

Guests Again in Lerrn and One Death Is New Toll

Stranger Who Wields Revolver in Search for Leaders of Klan Is Slain in Lobby of Hotel.

drinking. Phillips then went to the hotel lobby and telephoned to Glenn Fowler to come to the hotel and be arrested. He told Fowler that he was an officer named Johnson and had brought a warrant from Springfield for his arrest. Fowler hung up the receiver and thus refused the invitation.

Flourish Guns.

One of Phillips' companions had disappeared, but the other aided him in driving the night clerk behind the cigar counter. The pair then entered the dining room and ordered food, displaying revolvers to enforce the demand. Phillips even flourished his revolver in the kitchen to hasten his order.

At that moment Phillips entered the lobby and ordered Officer Stephens to throw up his hands. Almost instantly he fired at Stephens, the bullet hitting the policeman in the shoulder. Stephens grappled with Phillips, who ineffectually fired several more shots.

Shot Through Heart.

Officer Whitson, attracted by the shots and a suspicious man he saw outside the hotel, slipped around to the back door and reached the door leading from the kitchen to the dining room just as Phillips and Stephens broke for a moment near the dining room leading to the lobby. Whitson quickly got a line on Phillips and shot him through the heart before he could close on Stephens.

Major Davis and Lieutenants Eugene Hansen and M. D. Boulden later in the day reported to Adjutant General Black at Springfield that things were quiet and departed for their homes in Carbondale. The request of Sheriff Galligan for martial law had not, however, been withdrawn. Latest information in Herlin was that the sheriff had gone to Springfield to confer personally with Governor Small and General Black.

May Depose Chief.

The city council at its meeting tomorrow night is expected to take up this request for martial law as well as the whole Herlin police question. Reports are that the council will depose Chief of Police Matt Walker, his son, Harry Walker, and Officer Lisenby, all appointed with Klan sanction, but now said to be opposed to the Klan.

The council is said to be favorable to the Klan, and it was reported that the body intended to restore John Ford as police chief, the place he held until ousted with the consent of the Klan to make room for Walker. Another question for the council is the status of Policemen Harold Crain, who was discharged by Chief Walker last week, bringing about a refusal to step out, a denunciation of the chief by a Klan leader and the request of Sheriff Galligan for martial law after the situation had been reported to him by Chief Walker.

Threatened to Shoot.

Chief Walker told the sheriff that John Smith, a Klan leader, had ordered the chief to assist in his attempt to oust Crain and had threatened to shoot the chief.

Smith declared that he had threatened to shoot the chief, merely expressing his disapproval of the action. Chief Walker took his son and Officer Lisenby with him to Marion when he went to see Sheriff Galligan, and it was this absence of Lisenby, probably that led Phillips to think that he had been taken away and slain. All three returned later from Marion to Herlin.

FARMER WINS SUIT OVER BANK

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.

Red Oak, Ia., Jan. 31.—Alger M. Larson, farmer living near Red Oak, won his suit in district court here today for the recovery from the State bank of notes totalling $1000, given in the purchase of stock in the Skinner Packing company.

Verdict for the plaintiff was returned by the jury after the court declined to instruct a verdict for the defendant.

Larson's suit is one of several similar actions, either pending or about to be filed here.

Birthday for Danish Lodge.

Lodge No. 1, Danish Brotherhood, celebrated its forty-third anniversary Saturday night with a banquet and dance given at the Rome hotel.

Mrs. E. Tonder, national president of the Danish Sisterhood, spoke. Another speaker was Frank Lawson, national secretary of the Danish Brotherhood.

Skipper of Rum Chaser Admits Intoxication

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 31.—Capt. J. Milfin, commander of the rum chaser coast guard cutter, Vaughn, today pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication following arrest here last night while driving an automobile. Bail was fixed at $1,500 pending sentence, pronouncement of which was delayed at the request of the district attorney's office.

It was announced in court that a general probe of coast guard patrol work in which the cutter was engaged will be undertaken by the district attorney's office. Last week Captain Gilfill reported having picked up several hundred cases of alcohol jettisoned by rum runners off the coast near here.

Gambler Invades Riviera With Cool "Million to Try and "Break Bank"

Failure to Complete Film on Schedule Holds Gloria Swanson in Paris; "Uncommercialized Gyp Game" Says O. O. McIntyre of Montmartre.

By C. F. BERTHELL,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.
Paris, Feb. 1.—Short-flooned skirts of deep mauve and hats with fur trimmings in bright colors are special notes of the week's openings at the Paris dressmaking establishments.

