

Have your orders for Groceries and Meat filled at :

The Royal

1028 P STREET
 'Phones: BELL 224
 AUTO 1224

Young & Young

Expert Repairers and Finishers
 Have your chairs recaned, your furniture upholstered, umbrellas mended. We call for your goods and guarantee all work.

329 So. 11th St., LINCOLN
 Bell Phone, L 1349.

Just Returned

From St. Louis World's Fair with a fine new line of new goods, Carpets, Rugs, Fancy Dishes, World's Fair Souvenirs and so on. Will be on sale all next week.

O'CONNOR
 233 North 10th St.

..COTTAGES..

I always have a number for sale on good terms, ranging in price from $750.00 to $1,500.00 and up

GEORGE W. HOLMES

129 So. 11th St. Phone 1896-367

One of the best stocks Xmas presents in the city

CALL IN AND EXAMINE BEFORE BUYING.
 Chas. W. Fleming, Jeweler
 1311 O Street.
 PHONE A1599 BELL. AUTO. 1291.

The care taken in the cultivation and the method of practical sterilization of the beans make it a pure, wholesome coffee for all the family. Put up in one pound air-tight tins only, 35 cents buys a pound can of full weight, rich aroma and delicate flavor. Ask your grocer for UBERO.

USE Ubero Coffee
 FOR SALE ONLY BY
 The Corner Grocery Co.
 Eleventh and G Street.

There is no match, clock or article of jewelry we cannot repair

Clocks called for and delivered
 C. A. TUCKER, Jeweler
 1123 O Street
 PHONES: Bell 534 Auto 1934

WHITE HOUSE
 Grocery and Market
 DEALERS IN
 Fancy Groceries, Fresh and Cured Meats
 1436 O STREET
 PHONES—Auto 1436, Bell 262.
 Orders Promptly Attended to by Phone.

YOUR CHRISTMAS PHOTOS
 Go To Loyden

We Do Not Patronize

The following named business firms are unfriendly to organized labor and have been placed upon the "unfair list." Watch the list carefully from week to week, as important changes may occur:

Union workmen and working-women and sympathizers with labor have refused to purchase articles produced by the following firms—Labor papers please note changes from month to month and copy:
FOOD AND KINDRED PRODUCTS.
 Bread.—National Biscuit Company, Chicago, Ill.
 Cigars.—O. Upman of New York city; Krebs, Werthelm & Schiffer of New York city; The Henry George and Tom Moore.
 Flour.—Washburn, Crosby, Milling Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; Kelley Milling Co., Kansas City, Mo.
 Pipes.—Wm. Demuth & Co., New York.
 Tobacco.—American and Continental CLOTHING.

Buttons.—Davenport Pearl Button company, Davenport, Ia.; Kremetz & Co., Newark, N. J.
 Clothing.—N. Snellenberg & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.; Clothiers' Exchange, Rochester, N. Y.; Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia Pa.; Blauner Bros., New York.
 Corsets.—Chicago Corset company.
 Hats.—J. B. Stetson company, Philadelphia, Pa.; E. M. Knox company, Brooklyn, N. Y.
 Shirts and Collars.—United Shirt and Collar company, Troy, N. Y.; Van Zandt, Jacobs & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Cluett, Peabody & Co., Troy, N. Y.; James R. Kaiser, New York city.
 Shoes.—Wellman, Osborne & Co., Lynn, Mass.; Thomas, Taylor & Son, Hudson, Mass.; Hamey Bros., Lynn, Mass.
 Suspenders.—Russell Mfg. Co., Middletown, Conn.
 Textile.—Merrimac Mfg. Co. (printed goods), Lowell, Mass.
 Underwear.—Oneita Knitting Mills, Utica, N. Y.
 Woolens.—Hartford Carpet Co., Thompsonville, Conn.; J. Cairns & Son, Jacksonville, Ill.

