be married as soon as I get a divorce. I will get it in December. My heart hurts, but I guess this is the only thing to do. There is a young man I went with who is still single and he seems to like me. I believe he would make a good husband, but he drinks a little. Would it be my place to write to him or not? BROKEN HEARTED.

It would not be your place to write to your former sweetheart. Simply insist that if he still loves you he will keep in touch with you enough to learn that you have a divorce. Besides the very fact that he drinks is enough to keep you from marrying him. Do not set about to find another husband because you have lost your first. Marriage is a serious matter and you should be very sure the next time you marry that you are not making a mistake.

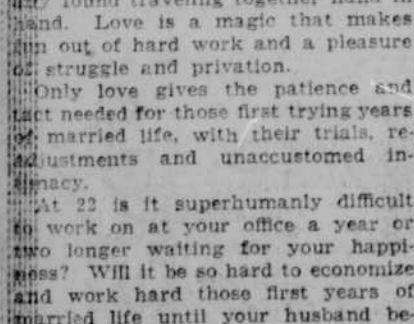

Lillian: When it comes to marriage there's no room for choice between love and liking. Love doesn't bring happiness, some say, but that happiness and love are usually found traveling together hand in hand. Love is a magic that makes you out of hard work and a pleasure of struggle and privation. Only love gives the patience and tact needed for those first trying years of married life, with their trials, adjustments and unaccustomed intimacy.

At 22 it is superhumanly difficult to work on at your office a year or two longer waiting for your happiness? Will it be so hard to economize and work hard those first years of married life until your husband begins to make his way as a lawyer? Frankly, for 22 I believe a little privation and much hard work are preferable to extreme comfort, which sometimes has a smothering effect on ambition and happiness.

Why do you so underestimate the man who has asked you to be his wife? To doubt whether he can be true to his love for two years? Have you so little faith in him and your own charm? If you distrust him you don't love him—be sure of that. For love includes trust.

Just for the sake of argument, let's suppose he will change while you're waiting for him and you will lose his love? Won't you be glad at least that you found out his undependability before marrying him?

The Housewife's Idea Box

To Sharpen the Point of a Hatpin. If the point of a hatpin becomes blunted sharpen it on a piece of sandpaper or emery board. Sharpen first on a coarse piece then on a finer piece.

THE HOUSEWIFE. (Copyright, 1924.)

Woman's Club to Meet at Y. W. C. A.

The Omaha Woman's club will hold its open meetings at the Y. W. C. A. for the remainder of the year. Until the first of this year they were held at the Burgess-Nash auditorium.

Mrs. Paul Perryman, state president of the federated clubs, who is visiting clubs in this district for a few days, was a guest and speaker at the meeting of the club Monday. She was presented by Mrs. Owen Jones, district president. Mrs. Perryman spoke chiefly of a clubhouse for the Omaha club.

Once each year the club holds a memorial service. Yesterday was chosen for this ceremony. Bishop E. V. Shaylor gave an excellent short address on the quality of service rendered in the past by club women, and recommended the example of those who have departed for those who are carrying on. The memorial members were Mrs. C. L. Fisher, Mrs. W. W. Marsh, Mrs. Veretta Crane-Racon, Mrs. W. S. Knight, Mrs. A. J. Sampson, Mrs. E. F. Marshall, Mrs. Villa A. Criss and Mrs. Bruce R. Kramer.

Each member of the directory of the club will receive a copy of the General Federation News, which heretofore has gone only to the president. The program of the day was in charge of Edith May Miller. An outstanding group of numbers was given by Rex Fair of the University School of Music, Lincoln, who played three flute numbers. Miss Fern Ferre also of Lincoln, was pianist.

Mrs. Fred Ellis was accorded special recognition for her directorship of the Girls' Glee club of Technical High school which sang. Mrs. J. R. Cain, accompanied by Mrs. Willis Redfield sang a beautiful group in connection with the memorial service.

Birth Announcements. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Langton announce the birth of a daughter at St. Joseph hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. L. A. Sanders announce the birth of a son, January 4, at Methodist hospital.

Three baby girls were born at Omaha Maternity hospital Sunday. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Barja, Mr. and Mrs. C. Duell, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Tither.

Alpha Delta Pi. A meeting of the Omaha Alumnae club of Alpha Delta Pi was held at Mrs. A. Blair's home Saturday afternoon.

Miss Information. MY WIFE TALKS ME TO DEATH! WISH YOU COULD FIND A SUITABLE JOB FOR HER. TRY TH' BIRD DEPARTMENT, THEY NEED SOMEONE TO TEACH THE PARROTS.

Look! Look! Look! Look Everywhere for Coats and Dresses Then Come Up Thorne's Store Wide C-le-a-r-a-n-c-e 1812 Farnam St.

