

Prowling Washington With Nebraskans.

By JACK LEE.

Jack Lee.

Congressman "Bob" Simmons of the Big Six district, got up in the house the other day and spoke his mind outright. In his opinion congress is spending too much time with pliffs and ignoring measures which are vital to the farmers. The young Nebraskan scoured these tactics and demanded that agriculture be given immediate consideration. He is of the opinion that congress should pay immediate attention to the recommendations made to congress by the members of President Coolidge's farm and agricultural commission. Congressman Simmons also believes that congress should pass a permanent 15 per cent ad valorem tax on hides in order to benefit Nebraska cattle men. The ways and means committee has an abundance of information on the subject and he urged that it report out such a bill after one hearing. Such a move would engender quick action from the senate. He feels that the emergency exists and a special tariff schedule should be drafted immediately and passed at once as Nebraska cattlemen are entitled to this relief without further delay.

The house committee on Agriculture has been considering a bill for farm relief introduced some time ago by Congressman M. O. McLaughlin of the Fourth district. Several hearings have been had on the bill, but as yet no definite action toward reporting the bill out, has been taken.

Victor Rosewater, former owner and publisher of The Omaha Bee, and son of the late Edward Rosewater, pioneer Nebraska newspaper editor, was in the office a few days ago. Mr. Rosewater is now living in Philadelphia.

Rev. George Dorn of Kountze Memorial church was in Washington the fore part of the week in the interests of the bill providing a universal divorce law. While in Washington Rev. Mr. Dorn held conferences with Senators Capper and Sterling, who have shown a great interest in the bill, and Senators Howell and Norris. This bill is now pending before house and senate committees. Rev. Mr. Dorn also called at the office of Congressman Sears. From Washington he went to Philadelphia to attend a meeting of the moral and social welfare committee of the United Lutheran church. Rev. Mr. Dorn is the only minister west of Springfield, O., on this committee, which has charge of these aspects in the church work. The committee will make recommendations to the church when it holds its next annual convention in Richmond, Va., in 1926.

W. H. Loomis of the Union Pacific law department was in Washington this week on a business visit.

R. W. Nedrow of Fairmont, Neb., has accepted a position in the office of Congressman Simmons.

Grant Cleveland of the W. Farnam South company, was in Washington last week, returning from a visit in Florida and Texas. While here he visited Congressman Shellenberger.

Since attractions such as "Ladies of the Evening," "The Harlem" and "Then What?" have shown their wares in Washington, the district commission has decided that the morals of the citizenry must be guarded and there is strong talk now of a censor being appointed to delete all dramas in the capital city. It is said that at the presentation of one or two of the above named plays the heat could have been turned off in the theater without any fear of the place getting too cold.

Mrs. Watson E. Coleman, formerly of Tecumseh, Neb., is one of the Nebraska women in Washington who takes an active part in the social affairs of the city. Tuesday evening Mrs. Watson and Mrs. David H. Kincheloe, wife of Representative Kincheloe of Kentucky, held a reception and musical in the Kincheloe apartments in Clifton Terrace. In the receiving line with Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Kincheloe were Mrs. Alben Berkeley and Mrs. Maurice Thatcher, wives of Kentucky representatives; and Mesdames Walker Buehl, Virginia; Wymore, Hat Smith, Theodore Shuey, M. M. Neff, Margaret Mansfield and Miss Marie J. McGuire and Miss Edna Morgan. Throughout the reception there was special music. The apartments were tastefully decorated and light refreshments were served. Mrs. Coleman takes an active interest in the affairs of the Nebraska State society in Washington.

Record Snowfall.

Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—More than five inches of snow recently fell on Mount Wilson, near here, establishing a new record for recent years.

Midland College Notes.

Preparations are being made for holding the largest local oratorical contest in the history of Midland college. Wednesday, February 25, at the chapel hour, five orators will compete for the $15 and $10 prizes.

"The Hour Glass," an Irish morality play, in one act, written by William Butler Yeats, was presented by the members of the dramatic art club under the supervision of Mrs. Hawkinson, Friday afternoon.

Rev. C. P. Harris of Philadelphia, one of the student secretaries of the United Lutheran church, while on his way from the Lutheran student conference, recent held at Lincoln, stopped off in Peoria, Ill., Tuesday to speak to the Midland students.

At the Lutheran student association conference for the southwestern region held at Lincoln it was decided to hold next year's annual meeting at Midland. Herbert Dieban, a Midland student, was chosen president.

State student volunteer convention was held at York last week-end. Edmund Wood of Midland, was elected vice president for the coming year.

Yearly debating contests have been working consistently since the Christmas holidays and owing to the latter, the college has the honor to announce that it should have the power to annul by a two-thirds vote, those decisions of the supreme court which declare acts of congress unconstitutional. The schedule for the season consists of five dual debates and one single encounter, the latter being with the Gettysburg college from Pennsylvania.

