A New Whitney Mink.
What the People Think.
Ostracizing Independence.
Wheat at $2.20.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

Harry Payne Whitney, an energetic young man, who led the American polo players to victory against England, carries new honors. He leads the country in successful breeding of race horses. His colts and fillies earned more money than the horses of any other breeder.

That's a great honor, and it is applauded as it deserves. There is something else Mr. Whitney might do. He might duplicate the total number of fighting airplanes owned by this country. And he might provide "jockeys," that is to say, first-class pilots and mechanics, for those airplanes.

The government has only 20 machines fit to take the air in battle. Mr. Whitney, and each one of a dozen men in his financial class, could easily duplicate that without feeling it.

And in the long run swift pursuit planes, ruling the air, might be more profitable to Mr. Whitney by protecting his property than all the race horses that were ever raised in the United States.

Once, when they elected Harding, and again, when they elected Coolidge, the people of this country voted, by a plurality of 7,000,000 votes, to keep away from European entanglements, away from the League of Nations and away from European "ties" that would tie up the United States in Europe's troubles.

The president can easily find out how the people feel. It was all told in the voting twice in succession.

Twelve radical republicans will be excluded from every republican party caucus. The announcement of this decision was greeted with cheers from the floor of the house of representatives and from the crowded galleries.

If the republican party can stand it, the so-called "radical republicans" probably can.

A political party, no matter how big, rich, factious and contented, makes a mistake when it forbids members to do their own thinking. They don't make that mistake in England, where they have had their unpleasant experiences and have learned what things can happen.

On Wednesday spot wheat in Chicago, real wheat that you could actually take to grind up into flour, cost $2.20 a bushel.

You are told that bread is going up because wheat is going up. Dearer wheat, of course, means dearer bread. But the bakers should tell how many ounces of wheat there are in one loaf, and what the actual increased cost of wheat in a loaf of bread amounts to. It doesn't amount to much, even with $2 wheat.

Andrew Carnegie gave away many libraries with no books in them. He was a humorous little Scotchman, and supplying plates with no food may have seemed to him rather amusing.

When he died he left a magnificent concert hall, named after him, in New York City. Now it is to be sold and torn down. It enabled millions of people to hear good music, and was more useful than any of the empty Carnegie libraries. If he were here it wouldn't be sold, probably.

Mr. Ottinger, the attorney general in New York state, refuses an automobile paid for by the public, and saves $370 a month to the state.

Iowa May Again Assume Control of Reservation

Federal Government Willing to Yield Jurisdiction Over Sac and Fox Indians, Inspector Says.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Cedar Rapids, Ia., Feb. 1.—The jurisdiction of the Sac and Fox Indians may be changed from the United States to the state of Iowa, if the state wishes to again assume control of the reservation at Tama, according to Dr. Samuel Blair, inspector of the Indian office at Washington. He has been on the reservation for the last week investigating the trouble which arose when Amos Morgan blinded Albert Moore, rival for his wife's affections.

Dr. Blair said some of the Indians have suggested the change, believing they would be better off if they were under control of the state. In the opinion of Dr. Blair, the recent trouble on the reservation and the friction existing between members of the tribe is due to the peculiar form of tribal government.

The government is an inheritance and is purely an autocracy. The tribal council perpetuates itself and when a vacancy occurs it is filled by the vote of the council, not by members of the tribe. While the council is autocratic the land holdings are purely socialist, the 370 Indians holding 3,300 acres of land. Dr. Blair says the tribal troubles have been aggravated by outside persons, whom he characterized as "would be uplifters," persons who are trying to exploit all the Indians as a fad for personal or financial gain.

The factional differences on the reservation are due to the annual "pow wows" which have been held since 1915. There are two organizations operating these "pow wows" and they have nothing in common, Dr. Blair said. The Indians were under the jurisdiction of Iowa from 1857 to 1896, when the state legislature, by special act, petitioned the federal government to take over the tribe.

A Wife's Confessionals

by Adele Garrison

The Nurse Uses a Ruse Upon Madgo With Telling Effect.

While I am a healthy and fairly strong young woman, yet I am no paragon of physical prowess, and my husband's mother is no light burden. Falling insensible against me after our return from the woodland, I managed to get her to the kitchen door without help. I have often wondered how I did it even though the distance traversed was a short one. But accomplish the feat I did, and sum myself up by kicking the door.