Cleopatra had her night of romance—but wait 'till you hear about the funny one we're going to show Saturday. STRAND THEATRE

A Wife's Confessionals by Adele Garrison

of going down into the shrubbery. I knew that if I evinced the slightest indication of going she would insist upon wresting a promise from me to keep away from the woodland, a pledge which I was most anxious not to make.

"I think both of us are getting excited over nothing," I said nonchalantly. "Suppose you let me bring your chair over here by the fire and away from the window. At least, whatever is out there won't come up here."

My mother-in-law looked up at me with widened eyes. "I never thought of that," she faltered. "Suppose you does" (Copyright, 1924)

For Visiting Secretary. An executive secretary for the national council of the Episcopal church, Mrs. Taber of North Carolina, will arrive in Omaha Friday, to spend three weeks in Nebraska. She will be a guest at All Saints church at luncheon Friday and later in the day will be honored at tea by the Trinity cathedral women.

Mrs. Philip Potter will entertain for Mrs. Taber luncheon on Saturday at her home. Mrs. Potter is chairman of the Service league at Trinity. Miss Eleanor Lowman returned from Minneapolis Monday.

Business Is Better Great Increase in 1924 Over 1923 During 1924 the Occidental Building and Loan Association, 18th and Harney, increased their assets $2,389,370.50. It is altogether a very healthy indication of Nebraska's business conditions. The Occidental Building and Loan Association safeguards its patrons' money by first mortgages on homes, and a contingent reserve fund now amounting to $460,000.00. It pays a dividend of six per cent per annum quarterly.

This Association is unique in the U. S. in that its reserve fund is so great in proportion to liabilities to its members. It has resources amounting to $15,032,800.42. The Occidental Building and Loan Association is a mutual institution and one of Omaha's real assets.

"There is something out there in those bushes!" I exclaimed a minute later, for I, too, had seen a slight movement of the shrubbery, undisturbed, I was sure, to any one not watching for it. "I'll go right down and find out what it is, but it probably is some animal."

She clutched my dress frantically as I moved past her and her eyes were filled with the terror I had seen in them when she first told me that she was "in terrible trouble." "No, no," she said tensely. "You mustn't go down there. You don't know what might happen to me. Wait—tomorrow and I'll go with you."

A Pledge to Avoid. If it were not for my very real concern for her I could have smiled at her patent belief that she would be efficient protection for me, but I suppressed all amusement, and also put aside for the moment any idea

"Did you get it?" she demanded, and at my affirmative nod she stretched out her hand imperatively. "Give it to me, quick," she said, and when I had obeyed her she counted the bills and thrust them into her dress with a horrible little air of avidity utterly foreign to her. "Thank you," she said perfunctorily, and then beckoned me closer to the window.

"Do you see anything moving away out there beyond the rose garden at our old place?" she whispered as if she feared some one would hear her. I looked searchingly in the direction she indicated, but there was no movement that I could discern, and I told her so.

"I'm sure I'm not mistaken," she said stubbornly. "I've been watching her ever since you went. The people next door went away for the week end, so there's nobody there to look after things, and there might be all sorts of people lurking around, for all anybody knows."

"What did you think you saw, mother?" I asked perfunctorily. "If I knew, do you think I'd be sitting here like a jumping jack on a string?" she snapped, and I made the mental amused note that she must be getting better, for there was no trace of the sweet humility with which she had talked to me during the hours of the previous day.

"It won't strain your eyes to look out there for a while, will it?" she went on with what she patently meant for heavy sarcasm, and I promptly moved nearer to the window.

"There is something out there in those bushes!" I exclaimed a minute later, for I, too, had seen a slight movement of the shrubbery, undisturbed, I was sure, to any one not watching for it. "I'll go right down and find out what it is, but it probably is some animal."

She clutched my dress frantically as I moved past her and her eyes were filled with the terror I had seen in them when she first told me that she was "in terrible trouble." "No, no," she said tensely. "You mustn't go down there. You don't know what might happen to me. Wait—tomorrow and I'll go with you."

A Pledge to Avoid. If it were not for my very real concern for her I could have smiled at her patent belief that she would be efficient protection for me, but I suppressed all amusement, and also put aside for the moment any idea of going down into the shrubbery. I knew that if I evinced the slightest indication of going she would insist upon wresting a promise from me to keep away from the woodland, a pledge which I was most anxious not to make.

"I think both of us are getting excited over nothing," I said nonchalantly. "Suppose you let me bring your chair over here by the fire and away from the window. At least, whatever is out there won't come up here."

