

Election of Delegate.

It is impossible to arrive at any conclusion who is elected delegate to Congress. Sometimes it is claimed that Chapman is elected—and then again it is Ferguson.

Sarpy County Official.

We are indebted to the County Clerk, S. D. Bangs, Esq., for the following abstract, taken from the official returns made to him.

Table listing Sarpy County officials and their terms, including Fenner Ferguson, Bird B. Chapman, Benjamin P. Rankin, John M. Thayer, Samuel L. Campbell, A. F. Heath, William W. Wyman, Le Roy Tuttle, Aug. F. Harvey, John H. Kellum, T. E. Haycock, Charles Grant, James Chapin, James E. Flagg, James G. Chapman, Silas A. Strickland, Charles T. Holloway, Amos Gates, James Davidson, Alexander Davis, John B. Glover, Michael Jones, Stephen P. Wattle, William H. Cook, James L. Gow, William F. Wiley, Geo. P. Averill, John M. Enoch, Enoch McCarty, C. D. Keller, R. W. Bulkeley, Stephen D. Bangs, Edward Larue, Robert McCarty, Robert G. Jenkinson, Reuben Lorejoy, David McCoulogh, William Knight, Charles E. Smith, William W. Harvey, Charles E. Watson, John P. Kast, Andrew Sagendorf, Horace Rogers, Abner R. Blackburn, Moses S. Martin, William Harbin, George Coffman.

County Election.

Sarpy county has done nobly, aside from the large vote given for the people's candidate for delegate, Hon. Fenner Ferguson. She has elected the entire county ticket, nominated by the Squatters Convention at Saling's Grove—a ticket of which, she may well be proud.

Of the Representatives, Silas A. Strickland and C. T. Holloway, are well known throughout the whole territory, as leading spirits in the last legislature—their efficiency and merits are acknowledged on all sides, and need no further commendation from us.

Amos Gates, is an old and tried resident of this county—a man with a clear head—a sound mind and unflinching integrity. James Davidson, of Plattford, is a gentleman, of good sense, and possessed of that sound judgment and sterling worth which peculiarly fits him for a legislator.

William H. Cook, was re-elected Probate Judge. He is a young man of more than ordinary enterprise, and has resided among us from an early period—and by his public spirit and untiring energy, he has contributed in no small degree to build up the county, whose chief and first officer he is.

For County Commissioners no better selection could have been made. Robert McCarty came here long before the Indians had left the place. And preferring a settlement in the interior of the county to the river front, he has by his industry and public spirited policy, won the confidence and highest regard of his fellow citizens.

John M. Enoch, is re-elected Sheriff. John has "got the nerve"—is a man that is always right on the goose—never makes any mistakes—is a right royal good fellow, and makes a first class officer.

As to our Treasurer, Mr. Wiley; Register, C. D. Keller; County Clerk, S. D. Bangs; County Surveyor, W. W. Harvey; Superintendent of Common Schools, John P. Kast—they are all young men, but favorites with the dear people, and as their votes show, can never be beat for an office where there is a large field and a fair fight.

The Immortal Seven! We are pleased to announce to the public, that there are yet left in the city of Omaha, seven honest men—seven men who stood up before over a thousand of the opposition, and voting for the Hon. Fenner Ferguson, proclaimed to the squatters of the Territory, that they could divest themselves of all sectionalism, and cast their votes for an honest man—a man who is not covered all over with pledges.

The numerical figure 7, is connected with a great many incidents in the history of the world, both sacred and profane. For the benefit of the curious, we will mention a few of them:—

Seven days compose the number in each week. It is said that there are seven wonders of the world.

Greece in her palmy days boasted of seven wise men.

There are seven stars, which form a glorious constellation in the Heavens.

The city of Rome is built on seven hills.

Seven years was the time specified by the Pilgrim fathers when they landed at Plymouth, that their mutual association should exist.

In Revelations, St. John speaks of the seven churches of Asia—in his vision he saw seven golden candlesticks—seven angels, with seven vials, containing seven plagues—and the dragon which he saw had seven heads.

Pharaoh, in his dream, saw coming up out of the river seven fat kine and seven lean kine—and it was interpreted by Joseph, that there was to be seven years of plenty—and then was to follow seven years of famine.

Our Saviour talks of a day coming when seven women shall take hold of one man. He also tells of a woman who had seven husbands—all brothers.

And last, but not least by any means, is the immortal seven of Omaha. Honor to the glorious seven—the consciousness of having done right, when surrounded by corruption—where the very air was tainted by the stench which arises from that cess-pool of iniquity; will cheer them upon the weary journey of life, and in the hour of death, will not cause a single pang of remorse to rend their bosoms. Long may they wave!

