Is your blood starving for want of sufficient iron? If you were to go without eating until you became weak, thin and emaciated, you could not do a more serious harm to yourself than when you let your blood literally starve for want of iron—iron that gives it strength and power to change food into living tissue.

Modern methods of cooking and the rapid pace at which people of this country live has made such an alarming increase in iron deficiency in the blood of American men and women that there is a surprisingly large number of people who lack iron in the blood, and who never suspect the cause of their weak, nervous run-down state. Lack of sufficient iron in the blood has ruined many a man's nerves and utterly robbed him of that virile force and stamina which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. The best thing for those who feel the need of a strength and blood-builder is to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original package and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package.

Typically in the Colonial style, this pattern has been developed in a delightful enamel finish; so popular these days for the bedroom. A deep shade of jade green, with a slight bluish-gray cast is the predominating color. A banding of a somewhat darker shade with a purple cast borders the panels on the drawer fronts and the head and foot boards of beds. The turnings on legs, and mirror supports, are of an antique ivory tone, shaded as though aged with time. Bronze striping adds the necessary note of brightness and contrast; while a hand painted floral decora-tion on every piece gives added interest, distinction and character.