My mother-in-law looked up at me with widened eyes. "I never thought of that," she faltered. "Suppose you does" (Copyright, 1924)

For Visiting Secretary. An executive secretary for the national council of the Episcopal church, Mrs. Taber of North Carolina, will arrive in Omaha Friday, to spend three weeks in Nebraska. She will be a guest at All Saints church at luncheon Friday and later in the day will be honored at tea by the Trinity cathedral women.

Mrs. Philip Potter will entertain for Mrs. Taber luncheon on Saturday at her home. Mrs. Potter is chairman of the Service league at Trinity. Miss Eleanor Lowman returned from Minneapolis Monday.

Business Is Better Great Increase in 1924 Over 1923 During 1924 the Occidental Building and Loan Association, 18th and Harney, increased their assets $2,389,370.50. It is altogether a very healthy indication of Nebraska's business conditions. The Occidental Building and Loan Association safeguards its patrons' money by first mortgages on homes, and a contingent reserve fund now amounting to $460,000.00. It pays a dividend of six per cent per annum quarterly.

This Association is unique in the U. S. in that its reserve fund is so great in proportion to liabilities to its members. It has resources amounting to $15,032,800.42. The Occidental Building and Loan Association is a mutual institution and one of Omaha's real assets.

"There is something out there in those bushes!" I exclaimed a minute later, for I, too, had seen a slight movement of the shrubbery, undisturbed, I was sure, to any one not watching for it. "I'll go right down and find out what it is, but it probably is some animal."

She clutched my dress frantically as I moved past her and her eyes were filled with the terror I had seen in them when she first told me that she was "in terrible trouble." "No, no," she said tensely. "You mustn't go down there. You don't know what might happen to me. Wait—tomorrow and I'll go with you."

A Pledge to Avoid. If it were not for my very real concern for her I could have smiled at her patent belief that she would be efficient protection for me, but I suppressed all amusement, and also put aside for the moment any idea

"Did you get it?" she demanded, and at my affirmative nod she stretched out her hand imperatively. "Give it to me, quick," she said, and when I had obeyed her she counted the bills and thrust them into her dress with a horrible little air of avidity utterly foreign to her. "Thank you," she said perfunctorily, and then beckoned me closer to the window.

"Do you see anything moving away out there beyond the rose garden at our old place?" she whispered as if she feared some one would hear her. I looked searchingly in the direction she indicated, but there was no movement that I could discern, and I told her so.

"I'm sure I'm not mistaken," she said stubbornly. "I've been watching her ever since you went. The people next door went away for the week end, so there's nobody there to look after things, and there might be all sorts of people lurking around, for all anybody knows."

"What did you think you saw, mother?" I asked perfunctorily. "If I knew, do you think I'd be sitting here like a jumping jack on a string?" she snapped, and I made the mental amused note that she must be getting better, for there was no trace of the sweet humility with which she had talked to me during the hours of the previous day.

"It won't strain your eyes to look out there for a while, will it?" she went on with what she patently meant for heavy sarcasm, and I promptly moved nearer to the window.

"There is something out there in those bushes!" I exclaimed a minute later, for I, too, had seen a slight movement of the shrubbery, undisturbed, I was sure, to any one not watching for it. "I'll go right down and find out what it is, but it probably is some animal."

She clutched my dress frantically as I moved past her and her eyes were filled with the terror I had seen in them when she first told me that she was "in terrible trouble." "No, no," she said tensely. "You mustn't go down there. You don't know what might happen to me. Wait—tomorrow and I'll go with you."

A Pledge to Avoid. If it were not for my very real concern for her I could have smiled at her patent belief that she would be efficient protection for me, but I suppressed all amusement, and also put aside for the moment any idea

To Club Council Meet. Mrs. E. B. Penney of Fullerton director for Nebraska, in the General Federation of Women's clubs, is probably the only woman going from this state to the federation council meeting in Washington, January 13 to 18. Mrs. Paul Perryman may decide to go. She is also a delegate to the Council for the Cause and Cure of War, which meets prior to the club meeting.

Delta Delta Delta. Miss Sarah Vays Taylor will review modern poetry at the luncheon given Saturday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hixenbaugh, Jr., by Delta Delta Delta sorority.

