

Charities Work Doubles in 1924; Staff Too Small

More Volunteers as Well as Trained Men and Women Needed to Handle Constantly Increasing Cases.

Need of paid and voluntary workers for the Associated Charities of Omaha was stressed by Lawrence Brinker, member of the board of directors, at a monthly meeting held Tuesday noon at the Brandeis restaurant.

The work of the Associated Charities doubled in 1924 in comparison to the year before, said Mrs. George W. Doane, secretary. "We expect it to be tripled in 1925."

Aid for 4,138 families was given during the year. Clothing and shoes valued at $2,698 was given out in 1924. Employment for temporary workers numbered 247 cases and for permanent workers 116 cases.

Modern Girl With Bobbed Hair and Short Skirts Far More Healthy Than Pantaletted, Chaperoned Girl of Misty Past, Says Believer in Religion of Pretty Things

Glorious Little Creatures of Today Are Far From Immoral.

The girl of the bobbed hair, the sport skirt and the lithe, corsetless body is the immoral, immoral, or is she beautiful and graceful and natural.

By DAVID BELASCO. Famous Playwright and Theatrical Producer. New York, Jan. 13.—I believe in the religion of pretty things. That is why I say, looking back over the years, that feminine garb of yesterday was ugly—and immoral.

Locks to Grow. They bob their hair, where once they dropped it to their waists. Is that immoral? Not so—though I see little beauty in it.

Tragedy of Sex. All life is change, but change for the better. It is only our hearts that need purifying. I am asked if our morals are more free. Well, man was always man, and desired his woman. He would even steal his neighbor's wife. That's the tragedy of sex—no conscience.

David Belasco.

their wives and sweethearts. All the grand old men of the past had them. But they made them work. Today—things are different, perhaps.

Nothing to Fear. Our girl of today is not more immoral because of her freer manner and her lesser garments. Now she may have her friends call without a watchful duenna doing embroidery work in the corner. She has nothing to fear.

Shipments of Poultry to Boston Are Resumed. Chester, Jan. 13.—Poultry dealers here are now taking all poultry offered and a good volume of business has been re-established.

Judge Absolves Murder Suspects; Dismisses Case

Veiled Testimony of Witnesses Increases Mystery of Tony Vezemiano Death; Blackwood Exonerated.

Paul Blackwood, youthful motion picture operator, was absolved of guilt Tuesday morning in connection with the murder of Tony Vezemiano, when District Judge Fitzgerald took the case from a jury and dismissed charges against the youth.

Real Slayer Sought. "The county attorney's office has not dropped the case, however. Every effort will be made to discover and get evidence against the real slayer of Vezemiano. We shall start a campaign to stop these mysterious killings in Little Italy. There are too many of them, and they usually result in widows with large families being left in dire circumstances."

Back to Work. "I'm going back to work tonight," he said. "I've only been off during the trial, anyway. You see, I have a wife to look after."

A Little More Gentle. That is a sign of super-intelligence and independence on her part. And if we tolerate her, why not permit great writers to portray them, great actors to depict them in the world? Why should we fear to face actuality? Let us be done with the self-anointed saints who would take from us the true pictures of life.

Blackwood Told Stories Which Varied to an Extent Which Led Judge Fitzgerald to Dismiss the Jury and the Case Against Blackwood.

"There is something wrong in this case," said Judge Fitzgerald. "Testimony of witnesses for the state is conflicting. 'One heard three shots, another four or five shots. One testified Blackwood approached the Tic Payne place with gun drawn; another testified there was a scuffle between Blackwood and Vezemiano before Blackwood drew a gun.'

Blackwood said he always carried a gun due to late hours the theater business made it necessary for him to keep.

Farmer's Hand Mangled in Cornsheller Accident. Tecumseh, Jan. 13.—Frank Mitchell, farmer, living south of Tecumseh, had his left hand painfully injured in a cornsheller accident. He endeavored to adjust a drive chain on the sheller while it was in motion, and his hand was twisted between the chain and feeder. The small finger was broken, thumb badly crushed and the flesh of the hand painfully lacerated.

TWO OTOE COUNTY PIONEERS DEAD

Nebraska City, Jan. 13.—Within the past 36 hours two real pioneer women of this community, residing within a short distance of each other, have died. Mrs. Mary Lee, 82, died at the home of her daughter on the Washington highway just south of the county line, and Mrs. Mary McCune, 80, died at her home at Julian.

Mrs. Lee was born in Illinois in 1843 and came to Otoe county when 12 years of age. She was married at Peru in 1860 to Elford Lee, who died in 1903. During the civil war she served as both cook and nurse at Fort Riley, Kan., and later returned to this community, where she has since made her home.

Roost Raided Second Time. Beatrice, Neb., Jan. 13.—Thieves raided the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schlake, six miles north of Beatrice, while they were in town and carried away 40 chickens. In order to gain entrance to the poultry house they broke the lock on the door. Last spring thieves carried away about the same number of fowls from the Schlake farm.

Potter Church Free of Debt. Bridgeport, Jan. 13.—Potter church is now entirely out of debt for the first time in several years. The occasion was celebrated by a congregational meeting, at which refreshments prepared by the men of the church were served.

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting. Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are the picture of dirt and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calomine powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.