PRINTING AND PUBLICATIONS.
 Bookbinders.—Geo. M. Hill Co., Chicago, Ill.
 Newspapers.—Philadelphia Democrat, Philadelphia, Pa.; Hudson, Kimberly & Co., printers of Kansas City, Mo.; W. B. Conkey Co., publishers, Hammond, Ind.; Gazette, Terra Haute, Ind.; Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

MACHINERY AND BUILDING.
 General Hardware.—Landers, Fry & Clark, Acton company, New Britain, Conn.; Davis Sewing Machine company, Dayton, Ohio; Computing Scale company, Dayton, Ohio; Iver Johnson Arms company, Fitchburg, Mass.; Kelsey Furnace company, Syracuse, N. Y.; Brown & Sharpe Tool company, Providence, R. I.; John Russell Cutlery company, Turner's Falls, Mass.; Atlas Tack company, Fairhaven, Mass.; Hohmann & Maurer Manufacturing company, Rochester, N. Y.; Henry Disston & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

Iron and Steel.—Illinois Iron and Bolt company of Carpentersville, Ill.; Carborundum company, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; David Maydole Hammer Co., Norwich, N. Y.; Slinger Sewing Machine Co., Elizabeth, N. J.
 Stoves.—Germer Stove company, Erie, Pa.; "Radiant Home" Stove, Ranges and Hot Air Blast, Erie, Pa. pany, Sag Harbor.

MISCELLANEOUS.
 Advertising Novelties.—Novelty Advertising company, Coshocton, Ohio
 Telegraphy.—Western Union Telegraph company.

WOOD AND FURNITURE.
 Bags.—Gulf Bag company, New Orleans, La., branch Bemis Bros., St. Louis, Mo.

Brooms and Dusters.—The Lee Broom and Duster company of Davenport, Ia.; M. Goeller's Sons, Circleville, Ohio.
 China.—Wick China company, Kittanning, Pa.
 Furniture.—American Billiard Table company, Cincinnati, Ohio; Blumly Chair company, Marietta, Ga.; O. Wisner Piano company, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Krell Piano company, Cincinnati, Ohio; N. Drucker & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, trunks; St. Johns Table company, St. Johns, Mich.
 Leather.—Kullman, Salz & Co., Benicia, Cal.; A. B. Patrick & Co., San Francisco, Cal.; Columbus Buggy and Harness company, Columbus, O.
 Rubber.—Kokomo Rubber company, Kokomo, Ind.; B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, Akron, Ohio; Diamond Rubber company, Akron, Ohio.

Pens.—L. E. Waterman & Co., New York city.
 Paper Boxes.—E. N. Rowell & Co., Batavia, N. Y.
 Paper.—Remington-Martin Paper Co., Norfolk, N. Y.
 Typewriters.—Underwood Typewriter company, Hartford, Conn.
 Watches.—Keystone Watch Case company of Philadelphia, Pa.; Crescent Courvoisier Wilcox company; Jos. Fahy, Brooklyn Watch Case company, D. M. Parry, Indianapolis, Ind.

Old Gentleman—"Tell me, my friend, why you are so ugly to passengers." Brutal Conductor—"So they'll hate th' street car company wot employs me. See?"
 "N-o, not exactly."
 "Why, when they hate the company, they'll just laugh to themselves when they see cheatin' th' company by not ringin' up fares. See?"

Twenty years after a girl would't marry a man he feels like apologizing to his grandmother about it.

If everybody came early to avoid the rush they wouldn't be any better off.

What is regarded an affair of the heart is often merely the result of a torpid liver.

ALLEGED DYNAMITER UNDER ARREST; BELIEVED TO BE WHOLESALE MURDERER

DIAGRAM SHOWING CONSTRUCTION OF INFERNAL MACHINE SENT TO THE UMBRIA PIER.

DIAGRAM OF A CLOCKWORK MECHANISM.

GESSLER ROSSEAU

Gessler Rosseau, the self-confessed dynamiter arrested in Philadelphia with an infernal machine in his possession, has been positively identified as the "G. Rosseau" who on May 9, 1903, sent an infernal machine to the Cunard line pier in New York for shipment on the Umbria.

He is believed to be a dangerous fanatic, and the New York police are taking steps to have him brought back and placed on trial for the Cunard affair.

An interesting feature of the case is that there are grounds for believing that Rosseau was concerned in the loss of the White Star liner Naronic, which sailed from Liverpool a dozen years ago and was never heard of again. Several hundred men and women were lost with the steamer, and her disappearance has always been shrouded in mystery.

