LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, MAY 26, 1905

NO. 7

The Whole Truth About Chicago

During the past month The Wageworker has been cited to the Chicago situation by a hundred or more men who are inclined to be opposed to labor unions. The average professional man or clerk knows little or nothing about unionism, and their first expression is usually something like this:

"Of course I believe in unions, but I don't believe in the sort of thing that has been carried on in Chicago. That is what injures labor unions."

The trouble with such men is that they secure all their information from the daily newspapers, and the daily newspapers are controlled by interests opposed to the unions and hand-in-glove with the union busters. The chief interests behind the "Employers' Teaming association"—which association is frankly engaged in importing strike breakers and trying to break up the unions—is made up of business men who are the heaviest advertisers in Chicago. Their advertising patronage runs into the millions every year, and it is quite natural that the Chicago newspapers, which are purely business propositions, should snuggle up to the men whose patronage amounts to so much.

As a result of this condition of affairs the Chicago daily papers have been full to overflowing of the most lurid strike "news." Charges of murders, arson, riot and assault have been scattered broadcast, and an outsider unfamiliar with Chicago newspaperdom would be led to think that Chicago was one vast battlefield swimming in human gore.

Now what are the real facts?

The Record-Herald is a good enough average. It is not avowedly anti-union like the Chronicle, nor avowedly anti-Parry like the American. It has been lurid enough in its handling of the strike news, however, so it will be taken as an average.

On May 17 the Record-Herald printed in big black letters a summary of "Deaths Charged to Teamsters' Strike to Date." The Record-Herald so framed this summary as to make it appear that each of these deaths was due to the strike and chargeable to the Teamsters' Union. Here are some real facts about those deaths:

Richard Cummings, a police sergeant. Killed. Was run over by an omnibus.

George R. Pierce, a striker. Killed. Shot by a deputy sheriff appointed on recommendations of the "employers' association." Pierce called the deputy a "scab," and for this was shot.

Peter Klasek, a small merchant. Died in hospital. Charged that he was assaulted by strikers, but absolutely no proof offered.

Charles Beard, killed by falling brick. Brick fell from top of new building and struck Beard, who was one of many pedestrians passing along a business street. Absolutely no foundation for believing that it was other than an accident.

Albert Enders. Killed. Shot by an imported strike breaker. Harry Grady. Shot in his own back yard. No one knows by whom, or why he was killed. Nothing to connect his murder with the strike.

James Jennings, an imported strike breaker. Killed by fellow strike breakers in a drunken row at the headquarters provided for them by the union busters.

Enoch Carlson, aged 9 years. Killed. Shot by an imported strike breaker. The boy was playing with some other boys, some of whom shouted "scab" as the imported strike breaker was driving by. The strike breaker drew his revolver and shot into the crowd of boys, killing young Carlson.

Not one of these deaths resulted from what the Chicago papers call "mob rule." One was a run-over accident; one is connected with strike violence very remotely if even at all; one resulted from a quarrel among employes of the employers' union; three were homicides committed by agents of the employers' union under circumstances which leave their justification at least open to serious question; and only two of the eight are chargeable, even prima facie, to a murderous act by strikers or strike sympathizers.

Does anybody believe that the Record-Herald, or any other Chicago daily paper, would have failed to make a graver showing against the strikers had it been possible to do so?

Here is another important fact to consider:

Mayor Dunne appointed an investigating committee. This committee had no power to compel the attendance of witnesses. The Chicago daily papers declared that the Chicago Federation of Labor and the attorneys representing it and other unions involved in the controversy "refused to offer any testimony." This is a half-truth which is far worse than a whole lie.

The Chicago Federation of Labor expressed a willingness to submit testimony, providing the sessions of the committee were thrown open to the public. This the employers' association refused to consent to, demanding that the investigation be a secret one.

Louis F. Post, editor of the Chicago Public, and one of the fairest and most conservative publicists in America, declares there is a well founded suspicion that "the Chicago strike was instigated and has been kept alive with a deliberate purpose to provoke wholesale breaches of the peace and necessitate military interference."