I heard Katie's voice in high-pitched vituperation as she realized that it was a kick in the head of a knock upon her carefully scrubbed white door.

"Quit dot you bum, whoever you are," she called raucously. "You think I haf nodings else to do mitout scrubbing doors after your maid—Oh-h Missis Graham, vot happened Ees old woman dead? I told you old woman go dead. Don't you know I told you—"

"Hush!" I commanded, all the more sternly, because I was not at all sure that my ignorant, superstitious little maid was not right in her surmise. "Help me carry her to the couch in the library, and keep quiet. We must not make any noise that young Mrs. Durkee can hear."

"I no speak," she whimpered, and with head averted, she grasped Mather Graham's feet, shivering as she did so, and walked with me to the library couch. She could have given me no plainer proof that she believed life to have fled from our burden. I was relieved, indeed, to see Edith Fairfax passing through the hall. I had meant to summon the nurse in attendance upon Lella and the baby as soon as I had put my mother-in-law's limp figure down. And here was the ideal messenger ready to my hand, one who would not alarm Lella, as Katie surely would have done.

Edith calls the Nurse.

Edith took one swift glance at us, spoke softly over her shoulder.

"I'll get the nurse at once," she said, wasting no time in questions. I spoke peremptorily to Katie when she had laid Mother Graham flat upon the couch.

"Have you boiling water in the teakettle?"

"Oh, yes, Missis Graham, but she no can swallow and you burn—"

"Will you be quiet?" I said sternly. "Bring me a cup of the boiling water, an empty bowl, and a pitcher of cold water at once."

"Oh! sure, I feex," she promised tearfully. Even before Lella's nurse appeared, she was back with the had caused the trouble had disappeared.

The king, forgetting about the spell which had been cast over her when she was a baby, sent for the court doctor, thinking the princess was ill.

But before the doctor got there, in flew the good fairy who had helped to watch over the princess. She had lovely yellow hair and a yellow dress. Her wings were snow white. Color her and cut her out and wait to see what she will do tomorrow.

Conference Upon Chinese Affairs

Session of Leaders Lasts Only Ten Minutes; Next Date Not Announced.

By Associated Press.

Pekin, Feb. 1.—The conference to readjust pressing financial and military affairs in China opened today with 146 present out of the 166 leaders invited.

Tuan Chi-Jui, head of the provisional government, made an address, with a poetic reference to springtime and seeding, of which he declared the present effort emblematic. Minister of the Interior Kung Hsin-Chen, representing the cabinet, spoke briefly, after which Chao Er-Teng, selected chairman because he is the oldest delegate, pronounced the conference formally opened.

The session lasted 10 minutes. The date of reconvening was not announced.

Although Tuan Chi-Jui accepted in principle the request by Sun Yat-sen for the admittance of popular representatives, Sun's critical illness and confusion in the Kuomintang party precluded the attendance of such delegates at the opening session.

PAINT AND PAINT BY INSTALLMENT

"Credit facilities are now extended to the home owner who wishes to paint his house, but does not have the cash to pay at once," advises J. M. Anderson, 616 Keeline building. Mr. Anderson installed the "Easy Payment Plan" several years ago, and it has met with due success.

"By handling the painting of the home on an 'Easy Payment Plan,' does not only ease the financial burden of the home owner, but helps beautify the city," says Anderson. "Nothing is more of an eye-sore to a community than paint-neglected homes," he added. "Lack of paint also interferes with the sale of property," he added, "taking many dollars from its sale price."

Mr. Anderson will furnish free estimates on painting and explain this "Easy Payment Plan" to those writing or calling at his office.

PROBLEM OF "B" BATTERY SOLVED

The problem of obtaining satisfactory "B" batteries for radio reception is solved by the use of Stoneco batteries.

The Stoneco Ignition company, 2517 Leavenworth street, Omaha's only battery manufacturer, manufactures a radio "B" battery that is neat in appearance and durable in construction.

The Stoneco battery will last longer than the average battery, due to the quality of material used and the over-size construction.

"Many battery manufacturers, in order to meet price competition, employ the use of undersize parts," advises E. A. Matern, proprietor. "The plates also contain adulterants, which lower the life of the battery."

"The inability of a battery to take a recharge is often due to these factors," he added.

Stoneco batteries are guaranteed as to quality of material and workmanship.

Radio fans are invited to inspect the firm's line of "A" and "B" storage batteries at the above address.