In the house at 287 Washington boulevard, New York, where Rosseau made the machine sent to the Umbria, was found a part of a note written in French on a scrap of newspaper, which read:

"The destruction of the Naronic was complete. Mr. Lebrun, who at this moment has left for Chicago—"

The police will pursue the suggestion contained in this note to the limit. They will endeavor to ascertain the whereabouts of Rosseau at the time the Naronic was lost, and they will compare his handwriting with the handwriting in the note. He will be called on to tell who "Mr. Lebrun" is and to explain the meaning of the note.

There is also a theory that Rosseau is the man who attempted to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great in Washington a few days ago.

The machine found in Rosseau's telescope bag by the Philadelphia police is similar in detail to that sent to the Umbria. Inside the bag was a box, which fitted snugly in the case, and was neatly made. The works, which were those taken from a clock, were simple. The box was about eight inches deep and 12 by 18 inches long.

The works occupied one side, while a dry-cell battery was on the other, with two wires coupled to it. A dial bore mechanism by which the explosion could be timed. When the hour for ignition was reached a little steel arm was automatically moved, and, connecting with another, formed a circuit. On one of the wires was attached a fulminating cap ready to be applied to a dynamite cartridge.

The box was not loaded, but it was ready for business. There was a small box for caps in the valise and a copy of a Washington newspaper.

What Rosseau proposed to do with the machine has not yet been made apparent, except that he told the Philadelphia police his mission was to rid the seas of English ships, and that there was a powerful Irish organization at his back.

whereabouts of Rosseau at the time the Naronic was lost, and they will compare his handwriting with the handwriting in the note. He will be called on to tell who "Mr. Lebrun" is and to explain the meaning of the note.

There is also a theory that Rosseau is the man who attempted to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great in Washington a few days ago.

The machine found in Rosseau's telescope bag by the Philadelphia police is similar in detail to that sent to the Umbria. Inside the bag was a box, which fitted snugly in the case, and was neatly made. The works, which were those taken from a clock, were simple. The box was about eight inches deep and 12 by 18 inches long.

The works occupied one side, while a dry-cell battery was on the other, with two wires coupled to it. A dial bore mechanism by which the explosion could be timed. When the hour for ignition was reached a little steel arm was automatically moved, and, connecting with another, formed a circuit. On one of the wires was attached a fulminating cap ready to be applied to a dynamite cartridge.

The box was not loaded, but it was ready for business. There was a small box for caps in the valise and a copy of a Washington newspaper.

What Rosseau proposed to do with the machine has not yet been made apparent, except that he told the Philadelphia police his mission was to rid the seas of English ships, and that there was a powerful Irish organization at his back.

Very Few Countries Can Produce Such Honesty as This
 Denis Mulvihill, mayor of Bridgeport, Conn., who was raised from the position of a stoker in a sewing machine factory, which he had held for thirty-three years, to be chief executive of a city of 82,000 inhabitants, has prepared a bill to be presented to the Connecticut legislature, which will cut down his salary by one-third. He now receives $3,000 a year. In explaining himself, Mr. Mulvihill says:

"I am not worth that much money. I have been thinking it over and have decided the pay is too great. This job of conducting the city government is easy. No man is worth $3,000 as mayor of Bridgeport."

Mayor Mulvihill, whose slogan when he was first elected a little over three years ago was "rugged honesty," served for over a quarter of a century as stoker at $14 a week.

Tells Her Troubles to King Oscar
 King Oscar H. of Sweden is to be appealed to to assist Igna Hanson to clear herself of the charges of perjury brought against her as a result of a suit she instigated for $50,000 damages against the Chicago City railway company.

A Portion of the Indians Fed
 The committee in charge of the distribution of relief supplies to the starving Indians on the Campo reservation near San Diego, Calif., has concluded its work. When the Indians had been relieved on the five reservations to which the public's attention had been called the committee had on hand supplies which were not needed there. These have now been distributed among the Conejos and El Capitanes.

Another Road for Oklahoma
 A charter was granted to the Kansas Oklahoma and Poteau Railway company, capital ten million dollars, to build a line from Guthrie to Wagoner, and Porteau, Indian Territory. The incorporators are Oklahoma and Indian Territory men.