Lucille specializes on contrasting colors with huge embroidered flowers. Georgette strikes a new note with an extensive adoption of black and white satin, while Cybor, a new firm, strikes out with black muslin embroidered in gold.

Tailor made coats will be longer than last year, with flared out tails, according to the ideas of Joseph Paquin, while Anna, who has succeeded the big firm of Madeleine & Co. in the fashion-making game, makes great use of colored alpaca with fur fringes.

The logical following out of the "ensemble" idea, which was an innovation last year, is seen in the fact that several big firms are now selling lingerie with stockings, shoes and hats to match each costume.

Gowns Advance in Price.

Prices show an advance of from 40 to 50 per cent over winter collections. The average price of tailor made is $200; gown, $250; tea frock, $150; sport suit, $200, while ceremonial and ballroom gowns are soaring to unprecedented heights owing to the lavish gold and jewel embroidery. The minimum is generally $300 to $400.

The volume of American orders has tremendously increased, according to the dressmakers' syndicate.

From the Riviera comes the report that Arnold Rothstein has invaded the Casino world with $1,000,000 to gamble with, avowedly meaning to "get the Greeks," referring to the Greek syndicate which controls Riviera's barcarat. Rothstein's arrival could not be confirmed and his trip to Europe is somewhat of a mystery, but friends deny that his purpose is for divorce, as they declare that Mrs. Rothstein is accompanying him.

McIntyre Writing Book on Paris.

Gloria Swanson and her new husband, Marquis de La Falaise, announce they have postponed their departure for New York, which was scheduled for next Wednesday on the Aquitania for a week. The delay is due to the fact that work will not be completed on the film she is working on at Fontainebleau.

"The greatest commercialized gyp game in the world," is O. O. McIntyre's description of Montmartre. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre are living at the Ritz. He was a guest last night at the home of Henri Letellier on the occasion of a big ball, which was largely attended by the smart world.

The "man who wrote New York" is now preparing a new book on Paris. Gerald (Jed) Kiley, so-called "fatal man," announces his engagement to Marion Forde, American dancer, who insisted, however, on "two months' leave of absence" so she may be sure she loves him. Marion is putting her heart to the test and is now en route to New York aboard the Berengaria.

Group Protests Embargo on Pulp

Canadian Publishers Fight Proposed Move on Part of Canadian Paper Makers.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The National Publishers' association announced today it had filed a brief with Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee protesting against what it claimed was a threatened embargo on pulpwood by Canadian paper manufacturers and asking what is to be the reaction "against an embargo which is obviously class legislation."

"Such an embargo as that proposed by the Canadian mill owners," says the brief, "will have the effect not only of crippling the pulpwood industry in the United States, but also of giving Canadian manufacturers control of our paper market, thereby increasing the cost to every user of the printed word in the United States."

"Under the mask of forest conservation, Canadian manufacturers are trying to force the dominion government to stop the exportation of pulpwood. They are trying to force American operators to move their mills into Canada, where the wood would be transformed into pulp for the paper mills here. That much accomplished, the next step would be to embargo pulp, thus forcing Americans to make their paper in the dominion and under the domination of the Canadian paper industry."

23 STUDENTS WIN HONORS IN TYPING

Twenty-three students at South High qualified for Gregg artists' certificates during the last semester. The examination was held in the usual way, the pupils being given in the article by dictation and after being given ample time to make any necessary corrections, the papers were graded for correctness, neatness and general appearance.

Those who qualified were May Nelson, Violet Seavelly, Edna Moberg, Tose Ref, Ellen Martin, Rosemary Stefan, Helen Thompson, Mike Makovitz, Dorothy Matson, Florence Roberts, Hazel Harper, Margaret Lindstad, Agnes Reed, Mary Cottonier, Alice Risley, Ceella Zadtina, Ardith Towne, Louisa Strauss, Alta Bank, Bertha Oswald, Sarah Neisman, Ed Kutlek and Mildred Jetter.

Deputy Accompanies New State Sheriff to Lincoln

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee.
Fremont, Neb., Jan. 31.—Leslie Hanson, deputy sheriff of Dodge county for the last three years, will accompany State Sheriff Condit to Lincoln as his assistant in the state office. Condit ends his term of office here today preparatory to relieving State Sheriff Tom Carroll.

W. A. Johnson, appointed as Condit's successor, will assume control of the Dodge county office at the expiration of Condit's reign of nearly 13 years as Dodge county's chief law enforcement officer.

Hanson is the son of the J. Hanson, retired farmer of Fremont who resided south of Dodge until some time ago. He has had considerable experience with Condit's finger print system and will probably work in that department at the state office.

Jameson to St. Louis.
William Jameson leaves tonight for St. Louis where he will appear before the supreme court in answer to several appeals cases which will be called for hearing Monday.