No one is so idiotic as to claim that union men would instigate a strike and provoke breaches of the peace for the purpose of securing military interference.

Here is another significant fact:

On May 15 Alderman Dever offered a resolution in the city council declaring in substance that "it is due to the public and to the city that both parties to the controversy should submit the questions at issue between them to some impartial tribunal."

Every alderman who opposed his resolution was opposed to the municipal ownership program which resulted in the election of Mayor Dunne. The chief interests opposed to the Teamsters' union in particular, and all labor unions in general, are opposed to municipal ownership for selfish reasons, and there is ample grounds for suspicion that this strike was deliberately forced by these selfish interests for the purpose of discrediting Mayor Dunne's administration.

Why did the employers association insist upon a secret hearing before the mayors committee? Why did the councilmanic agents of the employers' association oppose arbitration?

Let an unprejudiced public study the facts connected with this Chicago situation. Organized labor is perfectly willing to be judged by the real facts.

The Wageworker has carefully and thoroughly investigated the Chicago strike. It charges that the employers' association, whose chief aim and end is to destroy labor unions, deliberately precipitated the strike, has kept it alive and promoted whatever of rioting and incendiarism has resulted, and all for the purpose of securing military aid in the work of breaking down the unions. The employers' association deliberately imported negro strike breakers for the purpose of inflaming the passions of the strikers to the rioting point, aiming in this wise to secure military aid in the work of destroying unionism. From first to last the whole thing has been a scheme to break the unions by fair means or foul—generally foul—and in their scheming the employers' association has had the earnest, though selfish, support of the Chicago daily papers with the exception of the American and Inter-Ocean, the latter showing signs of being friendly to unionism, and the former being avowedly a friend of the wage earners.

Let an unprejudiced public investigate. The unions of the country have nothing to conceal.

WILL SULLIVAN

One year ago Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209, assisted by Capital Auxiliary No. 11, inaugurated the custom of devoting one day to the memory of the departed comrades who fought in the Grand Army of Peace. The memorial services this year will be held on Sunday, May 28, the morning service being held at the First Congregational church, Rev. J. E. Tuttle, pastor.

Members of the Typographical Union and of Capital Auxiliary are requested to meet at the Lindell hotel corner at 10 o'clock sharp, members of the union wearing their badges. At 10:15 sharp, the two organizations will move in a body, to the First Congregational church, corner of Thirteenth and L streets. Rev. Mr. Tuttle will preach a special sermon and special music will be provided.

Every member of Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209, and of Capital Auxiliary No. 11 is urgently requested to attend these services, and to meet promptly at the time given. There will be no delays, the church services being run on a regular schedule.

At 2:30 in the afternoon the two organizations will meet at Carpenters' hall, Eleventh street between O and N streets, and at 2:45 will take special cars to Wyuka cemetery, where services will be held at the Typographical Union's burial lot.

The complete program of the day's services follows:

Lincoln Typographical Union No. 209.

Decoration of Graves.....Capital Auxiliary No. 11
"Taps".....Miss Walters
Members of Union and Auxiliary are requested to bring as many flowers as possible to Carpenters' hall in the afternoon.

Once more, every printer and every member of the Auxiliary, is urged to attend both the morning and afternoon services. Let us be loyal enough to our dead comrades to devote a few hours one day in the year to honoring their memory. Note carefully the time set for these services and be there at the hours indicated.

MEMORIAL DAY

Sleep, Soldier, sleep! O'er the grave in the jungle
Love stands on guard through the lone hours of night;
Honor stands guard through the heat of the noonday—
You who have died for your God and the right,
Millions will kneel in deep prayer for the hero
Giving his life for humanity's sake.

Sleep, Soldier, sleep! O'er thy grave in the jungle
Love stands on guard through the lone hours of night;
Honor stands guard through the heat of the noonday—
You who have died for your God and the right,
Millions will kneel in deep prayer for the hero
Giving his life for humanity's sake.