Bliggins and his wife must get on very happily," said the gossip. "She says she never scolds him."
 "That doesn't indicate happiness," answered Miss Cayenne. "It is sad. It shows that she considers him beyond hope."

Whistler's Wit
 In Whistler's student days he was on one occasion dining with a group of friends in a Paris restaurant. The attention of the young men was presently directed toward an English family near them, of whom the father was endeavoring in execrable French to plan a dinner. Leaning forward, Whistler, in his most charming manner, inquired if he could be of aid. The stranger drew himself up with a manner of offense and haughtily replied, "I assure you, sir, I can give my order without assistance."
 "Can you, indeed?" quoth Whistler, airily. "I fancied the contrary just now, when I heard you desire the waiter to bring you a pair of stairs."
 —Lippincott's Magazine.

No Job for Him.
 An Ohio man wrote to Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee claiming to have done great work for Roosevelt in the campaign, and asking for a job. He said he would like to be "chief tinspinner" of the treasury department. Mr. Dover wrote in reply: "I regret to inform you that there is no such position as chief tinspinner of the treasury department, although I think there might very well be. Unfortunately, however, while you have coined a word I can not coin the job."

End of a Famous Boom Town.
 The postoffice at Le Beau, in Walworth county, has been removed by the newly appointed postmaster from the town site to his farm, a half mile distant. This marks the final downfall of a town which at one time hoped to become a metropolis. In the early 80s Le Beau was the county seat of Walworth county, and a rival of Aberdeen.

The enterprising residents of the town believed that in time it would become the capital of South Dakota when the territory should be admitted. Then it lost the county seat, the railroads failed to arrive, the territory was divided into two states, and it was at one edge instead of the center of the commonwealth, and finally the end came in the removal of the postoffice to a farmhouse.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Bagpipers English Society Fud.
 Society people in London are taking to that terrible "musical" instrument, the highland bagpipe. It is even whispered that there is a fair royal piper, and that the daughters of Scottish nobles are rapidly becoming proficient in the art of skirling the pipes in the hapless experience of many visitors to the north. One alarmed writer, in noting the new fad, says that the pipes are trying enough when manipulated by experts, but that life will not be worth living should amateurs take to trying it.

Kitcheener's Military Record.
 General Lord Kitcheener of Khar-toum, commander in chief of India, has just entered upon his thirty-fifth year of army service, he having joined the royal engineers as a lieutenant on Jan. 4, 1871. He remained exactly twelve years a lieutenant, being promoted to a captain Jan. 4, 1883. From that point his promotion was somewhat rapid, he passing through the ranks of major and lieutenant colonel in little more than five years, his colonelcy being dated April, 1888. He became major general in 1896, lieutenant general in December, 1899, and general in June, 1902. Lord Kitcheener is now in his fifty-fifth year.

To Secure Brains of Eminent Men.
 An attempt is being made to form a society which shall have for its object the education of the public to a realization of the advantages to science attending the study of the brains of illustrious personages. A committee, consisting of Dr. Alexander Hrdlicka, Dr. E. A. Spitzka and Prof. B. G. Wilder, has been appointed for the purpose of preparing a general form of brain request, which will hold in law and not be rendered null by any action that may be taken by relatives of the person making the bequest.

Prices Right Clothes Right Treatment Right All Right

We don't want to carry over any of our winter stock. We'd rather sacrifice in prices, so we've hammered them down to the bottom prices.

Men's suits and overcoats, from $7.50 to $10, worth from $12 to $18.00.

Boys' suits and overcoats, from $4.00 to $7.00, worth from $6.00 to $12.00.

Winter underwear at half price. Best values for the money in the city.

Men's caps 25c to 50c, worth from 50c to $1.25.

Coys' caps, good ones at 10c and up to 35c, worth three times the money.

Mitts and gloves from 10c to 75c, worth twice the money.

We try to win your trade by deserving it.

Lincoln Clothing Co.