Legislature Sets Record for Speed in Month's Work

Speaker and Senate President Pleased by Response to Plea for "Progressive Legislation."

By Associated Press.
Lincoln, Feb. 1.—In one month Nebraska's 43d legislature has shown more progress and co-operation than any assembly since the first legislature convened, according to opinions expressed tonight by members of both houses.

Stressed by progressive legislation, news by Speaker Burke in the house and by Lieutenant Governor Williams, president of the senate, at the beginning of the session, has been recognized and the nature of bills introduced discloses the hearty response to their appeals, they declared.

A last-minute rush of bills is expected tomorrow, the 20th day of the house session, and the last one for introduction of bills. The senate closes the doors to bills Thursday.

Court Raps Owner of Scandal Paper

Publisher of Broadway Brevities Sent to Prison for "Meanest Crime."

New York, Jan. 31.—"Few things are meaner than to threaten publicly to blast the lives of private individuals by publication of false statements," Federal Judge Mack declared today before a crowded courtroom.

He then turned to Stephen G. Clow, publisher of Broadway Brevities, and sentenced him to six years and a day at Atlanta penitentiary, plus a $5,000 fine, for conspiracy and using the mails to defraud.

Clow heard Judge Mack order the periodical barred from the mails and he heard his attorney promise that publication would be suspended if Clow was permitted to bail while awaiting action on appeal of a new trial.

Clow heard Judge Mack say: "I haven't a shadow of doubt over the correctness of the jury in finding you guilty. There is no question about this sort of crime is meaner, nastier, more disreputable in every respect than crime involving taking money from poor people."

"I have no feeling of mercy for men who make a business of such business. Their conduct was beyond the pall of any decent man's conception of the demands of mercy."

Child Labor Vote Pressed.

While 13 states have already rejected child labor amendment, giving congress right to legislate on the subject, friends of the amendment have expressed their determination to push the question, probably this week. The resolution favoring the amendment is now in the state, having been presented to that body by Governor McMullen who made no recommendation on it.

The people will have to be educated to the true significance of amendment during the next two years if it does not get through in this session," Senator McGowan, republican, Norfolk, declared. The senator is one of its strongest sponsors in the legislature.

SUSPECT IN DEATH PLOT ARRESTED

James Charlizo, 2609 North Fifteenth street, was arrested Saturday in connection with the alleged attempted assassination of his brother-in-law, American merchant track sweeper, last Wednesday.

Charlizo took out a $5,000 life policy for Tambucano, December 1, and a similar policy, January 1, according to Detective Fred Palmatag, who arrested him.

The policies were written by J. C. McKinley, agent for the Des Moines Life insurance company, according to Palmatag.

Charlizo declares he obtained the policies to protect his sister, Tambucano is in Lord Lister hospital recovering from scalp wounds received Wednesday night when he was struck down from behind as he was walking along the railroad tracks.

COTNER COLLEGE DRIVE OPENED

The crusade for the $1,000,000 endowment fund for Cotner college of Bethany, Neb., will open in Douglas county this week.

Local headquarters have been established under the direction of George Porter at the Hamilton hotel. The endowment crusade is a part of the plan of the endowment department of the national board of education of Christian churches for the undergirding of all Christian colleges in the brotherhood.

Dr. Harvey H. Harmon, national secretary of the department, is in Omaha and will open the drive February 1.

President Charles Elliot Cobbery will preach on Christian education from the pulpit of the First Christian church, of which he was formerly pastor, Sunday morning.

More than $350,000 has been pledged to the fund in the last few weeks, it is said.

Toddlers' Club to Hold "Flea Hop" Ball Tonight

The "Flea Hop" ball of the Toddlers' club will be held at Catholic Sokol home, Thirteenth and Williams street, tonight.

Special hall decorations and more attractive accommodations have been installed for the dance and the Cinderella Syncope Boys will furnish the music.

High Power Radio Stops Clocks in Zion

Zion, Ill., Jan. 31.—Zion's watches and clocks stopped, its compasses pointed west, metal objects coming in contact with other metal created sparks, steam radiators hissed, fusing pans sputtered and Zion's population decided today that the magnetic age had arrived.

A hasty investigation by frightened city officials revealed that workmen installing a new radio station have been sending out test programs stepped up to 25,000 volts and have been electrifying everything.

The radio workers announced tonight that the station has been heard in New Zealand, 8,300 miles distant, while people in Zion grounded their pots and pans.

