Pressmen's Union Head Here to Aid Membership Drive; Speaks Tonight.

That Omaha will be able to handle the tremendous crowd expected to attend the national American Legion convention here next October was expressed Monday by Maj. George L. Berry, former national vice commander of the legion.

Major Berry will address legionnaires at Hotel Rome tonight. "Hotel facilities in Omaha are fully capable of handling a visiting population of 100,000, and from the hearty welcome I received this morning I vouchsafe there will be no regrets from anyone when the convention closes," said Major Berry.

Four trust funds of $25,000 each. to be used to provide university scholarships for deserving young men and women of Cass and Pottawattamie counties, are established by the will of Alice B. Graham, a copy of which was filed in Council Bluffs district court Monday. Miss Graham, who was the daughter of John W. Graham, a pioneer farmer of Atlantic, Ia., died in December, 1923, at Canton, Ill. Miss Craham does not specify the imber of students to benefit from the scholarship funds, but stipulates that the scholarship shall be awarded on a basis of scholastic record and through competitive examinations. Details of the administration will be fixed by the Council Bluffs school
