

Local & Miscellaneous.

GOSE EAST.—Our friend Henry T. Clarke, of the firm of Clarke & Brober, Forwarding and Commission Merchants, went down on the Progress, Tuesday morning last, on his way to the old home in Pennsylvania.

We are, indeed, having delightful weather. A more propitious autumn for the farmer could not be desired.

The brick building on Main Street, being erected by Wm. A. Gwyer, is progressing finely. Those are the kind of buildings we like to see erected.

Mr. J. F. Swain has our thanks for several excellent water-melons. They were uncommonly fine for this season of the year.

We are also indebted to William J. Carleton, for a fine water melon.

RIVER NEWS.—We have had two new boats in the up-river trade, since our last.

The FLORILLA landed at our levee, Oct. 9.

The PROGRESS came up Oct. 12, and touched at our levee.

Those weather philosophers, the wild geese, have commenced their fall migration towards the sunny south.

MISSOURI CROSSING AT BELLEVUE.—Having occasion to cross the "Big Muddy" last Thursday, with our old friend Thomas Cody, we took passage on board the C. H. Hardin, Capt. Coleman.

On our way back, we had the pleasure of stopping on board long enough, to dine with our friend Bennett, the Engineer; who by the way, as well as the Master, understands "his business aboard a steamboat."

Rather too late in the season, Mr. Bellevue Gazette, to get nibbles at such bait as your "OBITUARY" of "Mr. Cylinder E. Watch."

Thank you for your advice, Mr. Advertiser; but we are gratified to announce, that Mr. Watch was "not dead, but sleepeth," and on the third day there was a resurrection.

We have received from the Territorial Printer, R. W. Furnas, the Journals of the Council and House of Representatives of the last Legislature.

Will Mr. F. send us another copy of the Laws?

ACCIDENT.—The stage due here from Iowa city, the 6th inst., upset near Sears' Station, beyond Lewis, dislocating the shoulder of a gentleman from Tiffin, Ohio, and seriously bruising the heads of others; the former, however, came on to Lewis, and there remained for medical attendance.

We publish the following card from L. R. Tuttle, Cashier of the Western Exchange Bank:—

OMAHA, N. T., Oct. 5th 1857. The intelligence has probably reached you ere this, of the suspension of this Bank, which took place on the 21st ult, during my absence.

I shall resume my former position at the office, and with the determination and well directed energy which will not fail to secure success, hope to place the Western Exchange Bank on its former footing, and prove worthy of the confidence of the public.

L. R. TUTTLE, Cash'r.

Prospect of the Land Office Opening.
