By GEORGE R. HOLMES, International News Service Staff Correspondent. Washington, Feb. 11.—Today might have been one of the most tempestuous days in the history of the republic—but it wasn't. Instead of a stalemate in the electoral college, with congress running around in circles trying to elect a president—so freely speculated on and predicted a few months ago—the senate and house met in joint session this afternoon and went through the constitutional formality of declaring Calvin Coolidge and Charles G. Dawes to have been elected president and vice president, respectively of these united States.

This time-honored, legal and quite necessary ceremony was held in the hall of the house of representatives and consisted primarily of a formal counting of the votes of the electoral college. It used to be a most important ceremony, but in these radio days it passed almost unnoticed, even official Washington.

Tellers Appointed. The senate and house each appointed tellers, according to the constitutional practice. Senators Spencer, publisher, of Missouri, and King, democrat, of Utah, acted for the upper chamber, and Representatives White, republican of Kansas, and Jeter, democrat, of Alabama, for the

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $7.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill it up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you must use at least more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept any other else. Guaranteed to give you complete satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

New York --Day by Day--

By O. O. MINTYRE. New York, Feb. 11.—The Greenwich Village attics offer many tragedies of genius. And there is true bohemia there. Indeed most of those who display the noblest shields in art were once bohemians in the days they were climbing the green upward slope of youth.

Yet for the most part the Village is filled with bunk and it's habitues are traveling paths that arrive nowhere. They are mere dreamers for whom art is a creed and not a craft and under this cloak of Bohemia they haze through inactive days. To me, however, there is something appealing about the stoicism of these attic dwellers, even though it is carried to absurdity. They make no outcry in their mad heroism. They have brought themselves to this dire want and so they suffer in silence. No whining.

Many men and women are living in the Village on less than $500 a year. The idolatrous worshiping of a chimeria brings the yelping wolf to the door. In the coffee houses and tearooms they sit for days and days talking of work they will never do. If a sudden windfall comes their way they exhaust it in a burst of profligacy. If a real job is offered them, they scutter away like a frightened rabbit.

In the beginning it is a delightful life. A life that is lived only for the day and it ends in the hospital or the Potters field. There is one bohemian who did not leave his attic room for three months. He lived in a dressing gown and wore sonnets. In the cul-de-sac of Barrow street there are 12 ambitious scribblers living in three small rooms. There is the co-operative plan. If one sells a short story or a bit of verse the others share in the spoils.

Farmer Brown's Boy Is Worried. Farmer Brown's Boy looked out on a world of glistening white. It was a beautiful world. As Jolly, round bright Mr. Sun climbed above the tree tops it seemed as if millions of diamonds were flashing everywhere. Yes, indeed, it was a beautiful world. But the face of Farmer Brown's Boy wore a worried look. "It looks to me as if there is a hard crust," he muttered. "Yes, sirree, it looks to me as if there is a hard crust. That means trouble for a lot of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. Some of them are going to go hungry unless I look out for them. This is certainly going to be hard for a lot of them, and the sooner I get out the better."