Treasury Moves Today to Retire Old Bank Notes

Withdrawal of $118,000,000 in Bonds Starts; First Step in Increasing Elasticity of Currency.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The treasury tomorrow begins the retirement of approximately $118,000,000 in 4 per cent bonds of 1925, used by the national banks to secure their own note circulation.

Thus the first actual step will be taken in a program that provides for the ultimate extinction of the long used national bank notes and their replacement with federal reserve notes which, under the policy laid down by congress, is expected to give the nation the maximum in elasticity of currency.

Plan Inaugurated in July.

Retirement of the $118,000,000 in federal securities will mean the retirement of an equal amount of national bank notes. Other national bank notes will be retired as the government bonds bearing the circulation privileges mature in 1930, 1934 and 1938, unless other arrangements are made by congress.

The public was advised of the course proposed by the treasury in an announcement of the program last July. That was done, Secretary Mellon said, to discourage speculation. The legal requirement of a notice three months in advance of the date on which the bonds were called for redemption was met in the latter part of September, and the treasury's necessary financing to meet the maturing securities was cared for in the December fiscal operation.

Called Bonds Being Turned In.

The called bonds are already being turned in to Federal Reserve banks, which are forwarding them here for destruction. The interest ceases tomorrow, but nevertheless the treasury expects the bonds to come in slowly.

With the retirement of the 4 per cent bonds of 1925, there still will remain outstanding 2 per cent consols of 1930 amounting to $59,724,050; 2 per cent Panama canal loan of 1916, 1926 of a value of $48,554,180, and 2 per cent Panama canal loan of 1918-1928, aggregating $25,847,400, all bearing the circulation privilege.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.
As unto others you may do,
The well it should be done to you,
—Mother Nature.

The Hunter is Hunted.

When Shadow the Weasel snapped his wicked little jaws together almost on the tip of the tail of Timmy the Flying Squirrel he snarled with disappointment. It threw him into a bad temper. "I'm out of luck," muttered Shadow. "I've got no chance of catching that fellow now. He must have heard me. It is impossible to come so near catching a dinner and then missing it. I'll have a look inside his house anyway."

So Shadow popped in through the little round entrance and then wished he hadn't. You see, inside the scent of Timmy the Flying Squirrel was strong, and it made Shadow hungrier than ever and simply increased his disappointment. He had just a wee bit of hope that he might find Mrs. Timmy in there. But he didn't find anyone. He found only a nice, soft bed. If he hadn't just had a nap and hadn't been so hungry he might have been tempted to curl up there.

Out he popped as quickly as he had popped in, and started down that tail stump. He was half way down when his always watchful eyes caught sight of something that caused him to dodge around to the other side of that stump in quicker time than it takes to tell about it. As it was, he was barely in time. Hoity the Owl just missed clutching him in those great curved claws of his.

Now, big as he is and broad as those wings of his are, Hoity the Owl can turn in the air with surprising quickness. In a flash he had turned and swooped again at Shadow on the other side of that stump. Again Shadow dodged just in time.

Shadow was dodging for his life. Had any of the other little people been in his place they would have

Oklahoma Town Sinking in Bed of Ancient Lake

Buildings Dropping One Inch Every Three Hours: In- habitants Flee to Points of Safety.

By International News Service.
Halleyville, Okla., Jan. 31.—Slowly sinking into the bed of a prehistoric lake, this little mining town, nestled in the hills of southwestern Oklahoma, tonight is making unenviable progress toward oblivion.

Inch by inch throughout the day—an inch every three hours—Halleyville has dropped. Wider and wider, but so slowly that the eye cannot perceive the movement, great cracks in the streets are widening and pushing forward.

Great timbers have braced the walls of the $125,000 railroad Y. M. C. A., which was built with the aid of Helen Gould. It was abandoned late yesterday by the 50 men who lived there. Timbers, too, brace the walls of the abandoned city hall and the Rock Island roundhouse. The buildings are done for, but there is hope of salvaging by keeping the walls intact.

Halleyville's sinking is hardly a phenomenon. Twenty years ago there was a solid vein of good coal mined out from under the town. Pillars held up the tunnels, but in the years water seeped in, Halleyville is built on the crust of a subterranean lake. The pillars are shifting and the crust is sinking into the five-foot depth of the lake itself.

Engineers said there is no chance to halt the earth shift until it had found its own bottom.

LORD LISTER HAS FIRE ESCAPES

City Fire Inspector John T. Dunn made an error in his report on the condition of Omaha hospitals. He included Lord Lister in the list of hospitals without fire escapes, whereas this hospital is completely equipped with fire escapes and all other measures of fire prevention.

Lord Lister is one of the newer hospital buildings and is of fireproof construction. It also has sufficient fire escapes easily reached from all parts of the hospital.
