

Roosevelt Wins Over Parker by Huge Majority

President Overjoyed at Republican Landslide; He Even Carries Missouri; Third Term Statement.

(Copyright, 1925.) President Roosevelt was not without unpopularity during the campaign of 1924, as is shown by his letters to Senator Lodge published below. His confidence grows however as the campaign progresses. He seemed more confident election day than there was a big crowd of well-wishers in favor of Alton B. Parker, his democratic opponent for the White House.

I have really not very much to do. As far as I am concerned, my heaviest work for the campaign has been done by the three years of administration. But I have been hard at work on my speech, and now shall be hard at work on my letter. I heard from Taft the other day, saying that Parker's telegram made him stronger on the day it was written than he ever would after that; that, in his view, his strength would decrease. Perhaps this is true. I do not like the Wisconsin situation, and I cannot help thinking that it was not fair to the national republican party to choose this year to bolt La Follette. It would have been all right if the same electors could have gone on the same electoral ticket, but as they cannot, the action is certain to jeopardize the national ticket, and it would have been far better for the national standpoint for the bolters to support the democratic candidate for governor outright. I feel as you do about West Virginia. If we lose that state it will be owing to the fault of our own state leaders. Here in New York, where close on a million and a half votes will be cast, and where the difference may be a few thousand one way or the other, it is simply out of the question to prophesy. These are things for us and things against us. However, there is not much use in trying to make a forecast of the situation. The thing to do is to strain every nerve to bring the result right. Love to Nannie. Ever yours, THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Hon. H. C. Lodge, Nahant, Mass. (Below President Roosevelt refers to Frank Higgins, the successful candidate for governor of New York.)

Augustana College A Capella Choir to Sing Here

Omaha is having its share of a capella choir concerts this spring. Two weeks ago the Lincoln A Capella choir sang at First Presbyterian church and the fire ordinance had to be temporarily suspended while hundreds crowded the aisles to hear the singers.

Now comes the announcement that the capella choir of Augustana college at Sioux Falls, S. D., will present a concert at Hotel Fontenelle Friday evening. The concert is sponsored by the choir of Our Savior's Lutheran church. This choir has won prominence in South Dakota by its capella work under the direction of Prof. Carl Youngdahl, and has appeared with large success in a number of northern Nebraska towns. It is now starting on its first annual tour, which will take it to the Pacific coast and back again.

The committee in charge of arrangements for this concert is composed of Rev. R. Uvildin (chairman), E. M. Erickson, Aulga Erickson, Miss Jennie Hansen, George Gibson, Fred Boien and Miss Mabel Nelson. A large list of patrons has been secured and in addition the concert has the support of 20 Lutheran churches in Omaha. A delegation of music lovers from Fremont is also planning to attend the concert. The program for the concert follows:

"Blessing, Glory and Wisdom" J. S. Bach (Andante con moto, Violon. Chorale), "No Darkest West" from "The City of God" by St. Augustine. Matthews (Chorale), "In Heaven Above" by R. N. Dett (Allegro), "The Good Shepherd" by J. B. Cramer (Andante), "Hymn of Praise" by J. B. Cramer (Andante), "O Sacred Head" by J. B. Cramer (Andante), "Motet for Eight Parts" by J. B. Cramer (Andante), "Beautiful Savior" by G. Schlegel (Andante), "Woke Awake, for Night is Flying" by S. S. Wesley (Andante).

Higgins is an admirable man. He would make as good a governor as we have had within my recollection. Perhaps, on descendant of the Puritans, I will make you realize best the kind of man I think him when I tell you that I would regard him as above the level of the average of Massachusetts governors—a fitler which it is perhaps unnecessary for me to say where he stands in reference to the average New York governor! With love to Nannie. Always yours, THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Hon. H. C. Lodge, Nahant, Massachusetts.

Dear Cabot: The situation in New York has taken an upward turn, and it looks as if we stood a better chance than the democrats of winning the national ticket. When people get to cutting the state ticket as extensively as they still threaten to do, one can never tell what the result will be. Moreover, as the democrats are carrying on a campaign of pure slander, we shall undoubtedly have to face numerous fake stories during the next three weeks, and some of these may carry weight. Ever yours, T. R. Roosevelt. White House, Washington, D. C. To Hon. H. C. Lodge, Nahant, Mass. Have swept the country by majorities which astound me. How is Massachusetts? THEO. ROOSEVELT. UNITED STATES SENATE Committee on the Philippines. Nahant, Mass., Nov. 9, 1904. Personal Dear Theodore: You have received the greatest honor which can come to an American, and no man ever deserved it better. Your place in history was already safe, but it has now been signed and sealed by the verdict of your contemporaries—by the men of your own time—and you have four years in which to add to the fame you have won and the great work you have done. I received your telegram this morning. Many thanks. I could not help smiling at your inquiry about the Massachusetts legislature. Since 1855 the smallest republican majority, which was in the year 1891, on joint ballot was 49. Last year we had 31 senators out of 40. This year we shall have 34 out of 40, a gain of three. Last year we had 134 out of 240 representatives. This year we shall have 140 out of 240. In other words, we have gained three senators and six representatives. Your active mind