Broccoli, Vegetable Appetite Teaser, Makes Appearance

...but have been getting their, chef de cuisine at Hotel Fontenelle, showing Charles Sanbaside, chef de legume of the hotel, how to prepare broccoli with the famous recipes for which the former is noted.

By ARCH JACOBS.

A new vegetable has made its appearance in Omaha.

It is called broccoli and tastes like cauliflower, spinach and Brussel sprouts combined.

It is also called the "college" plant, because of the long period it has taken the original planters of the vegetable to graft the vegetables together and make it edible.

The first of the plants, which resembles spinach, made its appearance in Omaha several days ago and is now being served at Hotel Fontenelle.

"It will become the most popular vegetable in the country as soon as the public knows what it tastes like," declared Ray Stroh, purchasing agent of Hotel Fontenelle.

Stroh said the plant is being grown in large quantities by the Japanese farmers in California since it has been placed on the market.

David Bernobo, chef de cuisine at Hotel Fontenelle, says the vegetable cooked with a piece of bacon has the old-fashioned dish of spinach and bacon "beat to pieces."

"It melts in your mouth when well prepared," he said.

Following is his recipe: Vegetable should be very green and tender, well-trimmed and washed in cold salt water. Place in saucepan containing boiling water and a little butter. Remove to side of range and cook slowly until three-quarters done. Salt water and finish cooking. Dress with the same weight of flour, diluted with one-half pint of cold water. Add some salt, whole pepper and cloves, and grated nutmeg. One-half ounce of butter. Put on fire and constantly stir well until boiling. Then allow to cook slowly for 15 minutes. Remove from fire and incorporate by degrees one pound of butter, and the juice of two lemons. If sauce becomes too thick, add more water. Then strain through a tammi or a cheese cloth. Serve hot. With this sauce a quantity of other oysters may be made such as caper, oysters, egg, horseradish.

White Sauce.
Melt some butter in a saucepan and beat this with the same weight of flour. Season with salt and pepper and nutmeg and moisten with water. Place on fire and constantly stir until it begins to double. Thicken just before serving with egg yolks, cream and fresh butter, adding the juice of a lemon. Strain the same through a tammi or cheese cloth and serve.

Polonaise.
Place chopped boiled eggs on broccoli. Melt fresh butter on hot fire, heat to boiling point, add grated bread crumbs and brown.

ORATORY MEET BE AT FREMONT
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Fremont, Neb., Feb. 21.—The annual oratorical contest of the Nebraska college conference will be held at Midland in Fremont this year on March 14.

Grand Island, Kearney Normal, Colner, Hastings, Nebraska Wesleyan have already signified intentions of sending representatives.

Income Taxes Paid With Smiles

This Year, for They're Lower

A pleasant surprise awaits you at the internal revenue office this year. Those who have already paid their income tax for 1924 are pleased at the difference from previous years, say the clerks who are assisting the puzzled taxpayers.

The rate of taxation on incomes up to $5,000 has been reduced from 4 and 8 per cent last year to 2 and 4 per cent this year.

"We are lucky to live in America today," said Collector A. B. Allen. "This is true especially if we compare the tax in America with that in England and Germany. In England the normal tax is 25 per cent higher than in America."

25 Per Cent Credit.
"A credit of 25 per cent of the tax on earned incomes for 1924, on incomes up to $5,000, has been added, which was not given in previous years. There is no reason for complaint."

Most Omahans who have already paid the income tax this year praise the government for the reduction, said one clerk. There is no grumbling this year and not so much effort to escape from paying on small items.

Most everyone who has paid the tax is surprised at the credit of 25 per cent on earned incomes up to $5,000. The exemption of $2,500 for married men this year as compared to $2,000 of previous years has pleased the taxpayers as has the $400 exemption for each dependent instead of $200. Building and loan dividends up to $300 are also exempt. Dividends on stock of domestic corporations are exempt, except for surtax.

Just an example of the rate of reduction on income tax since the tax was first made: A married man with one dependent having an income of $12,500 in 1918 paid an income tax of $1,187. In 1919 the tax on the same amount of $863. In 1922 the tax was $742 and in 1923 the tax was $557.25. Under the present law the taxpayer would pay only $310 on the same income.

Union Store Manager Quits.
Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Beatrice, Neb., Feb. 21.—R. D. Kieppinger, who recently assumed charge of the Union store at Filley, has resigned his position and Jacob Heyen, the president, is in charge.

KEROSENE USER SEVERELY BURNED

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Chester, Neb., Feb. 21.—Jack Ray Chester, former railway brakeman, was so badly burned by a kerosene can explosion in his home this morning that he cannot live, according to physicians.

Ray attempted to pour oil out of the can onto supposedly dead coals in the living room the resulting explosion bursting the can and throwing fire over the room and Ray clothing was completely burned from his body. The wife and a young child succeeded in escaping in safety from the room. The rug and several articles of furniture were burned.
