Railroad Notice.

Pursuant to a former notice given, the citizens of Bellevue and vicinity met at the Bellevue House on Saturday evening, the 14th, and on motion of Hon. S. A. Strickland, Hon. Jas. S. Allan was called to the Chair, and J. P. Kost elected Secretary.

On motion, Jas. S. Allan was excused, and A. Lockwood called to the Chair, after which, Mr. Allan stated the object of the meeting, which was to enter into arrangements and consult as to the best policy to secure the western terminus of the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad at a point opposite the city of Bellevue.

The meeting was then ably addressed by Messrs. Allan, Strickland, Holloway, Beech, Gwyre, Lockwood, Town and others, after which, on motion of H. T. Clarke, amended by Strickland and Gwyre, a Railroad Committee of five was appointed by the Chair to solicit subscriptions, confer with Railroad Companies, call meetings, and attend to Railroad matters in general. The Chair then appointed Hon. Jas. S. Allan, on part of the Mission, J. J. Town, on part of the Old Town Company, and H. T. Clarke, Hon. C. T. Holloway and Wm. D. Rowles on part of the citizens.

On motion of H. T. Clarke, the meeting adjourned, sine die. A. LOCKWOOD, CHAIRMAN. J. P. KOST, Secretary.

In her life of George Washington, just published, Mrs. Kirkland gives us a little closer view of that stately lady, Mrs. Martha Washington, than other writers have done.

"If we were to give our private opinion," says Mrs. Kirkland, "we should say that Mrs. Martha Curtis Washington, with her large fortune, her strong domestic tastes and affections and dutiful common sense character, exercised her full share of influence over the Commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States of America. She had a very decided way of speaking, and as she never meddled in public affairs, we can easily imagine the General letting her have her own way in pretty much everything else.—A guest at Mount Vernon happened to sleep in a room adjoining that occupied by the President and his lady. Late in the evening, when people had retired to their various chambers, he heard the lady delivering a very animated lecture to her lord and master upon something which he had done, that she thought ought to be done differently. To all this he listened in the profoundest silence, and when she, too, was silent, he opened his lips and spoke, "now good sleep to my dear." This anecdote of the great man in his night-cap is quite characteristic of him, but it is equally so of most lords and masters, who, we imagine, all receive certain lectures as Mr. Caudle and Washington did, in profound silence. Experience, probably, teaches them that is the better way.

MARRIED.

On Thursday, the 12th inst., by the Rev. Wm. Hamilton, JOHN S. SANDERSON, of Lancaster Co., N. T., to Miss JOSEPHINE M. KORENER, of Bellevue.

May happiness be ever theirs, With no dark storms to cloud their morrow, And smiles instead of tears and sorrow.

However much Joux may have roved heretofore, it is fair to presume that he is at last cornered.

[Written for the Bellevue Gazette.]

Stander Not.

Oh! slander not your neighbors, Although they say and do Things that to you look very strange— No matter, let it go; 'Tis not for you to judge them, For God will judge us all. Let them live in peace and happiness, And do not cause their fall.

Oh! slander not the aged one, Fast journeying to the grave, To bring disgrace on his gray hairs, Better lend thine aid to save Him from the wily slanderer's tongue, And let him live in peace Until his work on earth is done, And life within him cease.

Oh! slander not that fair young girl, She has enough to bear, Without vile slander's with'ring curse To break her heart with care; Oh! raise the drooping spirits, Cheer up the orphan's heart, And do not probe afresh the wounds To cause another smart.

ADA.

Death of Marshal Radetzky. The oldest military chieftain of distinction in the world has just died in Italy. Count Joseph Radetzky, Commander of the Austrian Army in Italy, was born at Treboitz, in Bohemia, in 1766, and was thus over ninety years of age. His military life began in 1781, when he was appointed a cadet in a cavalry regiment, and he has taken part in every war in which Austria has been engaged, from that time to the present. He figured under the Archduke Charles in all his battles with Napoleon. His commission as Major General dates from the year 1801, fifty-six years ago. In 1809, after the battle of Erlangen, in which he distinguished himself, he was appointed field-marshal lieutenant and chief of a regiment of hussars. He has held successively the governorship of Ofen, of Olmutz, and of Lemberg, and in 1822 he was appointed commander general of the Lombardo-Venetian kingdom.

