

Today

Science Is Wonderful. Also the Vassar Girls. Romantic Muntaz Begum. Prohibition 6 Years Old.

The New York Stock exchange will open tomorrow 15 minutes later than usual, that brokers and ticker watchers may have a chance to see the eclipse.

Men have spent most of their time on earth fighting and murdering each other. But the real job of the human race is to fight against and conquer nature.

Every canal dug, desert irrigated, swamp drained, is a victory in the really important war.

Another forward step will be taken during the eclipse on Saturday. Those that remain on earth may not see the eclipse. But science has built the flying machine, that will take scientists up above the clouds.

The prediction would have seemed as preposterous as it seems now to predict that the entire surface of this earth will one day be as completely cultivated and under control as the finest park, or to predict that men will regulate the earth's climate, using excess heat at the equator to melt the ice at the poles.

Nevertheless, everything that man can imagine he can do. Sir Oliver Lodge, one of the greatest living scientists, declares that the eye of man was the first radio machine.

Dear young ladies of Vassar college, with beautiful, tall foreheads, nimble feet and nimble minds, tell me what they think of tobacco.

Which will be married first, the 433 girls who smoke cigarettes, or the 524 that don't smoke cigarettes?

Romance of the olden times comes from Bombay. The rajah's favorite nautch girl was named Muntaz Begum.

Five days from now the nation will celebrate the sixth anniversary of the birth of prohibition.

Lorenz Koenig, aged 72, devotes his working hours to stacking shingles in a lumber yard at Omaha.

Our life depends on the glands. Our happiness depends on habit. We are more like machines wound up and set running than creatures of free will.

Robert Reid, who said he was a Seventh Day Adventist, sold his winter potatoes and other property, for he knows the world will end on February 6.

Henry DeFlouter of Denver requests this column to say that Mr. Reid is not a Seventh Day Adventist, and "Seventh Day Adventists do not set dates for Christ's return."

The correction is gladly made. (Copyright, 1925.)