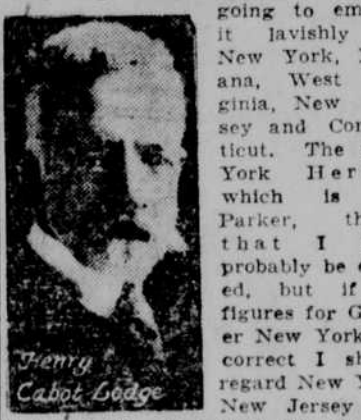

Ever yours, THEODORE ROOSEVELT. Hon. H. C. Lodge, Nahant, Massachusetts. Nahant, Mass., Nov. 3, 1904. Personal Dear Theodore: The "World" this morning, I saw, had gotten hold of your accident while out riding. I do not think it is a very serious campaign story as far as the campaign is concerned, but I am very sorry you had a fall. I have just returned from New York, where I saw everybody, and heard all the stories and rumors and estimates. I do not change my opinion in the least. You are going to carry New York state, in my judgment, by a large majority. I think everything is going well, but we are in the last hours of the campaign, everyone is tired and nervous, and the air is thick with rumors. I do not believe a vote has been changed by anything that has happened in the last 10 days. Parker's speeches are flat failures and I think are hurting him. Ever yours, H. C. LODGE.

To the President: P. S.—I have just heard that we have gained 10, instead of six seats in the lower branch of the legislature. The governor's vote was something wholly apart. Everything else was a perfect sweep. To give you an idea of the way Bates was out, you carried Lynn, my home city, by 3,400 against 1,600 for McKinley in 1900, and Bates lost the city by 500. The state committee has just telephoned me that your majority will be over 89,000. I read your speech with profound interest and admiration. I know, of course, how you felt in regard to an other term, but it had not occurred to me that you would say it at that precise moment. It was the moment of all others, in which to say it, and it will give you, if such a thing were needed, more strength than ever in the confidence of your countrymen.

WHITE HOUSE, Washington, Nov. 10, 1904. Dear Cabot: You were right about the election.

Personal Dear Cabot: Well, I shall be glad when this next week is over. Persistent rumors have led me to think that the democrats have large sums of money and are going to employ it lavishly in New York, Indiana, West Virginia, New Jersey and Connecticut. The information we have does not bear out these figures at all. Indiana, I fear, is doubtful. Well, the white man is proverbially "uncertain" especially in politics, and I shall keep my mind prepared for anything until after the returns are in. Give our love to Nannie. Edith and I have had lovely rides. A week ago my horse put his foot through a rotten plank on a bridge and turned a somersault. I landed on my head and skinned my forehead. Most fortunately the paramours have not seemed to get hold of it—which, as the mark was about the size of a small saucer and skin came completely off, was remarkable.

Personal Dear Cabot: I do not like to seem over-confident; and I have had enough experience of slip-ups in sure things, and I feel sufficient concern over Wisconsin, West Virginia, Colorado, Rhode Island, and other states, to keep a perfectly open mind as to the result in November; but at the present going on the whole look well. The exception is here in New York. BANK OF HEALTH Do you realize that you must make deposits in the bank of health everyday! Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to comb or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it; then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you may have. This simple remedy never fails.

1,300 Gangs in Chicago Slums Members Are 50,000 Boys, Says Professor; Are High Schools of Crime.

Chicago, April 11.—More than 1,300 "high schools of crime" thrive in Chicago, according to Frederick M. Thrasher, professor of economics and sociology at Illinois Wesleyan university, in an address here at luncheon meeting. "No less than 1,313 gangs have been found in the city of Chicago and its environs," Professor Thrasher said. "The total membership of these gangs may be placed at 50,000. They are composed of boys and young men ranging in age from seven to 30 years. The habit of the gangs is that broad twilight zone of railroads and factories, of deteriorating neighborhoods and shifting populations which border the city's central business district on the northwest and south. There is a world of once strange and fascinating. They live in a universe distinctly their own—a sphere as far removed from the humdrum existence