HANG UP HIS PICTURE

Very Few Countries Can Produce Such Honesty as This

Denis Mulvihill, mayor of Bridgeport, Conn., who was raised from the position of a stoker in a sewing machine factory, which he had held for thirty-three years, to be chief executive of a city of 82,000 inhabitants, has prepared a bill to be presented to the Connecticut legislature, which will cut down his salary by one-third. He now receives $3,000 a year. In explaining himself, Mr. Mulvihill says:

"I am not worth that much money. I have been thinking it over and have decided the pay is too great. This job of conducting the city government is easy. No man is worth $3,000 as mayor of Bridgeport."

Mayor Mulvihill, whose slogan when he was first elected a little over three years ago was "rugged honesty," served for over a quarter of a century as stoker at $14 a week.

Tells Her Troubles to King Oscar
 King Oscar H. of Sweden is to be appealed to to assist Igna Hanson to clear herself of the charges of perjury brought against her as a result of a suit she instigated for $50,000 damages against the Chicago City railway company.

A Portion of the Indians Fed
 The committee in charge of the distribution of relief supplies to the starving Indians on the Campo reservation near San Diego, Calif., has concluded its work. When the Indians had been relieved on the five reservations to which the public's attention had been called the committee had on hand supplies which were not needed there. These have now been distributed among the Conejos and El Capitanes.

Another Road for Oklahoma
 A charter was granted to the Kansas Oklahoma and Poteau Railway company, capital ten million dollars, to build a line from Guthrie to Wagoner, and Porteau, Indian Territory. The incorporators are Oklahoma and Indian Territory men.

Bliggins and his wife must get on very happily," said the gossip. "She says she never scolds him."
 "That doesn't indicate happiness," answered Miss Cayenne. "It is sad. It shows that she considers him beyond hope."

Whistler's Wit
 In Whistler's student days he was on one occasion dining with a group of friends in a Paris restaurant. The attention of the young men was presently directed toward an English family near them, of whom the father was endeavoring in execrable French to plan a dinner. Leaning forward, Whistler, in his most charming manner, inquired if he could be of aid. The stranger drew himself up with a manner of offense and haughtily replied, "I assure you, sir, I can give my order without assistance."
 "Can you, indeed?" quoth Whistler, airily. "I fancied the contrary just now, when I heard you desire the waiter to bring you a pair of stairs."
 —Lippincott's Magazine.

No Job for Him.
 An Ohio man wrote to Elmer Dover, secretary of the Republican national committee claiming to have done great work for Roosevelt in the campaign, and asking for a job. He said he would like to be "chief tinspinner" of the treasury department. Mr. Dover wrote in reply: "I regret to inform you that there is no such position as chief tinspinner of the treasury department, although I think there might very well be. Unfortunately, however, while you have coined a word I can not coin the job."

End of a Famous Boom Town.
 The postoffice at Le Beau, in Walworth county, has been removed by the newly appointed postmaster from the town site to his farm, a half mile distant. This marks the final downfall of a town which at one time hoped to become a metropolis. In the early 80s Le Beau was the county seat of Walworth county, and a rival of Aberdeen.

The enterprising residents of the town believed that in time it would become the capital of South Dakota when the territory should be admitted. Then it lost the county seat, the railroads failed to arrive, the territory was divided into two states, and it was at one edge instead of the center of the commonwealth, and finally the end came in the removal of the postoffice to a farmhouse.—St. Paul Dispatch.

Kitcheener's Military Record.
 General Lord Kitcheener of Khar-toum, commander in chief of India, has just entered upon his thirty-fifth year of army service, he having joined the royal engineers as a lieutenant on Jan. 4, 1871. He remained exactly twelve years a lieutenant, being promoted to a captain Jan. 4, 1883. From that point his promotion was somewhat rapid, he passing through the ranks of major and lieutenant colonel in little more than five years, his colonelcy being dated April, 1888. He became major general in 1896, lieutenant general in December, 1899, and general in June, 1902. Lord Kitcheener is now in his fifty-fifth year.

To Secure Brains of Eminent Men.
 An attempt is being made to form a society which shall have for its object the education of the public to a realization of the advantages to science attending the study of the brains of illustrious personages. A committee, consisting of Dr. Alexander Hrdlicka, Dr. E. A. Spitzka and Prof. B. G. Wilder, has been appointed for the purpose of preparing a general form of brain request, which will hold in law and not be rendered null by any action that may be taken by relatives of the person making the bequest.