

Postal Increase Bill to Coolidge Measure Carrying Salary Boost Goes to White House for Approval.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Congress sent the new omnibus postal bill to the White House today for President Coolidge's approval. The measure, which will become a law as soon as the president signs it, will provide $65,000,000 wage increases for postal employees and exact a similar amount of increased postal revenues from higher postal rates.

This provision was added by congress to meet the objections raised by the president when he vetoed a pay increase bill last year. In its present form, it is said to meet the president's approval.

One thousand pupils were registered at the university last year."

WEST CATTLE MEN NOT SO HARD HIT

Nebraska cattle men are not in as bad financial straits as cattle men of other states, according to John N. Flannigan, Stuart, Neb., banker and former head of the Nebraska War Finance corporation, an Omaha visitor Friday.

Flannigan said the state has plenty of cattle, although not as many as have heretofore. "What was needed is a better price for cows. Steers are bringing a good price but cows are not. If there is to be a shortage of 'T-bone' steaks it won't be due to the Nebraska cattle men," Flannigan said.

Barthelme Stars With Wife in Film

Richard Barthelme and Mary Hay in "New Toys"

Theatergoers who visit the Rialto theater to see Richard Barthelme in "New Toys," will doubtless wonder about the identity of the baby in the picture. Barthelme and his wife, Mary Hay, play the roles of a young married couple in "New Toys," and the newest top of the drama is their baby. The child is played by Baby Pat O'Connor and not by Mr. and Mrs. Barthelme's own daughter, Mary Hay Barthelme. Hundreds of film fans have written to Mr. and Mrs. Barthelme asking if tiny Mary Hay will appear sometime on the screen. Barthelme says that will depend wholly upon Mary Hay, herself, when she gets big enough to decide the question. The film is showing for a week, commencing today at the Rialto in conjunction with the Rialto-Herzberg style revue.

Its coolness and mellow "body" are a revelation to pipe smokers

Back about 1870, James N. Wellman developed a secret tobacco process which won instant and widespread favor. It yielded a fuller-bodied richness, mildness and fragrance which just seemed to go with a pipe. AT THE THEATERS

While the present vaudeville engagement of McIntyre and Heath marks a period of 51 years of stage association of this foremost black-face comedy team in the theatrical world, they are still as spontaneously funny as if they were two boys just beginning their career, and they work just as hard. They are coming to the Orpheum theater next week as the headline attraction and this engagement marks their last appearance in vaudeville. Mr. Heath is 69 years old and Mr. McIntyre is 67. Heath is straight as an arrow and looks 29 years younger than his age. McIntyre looks 37 instead of 67. In years they have grown old together, but in work they have kept young together, as is evidenced by the vim and enjoyment which they bring to their stage work.

It may be of interest to readers to know that Manager Johnson of the Gayety considers the present attraction, "Let's Go" with Manny King, and the five following attractions booked for March showing the six strongest bookings of Columbia burlesque to be offered in succession during the present season, each of the six shows being headed by a name that means much to burlesque fans—and let it be known that burlesque has its favorite players as well as any other branch of theatricals. The attractions in question are: Manny King in "Let's Go" (now playing); Harry (Rib) Shannon and Artie Leeming in "Come Along," opening Sunday; after which will come in succession Harry Stepe in his own show; Dave Marion, "siding" Billy Watson, Watson and Cohan, Harry (Hickey) Le Van. These are all "draw" names in burlesque and should mean a busy 6 or 7 weeks for the Gayety.

magazine covers. Her name is Betty Burroughs and she comes to the Gayety Sunday with "Come Along." Betty is a favorite model for the magazine-cover artists, who specialize in head figures. She also has been pictured in millions of impressions of the lithographing presses. Artists who draw or paint girls' heads have many difficulties in finding models. If the head shape is right, the hair is wrong, or vice versa. But Betty seems to be the happy combination. A well-shaped head, pretty features and golden curls. So she's much in demand and it's only her liking for the stage that brings her to Omaha in "Come Along."