Personal.

Hon. John Finney, who so ably and efficiently represented Sarpy county in the last Legislature, was not a candidate for re-election. He was frequently urged by his fellow citizens, to return this fall as the people's choice—and we believe he would have been the unanimous choice, had he consented to become a candidate.

Not Right.

During our political campaign which has just closed, a good deal of bickering and strife was exhibited among the residents of Sarpy county. This is all wrong. People who inhabit one county—one locality, ought to be united in order to give strength to any thing they undertake, or give weight to any measure which might be proposed for the public good.

The American Union.

The Baltimore Patriot, of Saturday evening contains a graphic account of the reception and entertainment of the guests from the Western cities, who arrived in Baltimore on Saturday morning last.

You have spoken, eloquently, sir, of rail-roads as bonds of union, and your observations were as just as they were eloquent. No man conversant with rail-roads can be a disunionist.

Horace Rogers and Abner R. Blackburn were elected Justices of the Peace. We can safely say, from them, even handed justice will be meted out to all—and we hope that they may be a terror to evil doers in our midst, whilst they hold office.

Wm. Harbin and George Coffman were elected constables for this precinct—they are both young men of the right stripe, and did efficient service at the polls on last Monday.

The post master at Independence, Mo., has received an official notice from the Postmaster General, that the contract for carrying the mails from thence to the Salt Lake has been set aside, and he is therefore ordered to withhold the mails until further orders.

hundred thousand men, and, as all Spaniards are soldiers this number could be readily increased to five hundred thousand. A large increase in her navy is to be gradually effected, so as to render her, at no distant day, a first rate marine power.

With the United States as an ally, Spain can restrain England. She already rejects the interference of that country and France in her Cuban affairs, and claims the right to be exempted from the operation of the Monroe doctrine, as well as the right to treat with the United States in regard to her island possessions in America.

Burning of the Montreal.

One little boy had left the "land of brown heath and shaggy wood," in company with his father, mother, three sisters and a brother, for to what appeared to them the land of hope and promise.

A most affecting scene took place on board the "Alliance," when an old Canadian, Robitaille, we think is the name, recovered the body of his lost son.

Four little children and a dog were found together on a part of the wreck just out of the water, all alive, by a party who went off from the shore in a boat.

A list of the parties taken charge of by the St. Andrew's Society of Montreal is given in the papers of that city. It is most painful reading. We find there the names of Colin Sinclair, 80 years old, and his wife, aged 60, who lost their only son; Mrs. Marnel, whose husband is in this country, who lost three daughters and one son; Mrs. McAlister, who lost her husband, a son and daughter, and saved three sons; four children under 20, who lost their mother and a young sister; Mrs. Bloomfield, who lost two children and saved two; Mrs. Christian, who lost her husband and four children, and saved one, the youngest; David Milen, who lost his wife and five children, and saved one; a young man who lost two sisters, and saved one sister; Mrs. Wylie, who lost her husband and three children; Mrs. Clarke, who lost her husband and four children, and saved a daughter; a young girl of 17, who lost her father; three young children under 8 who lost both parents a brother and sister; John McQuin, who lost his wife, three sons and three daughters, and saved one daughter; Peter McColl, a boy of seven years, who lost his father and mother, three sisters and a brother, and is all alone. He is mentioned in a paragraph above quoted.

The Warm Season Commenced—See to your Homes.

We think we might safely conclude that the warm season has at last commenced; and it behooves every one to look well to his premises, and see that no disease generating plague spot is suffered to remain in and about the dwelling.

—sleeping in rooms where the air has been poisoned with the breath of several persons during the evening—too much shade. On the last specification we wish to say a word farther. As agreeable as are shade trees, and undoubtedly beneficial also, there is a possibility of having too much of a good. Suppose you keep a plant in some of these deep shaded houses. It will perhaps find light enough to keep life in its branches, but take that plant into the full blaze of the sun, and it will find die in the very sunshine which is the life of a plant that has not been diseased by thick shade.

Use the good things of God then, (but then remember God never made a fruit cake, no sliced His cucumbers so thin you could not masticate them!) but use them properly. He has given us teeth with which to masticate—to render our food a pulpy mass, and not merely to bite it into "chunks;" before we throw it into the stomach—and if by reason of the former violation of Nature's Laws your teeth are gone, keep a hammer and an anvil by your side to aid you in the process, rather than throw half masticated food into your stomach to bring dyspepsia and a hundred other diseases.

There is much in this connection with regard to dress, also, which effects health, but to which we can only refer at this time. Think, watch and investigate these things.—Adrian Expositor.