When the troubles of 1848 broke out in Europe, the scenes at Milan were particularly violent, and Radetzky obtained more notoriety than glory by his excessively severe measures in suppressing the republican movements. Although then over eighty years of age, he acted with the vigor and energy of youth. The campaign of 1848, against Charles Albert, was carried on with great skill, and finally the Austrians overcame the Sardinians at Olengo, on the 21 of March, 1849, and Radetzky had the satisfaction of announcing their retreat. Charles Albert then abdicated, and his successor, the present king, Victor-Emmanuel, was compelled to make terms dictated by the Marshal, and highly advantageous to Austria. Signs that campaign Radetzky has received honors and rewards without stint, from the Austrian monarch. He has, until within a year, been able to ride and engage in active pursuits. But lately he has been confined for this and seldom appeared abroad except in his carriage. During the recent visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph to his Italian dominions, he went out of his way to pay his respects to the old veteran who had done so much to sustain him. Radetzky was a rigid military disciplinarian and yielded a blind obedience to his sovereign. No one was less merciful than he, and with all his loyalty and his talent, he had but few of the virtues that can make his memory dear to freemen.

GERMANTOWN TELEGRAPH,

THE MODEL FAMILY AND AGRICULTURAL PAPER.

GERMANTOWN, PHILADELPHIA CO., PENN. PUBLISHED AT EVERY WEDNESDAY MORNING, BY PHILIP R. FREAS.

PRICE—TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM. We take this opportunity to announce to Farmers throughout the country, that it is the intention of the Editor and Proprietor of the "Germantown Telegraph," not only to continue as heretofore the Agricultural Department of his paper, but sedulously to add to its character and value by all the means at command. All necessary space shall be provided for a full record of Agricultural Details and a full development of every branch of the Farmer's Pursuit. He will in future, as he has always heretofore, aim to be practical, and to be of real and substantial advantage to husbandry. His course, also, will continue to be thoroughly independent, and wholly unbiassed by any other motives than those he conceives to be promotive of the true interest of Agriculture in its broadest meaning. Neither individuals, cliques, societies, or any other influence shall swerve him from the path of right and duty.

Farmers, throughout the country, who desire a Newspaper, issued weekly, and equal to any other family news and Library Journal published, which analyzes Agriculture, especially, will find the "Germantown Telegraph" to fulfill every condition, and to render it entirely unnecessary for them to subscribe for a periodical exclusively agricultural.

Practical Horticulture, Pomology and Gardening, generally, will meet with particular attention. A Literary and News Journal it shall not be surpassed by any in the country. Neatly printed on good paper, of the largest class, it shall continue to be one of the handsomest newspapers of the day.

Every Family, in town or country, whether they take other papers or not, will find the "Germantown Telegraph" to be worth, in liberal benefit, twice the amount of subscription. No subscription received without the cash. Price Two Dollars in advance. Subscriptions not paid within the year, $2.50. Mail subscribers will have the cash postage deducted when not exceeding 25 cts. per annum, provided the subscription be paid strictly in advance. Postage stamps to the amount will be returned as change with the receipt.

Any person sending five new subscribers at one time, with the cash, will be entitled to the paper for one year. Specimen numbers sent on request. CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, For 1857.

THE Cheapest Family Newspaper in the West! The Weekly Plain Dealer will commence its Sixteenth Volume on the 1st day of January, 1857. It will continue the same Independent, Fearless, Fighting Journal it has ever been, dealing plainly but kindly with all. It will battle for the Constitution and the Union, as "the world's best treasure and last hope." It will oppose Fusionism in every form, and battle Disunion in every disguise. Of its value as a Standard upon the watch-tower of Liberty, it is sufficient to say, that it has never yet been found napping at its post.

THE NEW VOLUME AND THE NEW YEAR! The New Volume will commence with a New Year, big with important events. A new leaf in the history of this Republic will be entered, upon the inauguration of a new President and Vice President. During the progress of the policy of the New Administration will be fully unraveled in regard to the following important and exciting National topics:—The Final Settlement of the Kansas Difficulty, on which the whole Slavery question in the Territories is pending—The Final Settlement of the Central American Question, as against the claims of England—Our Right to the West—The Admission of Oregon and Washington Territories—The Inaugural Message of James Buchanan—The Doings of the New Democratic Congress. These are some of the leading events which will distinguish the Incoming Administration, and most of them will transpire during the coming year.

NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE! Cleveland, from its central location, and from its great concentration of Rail Roads, Telegraphs, and water communication with the West, is admitted to be the Best News Point in the West. IF YOU WANT A GOOD PAPER, subscribe for "The Nation." THE most popular Weekly in America, which has immediately upon its issue, sprung into an immense circulation. The Farmers' and Planters' Corner Will contain Practical Suggestions and Agricultural Hints, contributed and culled from sources the most reliable, and containing information which will prove to them in the course of a single year, of almost incalculable benefit.

The other departments of our paper will receive the attention they respectively demand, each being especially and carefully prepared to meet the varied tastes of the several classes of its readers.
