

Big Ears Lead Bank Suspect to Admit Name

Member of Gang Caught With Robbery Tools Concedes Acquaintance With Pat Carroll, Iowa Bandit.

The ears of Charles Hoyt, Kansas City, who was arrested with five men and two women late Friday afternoon as bank robber suspects, were so large that William Burnett, secretary to the captain of detectives, recalled that he had only seen ears of such proportions a year ago.

Gurnett recalled that he saw a picture of a man with such large ears in a book of fugitives' pictures. The book was opened again and Hoyt was identified at John Mahoney, alias John Allen, alias "Little Bright."

Hoyt admitted that he was wanted at Newton, Kan., on what charge he would not state. Police are working on the theory that Hoyt was a companion of Pat Carroll, notorious bank robber, now serving a sentence at Anamosa, Ia.

On May 2, 1924, the Walton (Kan.) bank was robbed of $140,000 cash and securities. Pat Carroll and James A. Woodruff were arrested and put in jail. On the night of May 15, 1924, the county jail there was dynamited and both men escaped. It is alleged by police that the persons who dynamited the jail were a Mrs. Woodruff and Charles Hoyt, but they were never found. Hoyt Saturday, when he admitted that he was wanted in Kansas, declared that he was innocent of that bank robbery.

Third Woman Sought.

When the eight suspects were arrested Friday afternoon in their rooms at the Wellington hotel by Detectives Davis, Farmer, English and Ryan, a third woman was sought, believed to be Mrs. Woodruff. Police believe that she left the suspect's quarters with a revolver, taking all of their money in her flight. No money was found on them when they were arrested here.

The suspects with Hoyt were men giving their names as Lee Flounoy, Jack Williams, Joe Bondy, Charles Laws (alias Jiggs Larsen), who is said to have been a companion of Hank McArdle, victim in the "Haystack" murder a year ago, and L. D. Myers. The women arrested with them were Dorothy, said to be the wife of Flounoy, and Peggy, said to be the wife of Williams.

Robbery Tools Found.

All are held on suspicion and word has been sent to Little Sioux, Ia., Wall Lake, Ia., and to Newton, Kan., for word of identification of the men and women in recent bank robberies.

A large quantity of nitroglycerin, some soft soap such as is used in blowing safes, and two double-barreled shotguns and a half dozen pistols and revolvers were found in their rooms by the detectives. The gang was sought after word had been received in Omaha that such a gang planned a series of robberies in nearby towns, making Omaha their headquarters.

Police obtained a partial confession from Lee Flounoy late Saturday morning. Flounoy admitted that he killed a man five years ago in Joplin, Mo., and that he served one year on the sentence for manslaughter. He broke jail, he said, and went back for three years which he served.

Jack Williams, a member of the alleged gang of bank robbers, confessed to police late Saturday that he was wanted in Kansas City for a "stickup."

Bound Over to Trial.

John Dray was bound over to district court Saturday morning on charge of carrying concealed weapon and drunkenness. He was arrested Friday evening at Fourteenth and Farnam streets, where he was moving a revolver from one pocket to another.

Mate Helped Her to Flirt, Wife Alleges

Corespondent in Hopson Case Hysterical in Court as She Tells of Tangled Marital Affairs.

A husband who encouraged his young wife to flirt and who professed an ability to love her just as ardently despite his infatuation for another woman was described in divorce court late Friday by Mrs. Vivian Byrd Granden, 24, daughter of an old and prominent family.

Young Mrs. Granden is seeking a divorce from this husband, Howard Granden, electric merchant.

She was calmly testifying as to the alleged indiscretions of her wealthy young husband when Judge Day suddenly interrupted her with the question:

"Were't you mentioned in the Hopson divorce case, Mrs. Granden?"

Mrs. Granden became hysterical at the mention of this rather famous case, but admitted that she had been prominently mentioned.

In the Hopson trial there had been said to show that Mrs. Granden had actually been known as "Mrs. Hopson."

Mail Pilot Secures Order to Bring Back Tot From Porto Rico

Lawrence H. Garrison, air mail pilot, leaped into court and pronounced again Saturday by filing a motion to have his little daughter, Amy Louise Garrison, brought back to Omaha from Porto Rico.

The Garrison divorce case was a sensational one, and ended when District Judge Day gave Mrs. Garrison the custody of the little daughter.

"I will order Mrs. Garrison to return to Omaha with the child," said Judge Day. "She must keep the child within jurisdiction of the court."

Garrison's motion also asks that the court give him permission to see the child and have her in his possession at least one afternoon each week.

Hopson the second" by the associate of William C. Hopson, dashing air mail aviator.

Wanted to Shock 'Em.

But, Mrs. Granden testified Friday, it was her husband who encouraged this association with Hopson.

Young Granden encouraged this flirtation because of his own penchant for flirtations and because he wanted to shock people, according to testimony.

"He didn't want to see Mrs. Granden lonely and unhappy, and it eased his conscience to have her playing golf with another man," was the opinion testified to by a witness for Mrs. Granden.

Aviator Hopson lived with the Grandens for many months and he and Granden jointly owned an expensive motor car, testimony has it.

Signal for Parties.

And it was young Mrs. Granden who drove to and from the government airport as chauffeur for Hopson, it was admitted.

Nor was Mrs. Granden likely to be unaware of the young pilot's approach by air, for he had a habit of swooping down from the skies and flying low over the Granden home, so that the roar of his ship's motor informed her of his arrival, so it was testified.

Forbes Guilty to Appeal Case

Former Veterans' Bureau Head Appeared Stunned by Verdict.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Col. Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson, found guilty in federal court of conspiracy to defraud the government, will carry their fight on "to the supreme court if necessary," their attorneys have announced.

Forbes was once chief of the veterans' bureau and a trusted friend of the late President Harding, while Thompson is a wealthy St. Louis and Chicago contractor.

Following the reading of the verdict by the jury late yesterday both men were stunned and for several minutes there was absolute silence in the court room. The court was adjourned to allow them to regain their composure.

Forbes, who insisted all through the trial he wanted to take the stand, but who didn't, sat at the table facing the jury, visibly trembling, his face flushed.

Thompson, gray-haired, immaculately groomed, was plainly moved.

Forbes, now facing a sentence of two years in prison, or a $10,000 fine, or both, is only left, through with government prosecutors. He is scheduled to go on trial the latter part of February on a charge of looting the Perryville (Mo.) supply depot of the veterans' bureau.

Sentence will not be passed on the men until the motion for a new trial is heard on February 4.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

This beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur in your bath. Your hair makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance. It softens and makes the hair grow. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair. Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it dardens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

AN OPERATION RECOMMENDED

Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I cannot give too much praise to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me. I have taken it for many years, and since then I have taken it when I feel run down or tired. I took it for three months before my two babies were born for I suffered with my back and had spasms as if my heart was affected, and it helped me a lot. The doctor told me at one time that I would have to have an operation. I thought I would try 'Pinkham's,' as I call it, first. In two months I was all right and had no operation. I firmly believe 'Pinkham's' cured me. Every one who saw me after that remarked that I looked so well. I only have to take medicine occasionally, not but I always keep a couple of bottles by me. I recommend it to women who speak to me about their health. I have also used your Sanative Wash and like it very much. Mrs. E. GOULD, 4000 East Side Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.
