

Slogans Against Lawlessness Due in Contest Tonight

Chance for Winning $100 in Cash Prizes Closes With Ending of The Bee Offer.

Have you entered the slogan contest being promoted by The Omaha Bee in conjunction with the Broadway theater, where "Broken Laws" is being shown this week?

The contest will be closed Wednesday night, so there is yet time to compete for the first cash prize of $50...

"Broken Laws" is a dramatization of everyday plain married folks, whose children "have the run of the lot," with the result that is shown in a convincing and interesting manner on the screen.

Many slogans already have been submitted, evincing a keen interest in the contest. The selection of the four best slogans will be made after the contest closes Wednesday night.

Address slogans to The Slogan Editor, The Omaha Bee.

NEW NONSTOP FLIGHT BEGINS

Etampes, France, Feb. 3.—Two French army aviators, Capt. Lemaître and Lieut. Arrachard, started in an airplane this morning in an attempt at a non-stop flight to Dakar, French West Africa. The aviators carried fuel sufficient to keep their machine in the air 23 hours.

The route goes through Biarritz and Lisbon and thence down the southwestern European and western coast of Africa, a distance of more than 2,600 miles. The aviators hoped to cover this in 23 hours.

The airplane they are using is the same type as that in which Capt. Pelletier Doloy was killed in his Paris-Tokyo flight. Pelletier Doloy was to have been the pilot in this flight, but was chosen for the official flight across the Sahara to Lake Chad and his place was taken by Captain Lemaître.

Senate Group Has Favorable Report Upon German Pact

Washington, Feb. 3.—The German commercial treaty was favorably reported today by the senate foreign relations committee with reservations, which failed, however, to remove the objection which has prevented ratification of the convention for more than a year.

Under the reservations, the State department's policy against discrimination in favor of American shipping would remain in full force for at least a year, but thereafter it could be changed upon ninety days' notice to Germany.

Will Launch Fight

After the committee had acted, Chairman Borah said the reservations left the matter of policy with Congress, but opponents of the treaty took an opposite view and made it plain they would launch a fight in the senate for a specific statement that the determination of future policy should rest with congress and not with the executive department.

Some proponents of the treaty said favorable action had been taken in the committee merely to get the treaty on the floor of the senate for thrashing out there of differences as to whether the door is to be closed to the stimulation of the American merchant marine through the imposition of preferential tariff duties on imports in American bottoms.

Hog Production Increase Urged in Farm Reports

Department of Agriculture Recommends Same Corn Acreage as 1924; Dairy Expansion Not Good.

Washington, Feb. 3.—A "considerable increase" in hog production next fall and a corn acreage "about the same as in 1924," were recommended by the Department of Agriculture in the second section of its annual outlook report.

"Beef cattle prices this year," the report said, "should average somewhat higher than last year, and those for sheep and wool should be at least on a par with those of 1924."

Dairymen were urged in the report to make no further expansion in their industry. Higher egg prices were forecast during the peak production season of the year, but the report warned that poultry prices may be lower.

"Hog producers," the report said, "enter 1925 with 13 per cent fewer hogs than a year ago, and there is every indication that prices during the next 10 months will be higher than at any time since 1920. Six to eight million fewer pigs will be born this spring than last."

Fewer sows will farrow next fall than farrowed last fall if producers respond to the unfavorable relation of corn and hog prices as they have done in the past.

While the 1924 corn crop will probably be well cleared up, an increased acreage in 1925 does not appear advisable in view of the indicated reduction in the feeding demand. Stocks of old corn on farms are likely to be smaller than usual in the beginning of the new crop year, 1925, but it appears that not more than an average crop will be required to supply the needs of the country for both feed and commercial purposes.

"Prices for beef cattle for 1925 should average somewhat higher than for 1924. The industry is gradually working into a more favorable position, due to the relation of beef to competing commodities, especially pork, improved industrial conditions and in no small measure to the cattleman's own sacrifices. Market receipts will probably be somewhat smaller than in 1924. All conditions indicate that the long-time outlook for the industry is even more favorable."

House Joins With Senate in Plans for Arms Meeting

Modifies Language, However, of Disarmament Amendment to Navy Appropriation Bill, Causing Delay.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The house concurred late today in the senate disarmament amendment to the navy appropriation bill, but insisted on a slight modification of its language.

The amendment, originally proposed by Senator King, democrat, Utah, was changed to read that the president be "requested" to invite other nations into conference for discussion of further limitation of land and sea armaments, instead of "authorized and requested."

This alteration, made at the suggestion of Representative French, republican, Idaho, in charge of the bill, prevented complete adoption by the house of the conference report, already approved by the senate. Senate concurrence on the modified provision is necessary before the bill can go to the president.

The house accepted the armament section by a viva voce vote, Representative Byrnes, democrat, South Carolina, author of a similar rider attached to last year's navy bill, joining French in urging the modification.

Prior to this action the house accepted a number of senate amendments to the bill, among them one appropriating $100,000 for a submarine base extension at Key West, Fla., $20,000 for improvement to building 13 at the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard; another allotting $751,000 for additional naval hospital facilities and one which would prohibit a naval or marine corps officer while on leave of absence from receiving pay or allowances for a period in excess of that for which he is entitled to full pay unless the president otherwise directs.

Family in Peril as Home Burns

Newcastle, Feb. 3.—Many neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Beiden here and gave a miscellaneous shower of all kinds of household utensils and clothing for their daughter, Mrs. Alphonse Sequin, who came here from Elk Point, S. D., when a fire destroyed the farm house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Sequin and they lost all their household effects except the scant clothing they were wearing as they escaped in the bitter cold to the home of neighbors a mile or two away.

Mrs. Sequin and four children were saved almost miraculously, he family had finished breakfast and Mr. Sequin had gone to the barn when the oldest boy, 10, started to rebuild the fire, which he thought was entirely out, by pouring into the stove kerosene, which exploded, throwing oil and fire to all parts of the room.

Mrs. Sequin and her four children were in the room at the time. She grabbed her 18-month-old baby by the arm and fled out of the door to the barn, while the oldest boy, who received hardly a burn from the explosion, and the two smaller boys followed their mother out the door, all escaping with their hair slightly singed.
