

McMullen Names Condra to Serve on Water Board

Will Meet With Representatives of Other States to Discuss Reclamation Payments.

Special Dispatch to The Omaha Bee. Lincoln, April 3.—Governor McMullen today announced appointment of Dr. G. E. Condra of the state university to serve on a board authorized by the federal government to study irrigation problems in the North Platte valley with a view to rearranging terms of payment for federal reclamation work. Sitting on the board with Dr. Condra will be Thomas E. Campbell, former governor of Arizona, and John Widstoe of Utah, both appointed by the secretary of the interior. The board will open its meetings at Scottsbluff, April 11.

Governor McMullen has had another North Platte valley problem to solve in the last week growing out of a disagreement between beet sugar growers and the sugar companies over signing of contracts for the coming beet sugar crop. An appeal was directed to the governor to arbitrate and the governor offered to hold a hearing of representatives of both sides in the controversy with an understanding that the agreement reached should be binding on both parties.

The governor stated today that he had received a wire from the beet sugar growers' association accepting his plan. As yet, nothing to indicate such a plan has met the approval of the beet sugar manufacturers has been received.

Tomorrow the governor will hold an open hearing on the bill passed by the recent legislature amending the workmen's compensation law. The governor has withheld his signature pending the hearing, which promises to be dramatic if plans of certain persons are carried out and numerous employes badly maimed

White-Crowned Robin Pays Visit to Harvard

Harvard, April 3.—Bird lovers here report having seen a white-crowned robin in the southeast part of town. The unusual bird has a distinct white "cap" upon its head, but otherwise is marked like other robins.

and crippled appear in the governor's office. The amendments take away the no limit feature on fees to be charged by physicians and limits their compensation to $200. It also takes away payments for life for those permanently disabled and makes the limit 400 weeks. Another new feature of the bill is to force consideration of prior health and habits of injured employees in reckoning compensation.

Circus Politics in Prussia Ended

Otto Braun Again Elected to Post of Premier Which He Resigned in January.

By The Associated Press. Berlin, April 3.—With the reelection today of Otto Braun to the post of premier which he resigned last January, an era of circus politics in Prussia came to a temporary close.

The election terminates the parliamentary crisis which has been unique in the hectic run of the German post-war politics and which originally was precipitated by the German people's party for the avowed purpose of breaking up the socialist-democrat regime.

While the reactionaries at no time commanded enough votes in the diet to overthrow permanently a three party coalition government, their opposition was sufficiently strong to embarrass socialist-democratic bloc in its liberty of action.

Today's reelection of Herr Braun, after ex-Chancellor Marx twice failed to maintain himself in the office and after Dr. Hermann Hoepker-Aschog, the democratic nominee, also declined the post, is the result of a bargain among the three republican parties. Its first aim is to placate the socialists by according them leadership in Prussia in return for the vote of the radical parties for Dr. Marx, candidate for the German presidency.