BUY-RITE STORES

Wed. and Thurs. Specials

Grapefruit Famous Indian River Thin-Skinned and Juicy Extra Large 3 for 27c

Oranges Large, Sweet Sun-Kist Navels, Per dozen 40c

Apples Fancy "Delicious," 5 lbs. for Winter Pearmain, splendid for eating, 10 lbs for 49c

Potatoes Fancy large Red River Early Ohio, per bu. $1.30 Per 2-bu. sack $2.50

Rutabagas Fancy Canadian 5 lb. 19c

"Eatmor" Cranberries 2 lbs. 39c

Head Lettuce Fancy Iceberg 10c and 15c

SURPRISE THEM!—Make Next Cake With Omar Wonder Flour

Omar Wonder Flour Per 24-lb. sack $1.25 Per 48-lb. sack $2.39 For Everything You Bake, OMAR Simply Can't Be Beaten. Omar Pastry Flour—5-lb. package .38c

Crystal White Soap 10 large bars for 43c 100 bars $4.15 43c Palmolive Soap, 6 bars for 43c Sunbrite Cleaner, 6 for 39c

Candy Assorted Chocolates, hard and soft centers, 3,000 lbs. at per lb. 39c Campfire Marshmallows, 3 pkgs. for 27c

Butter Our Famous NISHNA VALLEY, per lb. 45c

Peas Grand Canon Club, 3 cans for 69c Riverside Sifted Early June, 3 cans 47c

Corn Pearl Country Gentleman, 3 cans for 49c Grand Canon Fancy Maine, 3 cans 59c

Tomatoes Otos, No. 2 size, 3 cans for 39c Grand Canon, No. 3, 3 cans 69c

Beans Extra Fancy Michigan, 3 lbs. for 25c Famous Large Montanas, 3 lbs. 29c

Pineapples Ukulele Broken Sliced, No. 2 1/2 size, in heavy syrup, 3 cans for Hunt's Grated, No. 2, 3 cans 79c 89c

Toilet Paper Waldorf Tissue, 10 lge. rolls Scott's Toilet Tissue, 3 rolls for 99c

Rice Extra Fancy Blue Rose, 3 lbs for 27c Large Grain Swanes River Head, 3 lbs. 43c

American Beauty Macaroni Spaghetti and Noodles 3 for 23c A Supply Bought Now Will Save You Money, as Wheat Is Going Up

Catsup Heinz's—3 large bottles for 98c Grand Canon, 3 lge. bottles, 73c

Very Special—This Is Pancake Week! Pillsbury's Pancake Flour Small 18c pkg., 2 pkgs. for 32c. Large 50c pkg. for 43c Log Cabin Syrup, small can for 25c

Wax Beans Grand Canon, whole, 3 cans 79c Cut Wax, 3 cans for 49c

PHONE ANY OF THESE BUY-RITE STORES NORTH SIDE GEO. I. ROSS, KE-0402 ARMAND PETERSEN, WE-0114 JEPSEN BROS., JA-1840 SOUTH SIDE LYNAN & BRENNAN, AT-6096 F. L. BIRD, MA-0728 SKUPA & SWOBODA, MA-1066 E. KARSCH CO., AT-7701 WEST SIDE PROS GROCERY, JA-4970 ERNEST BUFFETT, WA-0741 J. D. CREW & SON, HA-0936 GILES BROTHERS, WA-5800 WILKE & MITCHELL, HA-0284 HANNEGAN & CO., HA-0760 A. E. SNYGG & SON, WA-0570 Certified Members of the Better Grocers' Bureau 1-4-25

ADVO Gold Medal COFFEE

ADVO JELL

Butter-Nut The Coffee Delicious

Opportunity to Save!

We are offering these renewed and rebuilt washers and ironers at a substantial discount. You can save from $25 to $35 if you purchase one of these machines.

Buy One of These Renewed Electric Washers and Ironers

At These Low Terms: $5.00 Balance in 12 Months Down

A Message to Every Woman Stop throwing away your health by washing clothes with the old hand method. Buy one of these washers and turn wash day into joy day. A washer will do your washing better, quicker, at less cost without any labor on your part.

Thor Washers NEW MACHINE GUARANTEE

Automatic Washers

Every Machine Is In Good Running Order

Get Yours Today

Easy Washers

Thor Ironers We have 3 Thor electric ironers that are in A-1 shape. These are regular $105 machines. Your choice $140.

Subject to Prior Sale "ELECTRIC SHOP" 15th and Farnam

Nebraska Power Co.

TRY Quaker Bread

Wednesday is Raisin Bread Day

Keeps fresh and flavory in their lunch boxes—

The children all will vote for my raisin bread in their lunches. It keeps fresh. And they love its wonderful fruit flavor. The men folks like it too.

Give it to them on Wednesdays. I prepare a special baking of raisin bread for Wednesdays—beautiful, golden loaves generously filled with Sun-Maid Raisins.

Make this delicious and inexpensive mid-week treat a regular custom in your home. Place a standing order with your baker or grocer. He will deliver or reserve a loaf for you each week. Phone your order now.

Your Baker Endorsed by bakers everywhere, including the Retail Bakers Association of America and the American Bakers' Association

Place a standing Wednesday order with your Baker or Grocer