

Seen Around Nebraska

Looking down over Catpohll, Neb.

Swimming pool in Senter park at Franklin, Neb.

A beauty spot in a roadway leading into Nebraska City.

Not strictly Nebraska, but a next-door neighbor. The home of Mrs. Pauline Kuhn, 10 miles northeast of Goodland, Kan. Mrs. Kuhn's husband died 15 years ago, whereupon she undertook the operation of this farm, with the result that today she is one of the most successful and prosperous farmers in her county.

A typical home in David City, Neb., that of Thomas Sanley.

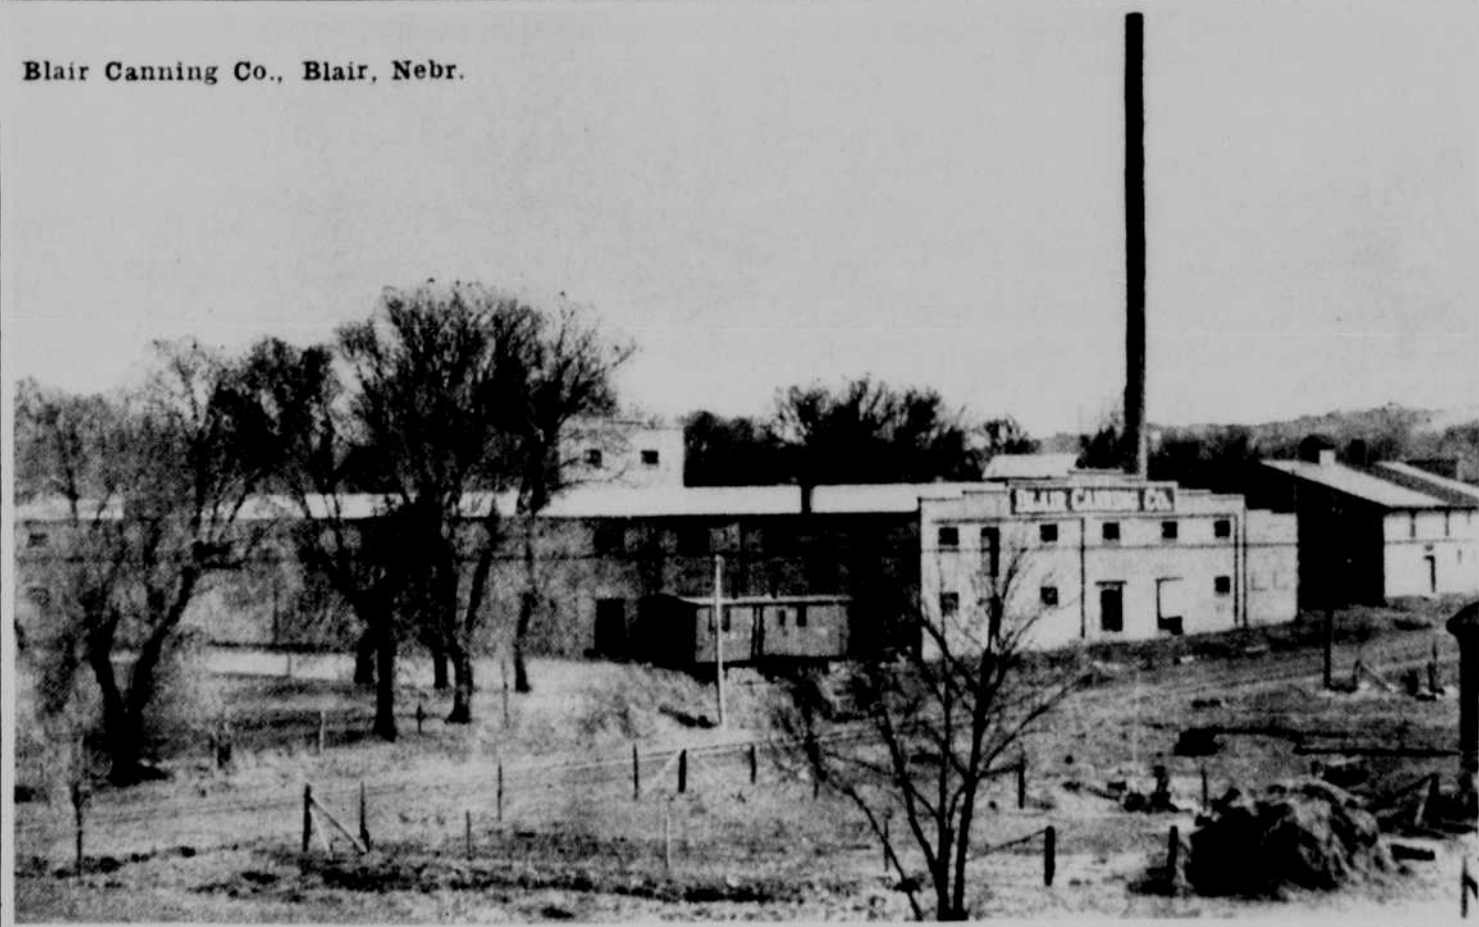

The home of a country editor, that of E. E. Betzer, publisher of the Blade at Seward, Neb.

On the Meridian highway entering Crofton, Neb., from the west

Blair Canning Co., Blair, Nebr.

The Blair Canning company plant at Blair, Neb.

City park at Fort Calhoun, Neb., showing the Lewis and Clark monument in the foreground.