

Railroading through the mountains in winter is no light task. Even on so short a freight train as this the Great Northern has to double-head through Glacier National park.

Betty Garder, Otto Kruger and Jean May, featured players in "The Nervous Wreck," which begins a four-day engagement at the Brandeis theater today. "The Nervous Wreck" is the latest of the 92 plays written by Owen Davis and it is said to be the best of the whole 92. The play is a comedy hit.

Ribbed fabric for spring. This smart ensemble is of green cote dolphin with dress made of flat crepe. The coat is lined with flat crepe. The dress is a sport model showing the new front pleats below the knee, and with braided belt of green cote dolphin. The hat is green white straw. Copyright by Cheney.

She's said to be the most promising screen discovery in years, Greta Nissen, who has been signed to a long-term contract by Famous Players-Lasky. She first attracted the attention of Jesse Lasky by her dance in the pantomime in "Beggar on Horseback." Now she's headed toward stardom in the films.

Look at 'em strut! A home talent minstrel parade in Falls City, Neb., in 1892. This picture was extracted from the archives by W. H. Kellogg, 806 North Thirty-ninth street, who identified himself as the third man in the line on the right.

University of Omaha glee club. Top row, left to right: Maurice Vest, William Christy, Edward Sterner, Fletcher Slater, Clifford Hansen, Clare Goodsell, Philip Holmberg. Middle row, left to right: Windham Borham, Zedec Galbraith, Homer Schleh, Perry Borcharding, Edgar Blek, Theodore Drella, Louis Murdoch, Dale Lloyd, Louis Mathers. Bottom row, left to right: Wilburg Tholben, Thomas Cowan, Walter Munson, Howard Anderson, Hugh Wallace, Joe Huston, Carl Stromberg, Irving Changstrom, Ben Meade. Photo by Skoglund.

Married half a century. Mr. and Mrs. John Weber of Cook, Neb., with their eight sons and four daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Weber lived in Ogee county for 35 years before moving to Cook 15 years ago. The 12 children are, according to age: Charles P. Weber, William Weber, Mrs. Herman Danne, Louis Weber, John Weber, jr., Edward Weber, Mrs. Jack Oetken, Herman Weber, Albert Weber, Mrs. William Mittelberg, Mrs. Herman Seeba, August Weber.